The Mournful Trip Home

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is dead.

Struck down by an assassin's bullet at a moment of victory, Kennedy died at 1:44 a.m. PDT in Good Samaritan Hospital.

The senator will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, probably beside his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy who also died at the hands of an assassin four and a half years ago.

At Kennedy's bedside when death came were his wife, Ethel, mother of their 10 children who is expecting an 11th late this year, and Jacqueline Kennedy, widow of the late President.

The tousle-haired senator, 42, was the third of four brothers of the ill-starred family to die a violent death. Only the youngest, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, is left to carry the political banner of the Kennedy clan.

The senator died a little more than 25 hours after he was shot down in the kitchen corridor of a hotel where he had jubilantly proclaimed victory in Tuesday's California primary election. The win in the nation's biggest presidential preference vote was the zenith of Kennedy's march toward the White House.

Kennedy was the same age as his brother was when he campaigned successfully for the presidency eight years ago, and he was a member of the Cabinet when John F. Kennedy was slain in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963.

Proclaiming this "a time of tragedy and loss," President Johnson declared Sunday a national day of mourning for the slain senator. He ordered a presidential jet to carry the body from Los Angeles to New York City.

Kennedy's widow, Ethel, faced the tragedy with the same stoic courage that bore Jacqueline Kennedy through the cruel days following the assassination of the President in 1963.

Three of the senator's eldest children were flown to Kennedy's bedside in a presidential jet from their Virginia home. They arrived at the hospital about two hours before their father's death in the fifth floor intensive care unit.

Pierre Salinger, who had served as press aide to the late President Kennedy and was active in the senator's campaign, announced the funeral plans at the hospital. He said some plans still were being formulated but added, "I suspect the senator will be buried in the plot" of his brother.

Kennedy's body will be taken to St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City Friday to lie in state for two hours—from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m.—the following morning. Shortly after noon Saturday, the body will be placed aboard a train for burial in Arlington Cemetery outside the nation's capital.

Grim-faced and red-eyed from lack of sleep, Salinger said among friends accompanying the body and family on the presidential jet flight to New York City would be Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., widow of the assassinated civil rights leader.

Kennedy suffered irreparable brain damage from a .22-caliber bullet that lodged in his midbrain. The bullet coursed upward from the side of his head near his ear.

A second shot struck him in the shoulder and within seconds he lapsed into unconsciousness on the concrete floor in the hotel kitchen. His suspected assassin was subdued quickly by Kennedy aides but not before five other persons were wounded, one seriously.

He was swarthy Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian refugee who was held under tight security guard in Los Angeles County Jail five miles from the hospital where Kennedy died. It was not disclosed whether Sirhan was informed immediately of the senator's death.

Bulletin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police said today they had issued an all-points bulletin for a woman 23 to 27 years old, in connection with the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The bulletin said the woman was wearing a white dress adorned with black polka dots.

The police bulletin said the woman was seen with accused assassin Sirhan Bishara Sirhan before the Kennedy shooting early Wednesday.

It did not identify the woman by name.

A team of six neuro-surgeons picked all but a tiny fragment of the bullet from Kennedy's brain in a four-hour operation. But, the senator's condition changed little through the day and night until he finally succumbed.

Kennedy's son, Joseph, 16, was at his bedside with his mother and aunt.

Joseph, named for Kennedy's father and the senator's eldest brother who was killed in a plane crash in Europe during World War II, informed the two other children, Kathleen, 17, and Robert Jr., 13, who were elsewhere in the hospital.

Also at the bedside was Kennedy's brother, Edward; his sisters, Mrs. Stephen Smith and Patricia Lawford, and his brother-in-law and campaign manager, Stephen Smith, and Msgr. William McCormack of St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

Notebook Offers a Clue to Motive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — His name is Sirhan Bishara Sirhan.

Police say he is a cool, close-mouthed Jordanian who fired a bullet from close range into the brain of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says Sirhan apparently wrote in a 9-by-12 inch notebook about "the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

Many — neighbors, former employers and the authorities — say he hates Jews.

He hurt his head in a fall last year, says his mother.

"All I know is he is a nice kid," says one of his four brothers.

A district attorney's investigator revealed today he was told Sirhan had been jailed by Pasadena police last December. But investigator Milt Smith declined to say on what charge Sirhan was arrested.

The record says Sirhan is 24 years old, 5-feet-5, weighs about 120 pounds, has a swarthy complexion and wiry hair. He has been an exercise boy at a race track, wanted to be a jockey and worked in a health food store.

He was under maximum security guard in a hospital ward at the Los Angeles County Central jail, charged with six counts of assault with intent to commit murder.

He is to appear at 8:30 a.m. Monday for a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Joan Klein.

Sirhan's index finger was broken and his left ankle sprained in a tussle that ended in his capture, seconds after Kennedy was shot early Wednesday.

Sirhan has talked to police, but not about Kennedy or the shooting. Officers said he was advised of his rights, but didn't want an attorney. He refused to give officers his name.

"It's nice to remain incommunicado," Inspector Pete Hagen quoted him as saying.

He "may have been inflamed" by Kennedy's call for U.S. jets for Israel during a televised campaign debate Saturday night, said a New York committee on American-Arab relations.

"He was violently pro-Jordan and anti-Israel," said John Shear, who worked with Sirhan at Hollywood Park race track. "When there was trouble between Jordan and Israel, he would become inflamed."

With permission from Sirhan's family, police recovered two notebooks from his room. They contain 18 to 20 pages of handwriting. Some in Arabic, most in English.

In a notation entered either May 17 or 18, the mayor said, Sirhan apparently wrote "a direct reference to the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

Kennedy was shot when June 5 was only a few minutes old. It was the first anniversary of the beginning of the six-day Arab-Israel war.

"My son — it can't be. No. Oh, no," cried Mary Sirhan, when she learned her boy was arrested. Mrs. Sirhan is a housekeeper at a Presbyterian nursery school in Pasadena.

"Ever since he had a fall about a year ago, he hasn't been the same. I can't talk to him."

Mrs. Sirhan said her son fell from a horse and "hurt his head here." She pointed to her right temple.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was born March 19, 1944 in Jordan, territory seized by Israel during the lightning war last June.

As a child, Sirhan saw an Israeli soldier cut off the breast of an Arab woman with a bayonet.

The Sirhans came to the United States in 1957.

By LYNN MULVANEY

As black drapes were hung in the windows of the Kingston Kennedy headquarters on Broadway this morning, so too, a black pall hung over the once bright, bustling campaign base as Hannah Bonilla, Betty Eichler and Lillian Cross went about their tearful task.

The three women also draped a picture of the assassinated Robert F. Kennedy, a picture that held promise such a short time ago.

'Too Horrible'

For them, for all the other eager and dedicated volunteers —Jean Ball, Kathleen Murphy, Cyrilla Fitzgerald, Barbara Ahearn, Terri Fisher, who manned the headquarters each day since its razzle-dazzle opening three weeks ago—today's events were "too horrible" to talk about. "What can you say?"

The men — James McCardle, Ulster coordinator for Kennedy; Donald Mac Isaac, personal friend of the late presidential aspirant and John Bonilla, Democratic chairman of Woodstock, took RFK's loss as a personal one.

Both Mac Isaac and Bonilla said they would attend the funeral in New York and thought if possible a contingent of Ulster Kennedy supporters would also try to attend "if they could get in."

Bonilla said his sense of shock at Kennedy's personal loss is surpassed only by the sense of the direction that our country has taken toward violence being the solution to our problems. It is an indication that our country and society must change direction."

McCardle, who only this week was making arrangements for Kennedy's arrival in Kingston next Tuesday, said:

"My heart goes out to the family of Senator Kennedy and I hope and pray that they will find it in their hearts to forgive this shame which we all must bear.

"One wonders how much can be taken from one family before they stop giving.

"Senator Kennedy represented, to so many of us, a new light, a new commitment and a new hope for tomorrow. He was a man who had a tremendous feeling for his fellow man and was dedicated to making this a peaceful world where one would truly love his neighbor.

"His commitment to the youth of this nation was total and will go unmatched in history. He recognized the state of void that these youth experience today and truly tried to fill that void. I suggest that we all re-examine our commitments.

"In the final analysis, it is my opinion that we have suffered the loss not of a politician or Senator, but rather a great humanitarian.

"Finally, to those who have been so kind during these very trying hours I want to express my sincere thanks.

"Also, to those volunteers who have given so unselfishly of their time, please accept my everlasting appreciation and thanks. Senator Robert F. Kennedy has been taken from us, but he leaves behind a set of principles to which we should re-dedicate ourselves and carry on in his name."

Unspeakable Tragedy

In another part of the state, Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, implacable foe of Kennedy said, "The death of Senator Kennedy is an unspeakable tragedy, a shocking and personal loss to every American.

The local women's brief appearance at headquarters this morning was just that. The draping done, the key was turned in the lock. Their job, hardly begun had come to a sudden tragic end.

'Time of Tragedy and Loss:' LBJ, Mourning Declared for Sunday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson, calling this "a time of tragedy and loss," today declared a day of mourning Sunday for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Johnsons led the capital and the nation in extending deepest sympathy to the slain senator's wife and family.

The White House released a statement by the President which said:

"This is a time of tragedy and loss. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is dead.

"Robert Kennedy affirmed this country—affirmed the essential decency of its people, their longing for peace, their desire to improve conditions of life for all.

"During his life, he knew far more than his share of personal tragedy.

"Yet he never abandoned his faith in America. He never lost his confidence in the spiritual strength of ordinary men and women. He believed in the capacity of the young for excellence—and in the right of the old and poor to a life of dignity. Our public life is diminished by his loss.

"Mrs. Johnson and I extend our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Kennedy and his family. I have issued a proclamation calling upon our nation to observe a day of mourning for Robert Kennedy next Sunday."

The President directed that flags be flown at half staff from now until the Kennedy burial on all federal buildings, military facilities and naval vessels.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey joined the First Family, issuing a statement which said:

"Mrs. Humphrey and I feel a sense of profound personal loss. We have all lost a great American—a man of deep concern, compassion, and personal commitment.

"Our hearts go out to his wife and dear children and to his family — which has already known tragedy beyond that which any should endure.

"It is now the obligation of all of us—even in our sorrow and pain—to recommit ourselves to the principles of humanity and individual justice in which Sen. Robert F. Kennedy believed.

"May our nation find the strength, the faith and the wisdom to dispel the forces of irrational hate among us and to replace them with love of man and God."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said softly when informed of Kennedy's death: "There is nothing I can say. I'm just overcome. Just overcome."

In New York, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon issued a statement in which he called Kennedy's death a "terrible tragedy, both for a family and a nation which have known too many such tragedies in recent times.

"Sen. Kennedy was a man of tremendous energy and vitality. He was one of the great popular leaders in American history . . ."

Nixon, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination ordered his campaign headquarters in New York and Washington closed for the day and said he would continue "his personal moratorium on campaigning during this period of sorrow."

Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York called the senator's death "an unspeakable tragedy" and declared "a day of mourning" for the day of Kennedy's burial.

Rocky Will Name Successor

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller will appoint a successor to the late U.S. Senator Robert F. Kennedy, who died in Los Angeles today after being struck in the brain by gunman's bullet.

An aide to the governor said after Kennedy died that Rockefeller had "given no thought" to a successor.

Legal aides in the governor's office said that, under terms of the state election law, a new senator could not be elected until November 1970, to take office in January 1971.

Thus the governor would be required by law to appoint a senator and the appointee would serve through December 1970.

Under the state law, Senate vacancies may be filled only in general elections conducted in even-numbered years. If the vacancy occurs in such a year, a Senate election may be held only if the vacancy arises 60 days or more before the state primary election, slated this year for June 18.

The U.S. Senate can declare a seat vacant if a member is disabled and cannot serve, but the Senate, as a matter of courtesy to its members, normally does not exercise this power.

The state law also considers delegates elected in the state primary as uncommitted to any presidential candidate. An election slate favorable to Kennedy, for example, would go to the convention as technically unpledged.

Mayone DA Investigator

The appointment of Thomas F. Mayone of Saugerties to the position of district attorney's investigator, succeeding retiring Arthur H. Brown was announced Wednesday by District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca.

Since 1967, Mayone has been a special narcotic investigator for the DA's office and is well-known in the county for his dedicated work in fighting the narcotics problem. Mayone and District Attorney Torraca have spearheaded the educational problem throughout the county as invited guest speakers at the meetings of various organizations.

Mayone has had more than 18 years experience in law enforcement and investigations, was a deputy sheriff of Ulster County for 12 years and county investigator for four years. In his position in the DA's Narcotics Bureau, he has been responsible for the arrests of many drug pushers in the county.

District Attorney Torraca said Mayone is highly qualified for the position and will be handling all investigations for the DA's office. Mayone is a graduate of Saugerties High School, and federal conducted schools on all phases of police work, including investigations, narcotics and drug abuse.

He resides in the Town of Saugerties with his wife, the former Caroline Reissler and their three children.

Investigator Brown, known as the DA's man, is completing 43 years of public service. He is currently on vacation and his retirement becomes effective July 1. He has held the position in the DA's office since Dec. 1962.

THE ACCUSED—Jordanian immigrant Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, 24, is led away after he was arraigned and charged with six counts of assault with intent to commit murder. LBJ Selects Panel To Study Violence

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Let us, for God's sake, resolve to live under the law."

With this solemn invocation to a troubled nation, President Johnson Wednesday night dispatched a select nine-member panel on the mission of seeking causes for violence of the sort that struck down Robert F. Kennedy.

In a 7½ minute address on nationwide television and radio, the President said:

"My fellow citizens, we cannot, we just must not, tolerate the sway of violent men among us. We must not permit men who are filled with hatred, and careless of innocent lives, to dominate our streets and fill our homes with fear.

"We cannot sanction the appeal to violence, no matter what its cause and no matter what the grievance from which it sprang . . .

"A great nation can guarantee freedom for its people and the hope of progressive change only under the rule of law. So let us, for God's sake, resolve to live under the law."

To head the special commission, the President chose Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Other members are Archbishop Terence Cooke of New York; Albert E. Jener Jr., a Chicago lawyer who was on the Warren Commission; Patricia Harris, former ambassador to Luxembourg; Eric Hoffer, the West Coast longshoreman-philosopher; Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Roman Hruska, R-Neb., Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, and A. Leon Higginbotham Jr., U.S. District judge for Eastern Pennsylvania.

The President said it would be self-deceptive to ignore the connection between lawlessness and hatred in general and the shooting of Kennedy. Then he added:

"It would be just as wrong, just as self-deceptive, to conclude from this act that our country is sick, that it has lost its sense of balance, its sense of direction and common decency."

"Two hundred million Americans did not strike Robert Kennedy last night any more than they struck John F. Kennedy in 1963 or Martin Luther King in April of this year.

"But those awful events give us ample warning that in a climate of extremism, of disrespect for law, of contempt for the rights of others, violence may bring down the very best among us. A nation that tolerates violence in any form cannot expect to be able to confine it to just minor outbursts."

Johnson said the commission "will look into the causes, the occurrence and the control of physical violence across this nation, from assassination that is motivated by prejudice and by ideology, and by politics and by insanity, to violence in our cities' streets and even in our homes."

House Might Pass Bill on Pistols

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, heading appeals to approve legislation the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had fought for in the Senate, appeared ready today to pass a bill that would ban interstate mail-order sales of pistols.

"If there is one man who would want this bill passed it is Sen. Kennedy," Rep. William T. Cahill, R-N.J., told the House Wednesday.

Kennedy and his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., sought during Senate consideration of the bill to include a ban on interstate mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns, but the Senate declined to do it. A mail-order rifle killed their brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"If we act now," Robert Kennedy told the New York City Council last August, "we can save hundreds of lives in this country and spare thousands of families all across this land the grief and heartbreak that may come from the loss of a husband, a son, a brother or a friend."

Acting within hours of the Los Angeles shooting, the House voted Wednesday against sending the bill to a Senate-House conference committee where there was any possibility it could be altered.

Pickets gathered outside the National Rifle Association headquarters in Washington. One placard read: "Congress must act on gun bill."

The Kennedy shooting was denounced as "a terrible tragedy . . . a senseless act" by Franklin Orth, executive vice president of the NRA, by far the strongest group opposing the legislation being debated by Congress.

But even if the proposed restrictions were already on the statute books, Orth said, it is doubtful they would have prevented the shooting.

He noted that Kennedy's assailant apparently violated several California laws by carrying a concealed, unlicensed, loaded weapon, but that the existence of these laws failed to deter the gunman.

Rocky 'Sorry', Suspends His GOP Campaign

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, "filled with sorrow" over the shooting of U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has suspended his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

The governor said the assassination in Los Angeles was "an unspeakable tragedy."

Rockefeller, who returned to Albany Wednesday from Washington, called President Johnson to discuss the shooting and also talked with Theodore Sorenson, one of Kennedy's top advisors, an aide said.

The governor sent a telegram to Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, the senator's mother, expressing his sorrow, the aide said.

"I am filled with sorrow for the senator and his family," Rockefeller told newsmen when he arrived in Albany.

"And this sorrow extends to all our nation. For such an assault on one man is an assault on our whole national life."

RFK Sensed Death But Did Not Worry

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy always sensed it would come some day.

"I play Russian roulette every time I get up in the morning," he would tell friends.

"But I just don't care," he said. "There's nothing I could do about it anyway."

Prepared for Tragedy

Kennedy has been described as a fatalist, one who never looked beyond the next moment and who was prepared for tragedy any day.

Today, after he had died of wounds inflicted by an assassin, the memory of a long, introspective, and rare conversation surfaced in the minds of the few who had heard it.

Kennedy was relaxing in the rear of the four-engine Lockheed Electra winging through the night sky, taking him home to Hickory Hill after a rigorous week of Midwestern campaigning.

He had a dark, brown drink, and he idly swirled the ice cubes with an index finger as he spoke broodingly gazing out at the stars and the lights of towns below.

Wasn't he concerned, he was asked, about the perils of such wild crowds as he had attracted that day and nearly every day of his presidential campaign?

"No," the candidate said, "I just don't worry about that. There's no sense in worrying about those things. If they want you, they can get you."

Did he think someone would seek to harm him one day?

He thought for perhaps 30 seconds and then said, "Well, let's not talk about that."

A reporter thought of his brother, John F. Kennedy, assassinated; of an older brother killed in wartime; of his wife's parents and his close friend, Dean Markham, killed in plane crashes.

But wouldn't it be a national crisis if one of his stature were to be harmed, after the violence to his brother and to Martin Luther King Jr.?

"Perhaps it would, I suppose so," Robert Kennedy said. "But what can I do about that?

"I'll tell you one thing: If I'm elected president you won't find me riding around in any of those awful cars."

He was referring to the closed, armored presidential limousine President Johnson has used since John F. Kennedy's motorcade assassination.

Bobby Kennedy would ride in open cars, he said, so the people could see their president.

"Of course, I worry about what would happen to my family, to the children," Kennedy mused that early spring night on the plane. "But they're well taken care of, and there's really nothing else I can do, is there? So I really don't care about anything happening to me."

And then there was a long pause: "This isn't really such a happy existence, is it?"

Farewell Party

The troop committee of Junior Troop 35, of Lake Katrine School took over the regular troop meeting on Tuesday night and gave a surprise farewell party to the retiring Leader, Mrs. H.P. Hoffman, who has found it necessary to give up her weekly troop activities but who will continue in scouting as a member of the Ulster-Hurley Neighborhood Service Team.

JACKIE LEAVES — Appearing composed and accompanied by former Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric (R), Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy leaves her Manhattan apartment for the ride to Kennedy Airport. She was accompanied by U. S. Secret Service agents, who drove the former First Lady to the airport. She then took a plane for Los Angeles to be at the bedside of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, who died early this morning from wounds he received after winning the California primary on Wednesday. (UPI TELEPHOTO.)

Bobby Kennedy would ride in open cars, he said, so the people could see their president.

"Of course, I worry about what would happen to my family, to the children," Kennedy mused that early spring night on the plane. "But they're well taken care of, and there's really nothing else I can do, is there? So I really don't care about anything happening to me."

And then there was a long pause: "This isn't really such a happy existence, is it?"

Farewell Party

The troop committee of Junior Troop 35, of Lake Katrine School took over the regular troop meeting on Tuesday night and gave a surprise farewell party to the retiring Leader, Mrs. H.P. Hoffman, who has found it necessary to give up her weekly troop activities but who will continue in scouting as a member of the Ulster-Hurley Neighborhood Service Team.

LBJ Selects Panel To Study Violence

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"Let us, for God's sake, resolve to live under the law."

With this solemn invocation to a troubled nation, President Johnson Wednesday night dispatched a select nine-member panel on the mission of seeking causes for violence of the sort that struck down Robert F. Kennedy.

In a 7½ minute address on nationwide television and radio, the President said:

"My fellow citizens, we cannot, we just must not, tolerate the sway of violent men among us. We must not permit men who are filled with hatred, and careless of innocent lives, to dominate our streets and fill our homes with fear.

"We cannot sanction the appeal to violence, no matter what its cause and no matter what the grievance from which it sprang . . .

"A great nation can guarantee freedom for its people and the hope of progressive change only under the rule of law. So let us, for God's sake, resolve to live under the law."

To head the special commission, the President chose Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president emeritus of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Other members are Archbishop Terence Cooke of New York; Albert E. Jener Jr., a Chicago lawyer who was on the Warren Commission; Patricia Harris, former ambassador to Luxembourg; Eric Hoffer, the West Coast longshoreman-philosopher; Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Roman Hruska, R-Neb., Reps. Hale Boggs, D-La., and William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, and A. Leon Higginbotham Jr., U.S. District judge for Eastern Pennsylvania.

The President said it would be self-deceptive to ignore the connection between lawlessness and hatred in general and the shooting of Kennedy. Then he added:

"It would be just as wrong, just as self-deceptive, to conclude from this act that our country is sick, that it has lost its sense of balance, its sense of direction and common decency."

"Two hundred million Americans did not strike Robert Kennedy last night any more than they struck John F. Kennedy in 1963 or Martin Luther King in April of this year.

"But those awful events give us ample warning that in a climate of extremism, of disrespect for law, of contempt for the rights of others, violence may bring down the very best among us. A nation that tolerates violence in any form cannot expect to be able to confine it to just minor outbursts."

Johnson said the commission "will look into the causes, the occurrence and the control of physical violence across this nation, from assassination that is motivated by prejudice and by ideology, and by politics and by insanity, to violence in our cities' streets and even in our homes."

House Might Pass Bill on Pistols

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, heading appeals to approve legislation the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had fought for in the Senate, appeared ready today to pass a bill that would ban interstate mail-order sales of pistols.

"If there is one man who would want this bill passed it is Sen. Kennedy," Rep. William T. Cahill, R-N.J., told the House Wednesday.

Kennedy and his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., sought during Senate consideration of the bill to include a ban on interstate mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns, but the Senate declined to do it. A mail-order rifle killed their brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"If we act now," Robert Kennedy told the New York City Council last August, "we can save hundreds of lives in this country and spare thousands of families all across this land the grief and heartbreak that may come from the loss of a husband, a son, a brother or a friend."

Acting within hours of the Los Angeles shooting, the House voted Wednesday against sending the bill to a Senate-House conference committee where there was any possibility it could be altered.

Pickets gathered outside the National Rifle Association headquarters in Washington. One placard read: "Congress must act on gun bill."

The Kennedy shooting was denounced as "a terrible tragedy . . . a senseless act" by Franklin Orth, executive vice president of the NRA, by far the strongest group opposing the legislation being debated by Congress.

But even if the proposed restrictions were already on the statute books, Orth said, it is doubtful they would have prevented the shooting.

He noted that Kennedy's assailant apparently violated several California laws by carrying a concealed, unlicensed, loaded weapon, but that the existence of these laws failed to deter the gunman.

Rocky 'Sorry', Suspends His GOP Campaign

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller, "filled with sorrow" over the shooting of U.S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has suspended his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

The governor said the assassination in Los Angeles was "an unspeakable tragedy."

Rockefeller, who returned to Albany Wednesday from Washington, called President Johnson to discuss the shooting and also talked with Theodore Sorenson, one of Kennedy's top advisors, an aide said.

The governor sent a telegram to Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, the senator's mother, expressing his sorrow, the aide said.

"I am filled with sorrow for the senator and his family," Rockefeller told newsmen when he arrived in Albany.

"And this sorrow extends to all our nation. For such an assault on one man is an assault on our whole national life."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JUNE 6, 1968

The Day of Infamy

The profound grief in our nation today over the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy manifests to the world the love of his saddened countrymen. It is tragic that his brilliant career had to end in such a revolting manner.

The blood of Senator Kennedy and his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, will not be washed away easily from the conscience of the nation. The same violence and hate that spilled the blood of the Kennedy brothers also took Dr. Martin Luther King's life.

The nation has not even scratched the surface in controlling the kind of men who pulled the triggers and those who put the weapon of hysteria and hate in their hands. There is already a justified outcry against the profit makers in guns and the gun lobbyists, who Senator Kennedy opposed in Congress. But the lobbyists and Congressmen who have not lost a brother to an assassin prevailed. Any half-wit can still buy a gun if he can reach a mailbox.

What of those who allow their passions to drive them to hate any man with different ideas? Are they not just as guilty as the assassins?

Senator Kennedy challenged many of the old political assumptions. In doing so, he often was surrounded by controversy and disagreement. It was the price any public figure seeking office expects to pay. But in Senator Kennedy's case, it was accompanied by a destructive force of hatred that made it easy for an assassin to pull the trigger.

There can be no denial that this force runs through the fabric of society. Unless these forces are controlled through democratic means, free expression and the hope for a tranquil society will be driven underground. The political and social lunatics will have triumphed over the majority. It can happen. Indeed, it is happening.

All America must bear the shame for this spirit of madness.

Predators on High Seas

There are many reasons why our enemies, the North Koreans, can seize a U.S. ship and get away with it. What is amazing is that our friends, the South Americans, have been doing the same thing for years.

In the last seven years, more than 60 American-owned fishing vessels have been seized by Chile, Ecuador and Peru. In most cases it has been in the same manner as the North Koreans took the Pueblo—at gunpoint. In several cases, the capture was accomplished by an American ship that had been loaned to the friendly nation. None of the American boats was within the internationally accepted 12-mile limit, which even the North Koreans recognize.

So far, the U.S. government has paid almost $500,000 for the release of captured boats and crews.

What has happened is that these three countries, plus four others in Latin America, have extended their territorial limits out to a fantastic 200 miles in order to throw a legal net over all the fish in this vast expanse of water.

The United States, like most maritime nations, claims 12-mile fishing limits while maintaining the traditional three-mile territorial limit. It does not recognize 200-mile fishing sovereignty of any nation.

Yet by paying tribute to these unilateral laws, the United States is strengthening the validity of the 200-mile limit and, charges the National Oceanography Association, "is doing irreparable harm to the concept of the freedom of the seas."

"Freedom of the seas beyond reasonable territorial waters," states the association, "is a right of all nations and must be jealously protected and maintained. The United States, once the greatest sea power the world has ever known—the leader in protecting the rights of nations — now repudiates that leadership by bowing to the brigandage of nations whose actions are repugnant to our ideals of world freedom."

Evidently, however, the good will of these three countries is indispensible to our wider security. We will buy it at any price, even at the cost of established international law and our own self-respect.

The women's charter advocating complete equality with men adopted by the United Nations Conference on Human Rights in Tehran, Iran, goes beyond anything even in this enlightened nation. It must pass the General Assembly before it goes to the member nations for ratifications. Women have a new cause to fight for in this country.

After the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King last month, 35,890 regular soldiers and Marines were deployed to quell riots plus federalized guardsmen in Washington, Baltimore and Chicago. Also, 22,074 were on a standby position. It cost the Federal government $5,375,400. That's one more reason to hope the Poor People's March remains nonviolent.

Peace Talks Are Progressing as Expected

Every City Must Preserve Law, Order

WASHINGTON — There is a lesson for every city in the country in the comment made by Judge Alfred Burka of the Court of General Sessions in Washington when he sentenced several persons who had engaged in rioting or looting here in April. The Judge pointed the finger of blame at city officials for their failure to order the police to arrest rioters and to announce in unequivocal words that looters and arsonists would be severely punished.

"I have questioned several police officers," Judge Burka said, "and there is no doubt in my mind they operated with implicit or implied orders not to make arrests."

The judge insisted that there appeared to be no efforts to publicize beforehand the fact that looters would be arrested and prosecuted. He declared that the prisoners he had questioned admitted that they had no fear of arrest when they engaged in unlawful acts.

All of the group of seven defendants had records of steady employment and salaries of 100 dollars or more a week, with one exception. Three earned more than 160 dollars weekly. Most of them had no previous involvement with the law.

Judge Burka said that "People we were depending upon to uphold the law in the District were involved in the disorder and very few of them were caught." He asked Nathaniel Dodds, 51, one of the defendants:

"Would you have gone (with the looters) if you had been warned that looters would be arrested or shot?"

"No, sir," Dodds replied. "People told me the police weren't arresting anybody, and I thought it was all right, since everybody else was doing it." He added that he saw "Lots of police around, but nobody was being arrested."

For some time there have been rumors that the Washington police were told not to make arrests or to shoot at anybody seen looting. In Chicago, Mayor Daley has warned that the police have orders to shoot those engaged in lawbreaking if they do not desist and submit to arrest.

Many of the disorders can be anticipated. "Demonstrations" are previously announced, and incitement to violence has been a frequent occurrence. Yet authorities in very few of the cities have issued warnings that persons engaged in rioting or looting or vandalism would be arrested and punished. Apparently a wave of propaganda has swept the country that the police are engaging in "brutality" if they attempt to use force to stop rioters, arsonists and looters.

Some of the difficulty arises because the Supreme Court of the United States, in a number of decisions, has upheld the right of "demonstrations" as coming under "free speech," and only recently has made it plain that this does not permit all violations of law. Clearly there is need for publicity, particularly in the areas threatened by disturbances, so that the population generally will be fully aware that the police will not hesitate to arrest persons who participate in disorders and incite others to break the law.

In some cities where riots have occurred, many of the law-breakers were not arrested. Police chiefs have been restrained in their actions in the hope that the leaders of the "demonstrations" would themselves be able to quiet down the disorderly ones. Judge Burka, in criticizing Washington officials, said:

"It is an indictment of the constituted authority of the District of Columbia that apparently no effort was made to instruct the public that looting would be punished by arrest and prosecution. I can only hope the public will be notified that swift and appropriate action will be taken in the event of any future recurrence of this (riot) activity."

Because Washington is the capital of the United States and is supposed to set an example to the nation, the experience of Judge Burka in interrogating prisoners and discovering that they did not expect to be arrested will be an eye-opener to the country. For while this city has a council form of government, the appointees are responsible to Congress and the President of the United States. Undoubtedly the issue will be raised in the coming national campaign as to whether the Democratic administration has been fulfilling its responsibilities to preserve law and order in the nation's capital.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Shakespeare Anniversary

(The Shakespeare festival season currently marks the 352nd anniversary of the bard's death at age 53.)

A month before he died on April 23, 1616, Shakespeare signed his will. Incredibly, except for his three signatures on that will, one on a lawsuit disposition and two on deeds, no other writing, no letter, not a single manuscript or message in his hand can be proved to exist. And the intellectual world remains, of course, as tantalized as ever by this famous mystery.

The function of a word is to make things real. Modern English is a rich and living mixture of French words with their real Latin roots and the blunt Saxon of early Britons. Shakespeare stabilized this. He could compress worlds into monosyllables. "To be or not to be" is man's largest question put in man's smallest and simplest words. But once uttered they expand to fill all the space in the human mind.

How could one man know so much?

It is a pity that Shakespeare usually is read in early youth and not reread in later life. For the later you read him after the seasoning of your own life and in the light of experience the greater your wonder grows.

If, as art critic Bernard Berenson said of great paintings, "It takes a lifetime to learn to see," surely it takes a lifetime to "see" this incredible man.

Although Shakespeare's field was the whole human world, he was neither an optimist nor a pessimist, any more than you can say that the ocean is beneficent or malevolent. Drama is the translation of incident into ideas. But is it the timelessness of his ideas, the permanency of the portrayals, that is finally the most astonishing.

When earthy, robust Shakespeare came along England had been torn by its wars—the war of Roses for one—and so had the rest of the world. Note how Hamlet marked a time when "Hell itself breathes out contagion to this world." Our troubled world today? Has there ever been any other kind?

Politics in 1968? Note how Shakespeare has Octavius say, minutes after Cleopatra's death, "Give me my robe. Put on my crown, I have immortal longings in me." Or recall the procession of kings in Macbeth's imagination. You can read a great deal about our 1968 Presidential campaign in Shakespeare.

In Shakespeare's day Britain still had only one city with more than 30,000 population. A country house like Audley End with its 750 rooms was comparable to a walled town. Migration toward the cities created urban problems and tensions and compounded the plight of the masses. Anarchy prevailed. The population, Shakespeare said, could merely "sit upon the ground and tell sad stories of the death" of moderation and civic order. His lines speak the tragic chant that seems to be today's litany.

Poetry is the art of communication from the depths of our spirit. Poets have always and everywhere been the soul builders of the brave. The word poetry comes from the Greek word "to make." And England's history glows with heroes like South Pole exgood king and brave man, shot in the eye by an arrow at the Battle of Hastings; heroes like South Pole explorer Robert Falcon Scott, who taught several generations of Britons to die with nobility and grace or men like Sir Walter Raleigh and Capt. James Cook who probably never would have been happy while there remained an horizon to draw them. Shakespeare was a searchlight of the race.

He was loved and admired by his contemporaries. There is abundant evidence of that. But he was not spared also the subsequent injustices of professional envy.

Samuel Pepys said, "Hamlet disgusts this refined age," and for 150 years Shakespeare was vivisected to suit the silliest demands

Pension Bill

Following is a copy of a letter sent by me to State Senator Rolison:

At a time when much consideration should be given to reducing our spending I learn from your legislative report that you support increasing the state's expenditures, by means of the legislative pension bill.

You state that the reason you support this bill is because "most legislative employes are dedicated people who could earn much more in other fields." Nobody forces anybody to accept a state legislative office, for it should be an honor to know that the people want you to represent them in Albany, an increase in money should not be necessary.

You state that they cannot appeal a dismissal or demotion. If these legislators are not performing properly in their office, then they do not deserve protection to prevent them from being dismissed.

You mention that these legislative employes must pay their own expenses, travel, etc. to the Capitol each week. Certainly you were mindful of this fact before you decided to be the state senator from Dutchess and Ulster Counties. If you felt this was unfair then I think you were obligated to state your objection before taking office. When a person accepts elective office he is obligated to represent the people, not his own personal thoughts. The people of this county and Ulster County feel that they are taxed beyond the limits of reason and to consider an increase to cover this bill is unjust.

Yours truly,
JOAN MALLOY

Private Property

Editor, The Freeman

Again I find myself in complete agreement with your Editorial of May 24th regarding private property.

Due to the rulings of the extreme liberals on the U. S. Supreme Court, we are being deprived of many of our precious rights which have been our heiritage. In case after case the Court has lent an interpretation to the Constitution which permits influential groups and governmental agencies to take from us our property rights to such an extent that you can say that private property rights in this country are gone. The next step will be our personal rights and personal liberties.

In a recent ruling the Supreme Court has upheld the right of the Urban Renewal advocates to seize property under the heretofore questionable right of eminent domain in such a manner and to such an extent that it has been called by another prominent jurist "The most flagrant abuse of the right of eminent domain in the history of this country."

Then to add insult to injury the Urban Renewal Agencies are exercising these powers for the definite advantage and benefit of certain interested parties to such an extent that our local grant for the Uptown Project will be allotted in a large part for the benefit of the Establishment who subtly planned and are now implementing this project. The conflict of interest which is so evident does not seem to concern either the local agency or the higher officialdom of the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal to whose attention it has been drawn. They have promised an investigation but apparently this is not being done and probably never will be one.

Very truly yours,

Police Standards

Editor, The Freeman

Jerome P. Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit, recently announced that revised written or oral tests, lowered physical requirements and that those who have a felony arrest or conviction record will now be acceptable to the Detroit Police Department. These recommendations stemmed from a panel headed by a member of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce and a member of the NAACP.

This rather shocked me because 1. the average citizen is supposed to have respect and confidence in his police (this ruling must be demoralizing to the men of good repute who are now policemen in Detroit; 2. The lowering of standards is an insult to the majority of law abiding negroes of Detroit.

New York City lowered its standards about three years ago. Previously any conviction barred a man from the force but today convictions for a misdemeanor does not bar a man from the N.Y.C. Police Department. (Policeman standing by while looters loot and hippies smoke pot is now going on in the city)

The people had better exercise their right to be heard and sound-off on this issue before it happens here because the high moral character and intelligence of the police is a prerequisite of good law enforcement.

Yours truly,
Leola Tobin

Equal Time

Editor, The Freeman:

I am very pleased to note, according to an AP Washington dispatch by Robert A. Hunt that appeared in the June 1 Freeman, Rep. John E. Moss of California is against suspending the equal time previsions of the Federal Communications Act and that he is not allowing himself to fall for the claim that the networks would be fair to minor parties.

The fact that the networks are doing everything they can to get rid of Section 315 shows that they don't give a darn about freedom of speech for the candidates of the Socialist Labor Party and other minor parties.

I am sending a letter to Rep. Moss commending him for his efforts and am going to urge Congressman Resnick to help see to it that the SLP and the other minor party candidates are NOT denied their right to be heard and seen as well as the major parties.

Democratic Process in Peril

Militants Gnaw U.S. 'Fabric'

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This country's deep social unrest, manifested most in racial strife and turbulence in the universities, could in time push its democratic system toward a real danger point.

The marvel of that system has been its continuing capacity for holding in delicate, often tense, balance the many conflicting forces which inevitably develop in a complex, vibrant free society.

The success of the system rests on general popular acceptance that this balance among conflicts must be maintained, that some sort of accommodation, some reaching across the gulf of our differences, is vital to us as a people.

This November and December, when we have finished electing a new president to lead us in the next four years or more, we probably will be in a mood to celebrate—as we have done so often before—the spirit of accommodation which always has made possible the peaceful shift of power in America, whether within a party or from one party to another.

Yet, even as this is here predicted, it is a harsh fact that the admirable habit of accommodation which has served this nation's liberties so well and so long stands in peril of being broken by some elements of the population.

Black militants and some insurgent students to name just two categories, are in open revolt against the system which depends for its continuance upon the compromising and reconciling of opposing attitudes, viewpoints, programs and policies.

What they seem to be saying is that, no matter how small they may bulk in the nation or the community or the university, they insist upon winning their side of a given conflict. And the system which does not permit them to win when their proportionate numbers are short of a majority is one they cannot tolerate.

There is nothing new in the rebellion of youth. Nor has American society ever been without its extremes among both the young and old. But heretofore it has always been strong enough, with a sufficiently powerful bent toward accommodation of conflict, to contain its extremes without a ripping of the nation's fabric.

Armed with the assurance of real numbers, always rebellious youth and newly militant blacks invest in their protest a vehemence and impatience which grades easily into violence when frustrated by the usual restraints of a law-abiding, accommodating society.

The young have always wanted the millennium tomorrow, have always wanted not to be bound by society's rules and laws, have always questioned traditional values. The Negro, breaking old shackles at long last, seeks the same swift course.

Yet, in the name of good causes, some of this—and their older sympathizers in the puzzled liberal community—may do damage to the greater cause of freedom itself. The bond is close between the student who wants to tear up a college building and the liberal lawyer who says quietly in his office that if the end is good, almost anything goes.

And it is a part of the rebel's necessary armor that he must deceive himself into imagining that, relatively small though his visible numbers may be, the great majority of students or Negroes or people generally either is already with him or quickly will be when it seems, inescapably, the rightness of the good cause.

The Day of Infamy

The profound grief in our nation today over the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy manifests to the world the love of his saddened countrymen. It is tragic that his brilliant career had to end in such a revolting manner.

The blood of Senator Kennedy and his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, will not be washed away easily from the conscience of the nation. The same violence and hate that spilled the blood of the Kennedy brothers also took Dr. Martin Luther King's life.

The nation has not even scratched the surface in controlling the kind of men who pulled the triggers and those who put the weapon of hysteria and hate in their hands. There is already a justified outcry against the profit makers in guns and the gun lobbyists, who Senator Kennedy opposed in Congress. But the lobbyists and Congressmen who have not lost a brother to an assassin prevailed. Any half-wit can still buy a gun if he can reach a mailbox.

What of those who allow their passions to drive them to hate any man with different ideas? Are they not just as guilty as the assassins?

Senator Kennedy challenged many of the old political assumptions. In doing so, he often was surrounded by controversy and disagreement. It was the price any public figure seeking office expects to pay. But in Senator Kennedy's case, it was accompanied by a destructive force of hatred that made it easy for an assassin to pull the trigger.

There can be no denial that this force runs through the fabric of society. Unless these forces are controlled through democratic means, free expression and the hope for a tranquil society will be driven underground. The political and social lunatics will have triumphed over the majority. It can happen. Indeed, it is happening.

All America must bear the shame for this spirit of madness.

Predators on High Seas

There are many reasons why our enemies, the North Koreans, can seize a U.S. ship and get away with it. What is amazing is that our friends, the South Americans, have been doing the same thing for years.

In the last seven years, more than 60 American-owned fishing vessels have been seized by Chile, Ecuador and Peru. In most cases it has been in the same manner as the North Koreans took the Pueblo—at gunpoint. In several cases, the capture was accomplished by an American ship that had been loaned to the friendly nation. None of the American boats was within the internationally accepted 12-mile limit, which even the North Koreans recognize.

So far, the U.S. government has paid almost $500,000 for the release of captured boats and crews.

What has happened is that these three countries, plus four others in Latin America, have extended their territorial limits out to a fantastic 200 miles in order to throw a legal net over all the fish in this vast expanse of water.

The United States, like most maritime nations, claims 12-mile fishing limits while maintaining the traditional three-mile territorial limit. It does not recognize 200-mile fishing sovereignty of any nation.

Yet by paying tribute to these unilateral laws, the United States is strengthening the validity of the 200-mile limit and, charges the National Oceanography Association, "is doing irreparable harm to the concept of the freedom of the seas."

"Freedom of the seas beyond reasonable territorial waters," states the association, "is a right of all nations and must be jealously protected and maintained. The United States, once the greatest sea power the world has ever known—the leader in protecting the rights of nations—now repudiates that leadership by bowing to the brigandage of nations whose actions are repugnant to our ideals of world freedom."

Evidently, however, the good will of these three countries is indispensible to our wider security. We will buy it at any price, even at the cost of established international law and our own self-respect.

The women's charter advocating complete equality with men adopted by the United Nations Conference on Human Rights in Tehran, Iran, goes beyond anything even in this enlightened nation. It must pass the General Assembly before it goes to the member nations for ratifications. Women have a new cause to fight for in this country.

After the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King last month, 35,890 regular soldiers and Marines were deployed to quell riots plus federalized guardsmen in Washington, Baltimore and Chicago. Also, 22,074 were on a standby position. It cost the Federal government $5,375,400. That's one more reason to hope the Poor People's March remains nonviolent.

Peace Talks Are Progressing as Expected

Every City Must Preserve Law, Order

WASHINGTON — There is a lesson for every city in the country in the comment made by Judge Alfred Burka of the Court of General Sessions in Washington when he sentenced several persons who had engaged in rioting or looting here in April. The Judge pointed the finger of blame at city officials for their failure to order the police to arrest rioters and to announce in unequivocal words that looters and arsonists would be severely punished.

"I have questioned several police officers," Judge Burka said, "and there is no doubt in my mind they operated with implicit or implied orders not to make arrests."

The judge insisted that there appeared to be no efforts to publicize beforehand the fact that looters would be arrested and prosecuted. He declared that the prisoners he had questioned admitted that they had no fear of arrest when they engaged in unlawful acts.

All of the group of seven defendants had records of steady employment and salaries of 100 dollars or more a week, with one exception. Three earned more than 160 dollars weekly. Most of them had no previous involvement with the law.

Judge Burka said that "People we were depending upon to uphold the law in the District were involved in the disorder and very few of them were caught." He asked Nathaniel Dodds, 51, one of the defendants:

"Would you have gone (with the looters) if you had been warned that looters would be arrested or shot?"

"No, sir," Dodds replied. "People told me the police weren't arresting anybody, and I thought it was all right, since everybody else was doing it." He added that he saw "Lots of police around, but nobody was being arrested."

For some time there have been rumors that the Washington police were told not to make arrests or to shoot at anybody seen looting. In Chicago, Mayor Daley has warned that the police have orders to shoot those engaged in lawbreaking if they do not desist and submit to arrest.

Many of the disorders can be anticipated. "Demonstrations" are previously announced, and incitement to violence has been a frequent occurrence. Yet authorities in very few of the cities have issued warnings that persons engaged in rioting or looting or vandalism would be arrested and punished. Apparently a wave of propaganda has swept the country that the police are engaging in "brutality" if they attempt to use force to stop rioters, arsonists and looters.

Some of the difficulty arises because the Supreme Court of the United States, in a number of decisions, has upheld the right of "demonstrations" as coming under "free speech," and only recently has made it plain that this does not permit all violations of law. Clearly there is need for publicity, particularly in the areas threatened by disturbances, so that the population generally will be fully aware that the police will not hesitate to arrest persons who participate in disorders and incite others to break the law.

In some cities where riots have occurred, many of the law-breakers were not arrested. Police chiefs have been restrained in their actions in the hope that the leaders of the "demonstrations" would themselves be able to quiet down the disorderly ones. Judge Burka, in criticizing Washington officials, said:

"It is an indictment of the constituted authority of the District of Columbia that apparently no effort was made to instruct the public that looting would be punished by arrest and prosecution. I can only hope the public will be notified that swift and appropriate action will be taken in the event of any future recurrence of this (riot) activity."

Because Washington is the capital of the United States and is supposed to set an example to the nation, the experience of Judge Burka in interrogating prisoners and discovering that they did not expect to be arrested will be an eye-opener to the country. For while this city has a council form of government, the appointees are responsible to Congress and the President of the United States. Undoubtedly the issue will be raised in the coming national campaign as to whether the Democratic administration has been fulfilling its responsibilities to preserve law and order in the nation's capital.

Shakespeare Anniversary

(The Shakespeare festival season currently marks the 352nd anniversary of the bard's death at age 53.)

A month before he died on April 23, 1616, Shakespeare signed his will. Incredibly, except for his three signatures on that will, one on a lawsuit disposition and two on deeds, no other writing, no letter, not a single manuscript or message in his hand can be proved to exist. And the intellectual world remains, of course, as tantalized as ever by this famous mystery.

The function of a word is to make things real. Modern English is a rich and living mixture of French words with their real Latin roots and the blunt Saxon of early Britons. Shakespeare stabilized this. He could compress worlds into monosyllables. "To be or not to be" is man's largest question put in man's smallest and simplest words. But once uttered they expand to fill all the space in the human mind.

How could one man know so much?

It is a pity that Shakespeare usually is read in early youth and not reread in later life. For the later you read him after the seasoning of your own life and in the light of experience the greater your wonder grows.

If, as art critic Bernard Berenson said of great paintings, "It takes a lifetime to learn to see," surely it takes a lifetime to "see" this incredible man.

Although Shakespeare's field was the whole human world, he was neither an optimist nor a pessimist, any more than you can say that the ocean is beneficent or malevolent. Drama is the translation of incident into ideas. But is it the timelessness of his ideas, the permanency of the portrayals, that is finally the most astonishing.

When earthy, robust Shakespeare came along England had been torn by its wars—the war of Roses for one—and so had the rest of the world. Note how Hamlet marked a time when "Hell itself breathes out contagion to this world." Our troubled world today? Has there ever been any other kind?

Politics in 1968? Note how Shakespeare has Octavius say, minutes after Cleopatra's death, "Give me my robe. Put on my crown. I have immortal longings in me." Or recall the procession of kings in Macbeth's imagination. You can read a great deal about our 1968 Presidential campaign in Shakespeare.

In Shakespeare's day Britain still had only one city with more than 30,000 population. A country house like Audley End with its 750 rooms was comparable to a walled town. Migration toward the cities created urban problems and tensions and compounded the plight of the masses. Anarchy prevailed. The population, Shakespeare said, could merely "sit upon the ground and tell sad stories of the death" of moderation and civic order. His lines speak the tragic chant that seems to be today's litany.

Poetry is the art of communication from the depths of our spirit. Poets have always and everywhere been the soul builders of the brave. The word poetry comes from the Greek word "to make." And England's history glows with heroes like South Pole explorer Robert Falcon Scott, who taught several generations of Britons to die with nobility and grace or men like Sir Walter Raleigh and Capt. James Cook who probably never would have been happy while there remained an horizon to draw them. Shakespeare was a searchlight of the race.

He was loved and admired by his contemporaries. There is abundant evidence of that. But he was not spared also the subsequent injustices of professional envy.

Samuel Pepys said, "Hamlet disgusts this refined age," and for 150 years Shakespeare was vivisected to suit the silliest demands

Pension Bill

Following is a copy of a letter sent by me to State Senator Rolison:

At a time when much consideration should be given to reducing our spending I learn from your legislative report that you support increasing the state's expenditures, by means of the legislative pension bill.

You state that the reason you support this bill is because "most legislative employes are dedicated people who could earn much more in other fields." Nobody forces anybody to accept a state legislative office, for it should be an honor to know that the people want you to represent them in Albany, an increase in money should not be necessary.

You state that they cannot appeal a dismissal or demotion. If these legislators are not performing properly in their office, then they do not deserve protection to prevent them from being dismissed.

You mention that these legislative employes must pay their own expenses, travel, etc. to the Capitol each week. Certainly you were mindful of this fact before you decided to be the state senator from Dutchess and Ulster Counties. If you felt this was unfair then I think you were obligated to state your objection before taking office. When a person accepts elective office he is obligated to represent the people, not his own personal thoughts. The people of this county and Ulster County feel that they are taxed beyond the limits of reason and to consider an increase to cover this bill is unjust.

Yours truly,

Private Property

Editor, The Freeman

Again I find myself in complete agreement with your Editorial of May 24th regarding private property.

Due to the rulings of the extreme liberals on the U. S. Supreme Court, we are being deprived of many of our precious rights which have been our heiritage. In case after case the Court has lent an interpretation to the Constitution which permits influential groups and governmental agencies to take from us our property rights to such an extent that you can say that private property rights in this country are gone. The next step will be our personal rights and personal liberties.

In a recent ruling the Supreme Court has upheld the right of the Urban Renewal advocates to seize property under the heretofore questionable right of eminent domain in such a manner and to such an extent that it has been called by another prominent jurist "The most flagrant abuse of the right of eminent domain in the history of this country."

Then to add insult to injury the Urban Renewal Agencies are exercising these powers for the definite advantage and benefit of certain interested parties to such an extent that our local grant for the Uptown Project will be allotted in a large part for the benefit of the Establishment who subtly planned and are now implementing this project. The conflict of interest which is so evident does not seem to concern either the local agency or the higher officialdom of the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal to whose attention it has been drawn. They have promised an investigation but apparently this is not being done and probably never will be one.

Very truly yours,

Police Standards

Editor, The Freeman

Jerome P. Cavanagh, mayor of Detroit, recently announced that revised written or oral tests, lowered physical requirements and that those who have a felony arrest or conviction record will now be acceptable to the Detroit Police Department. These recommendations stemmed from a panel headed by a member of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce and a member of the NAACP.

This rather shocked me because 1. the average citizen is supposed to have respect and confidence in his police (this ruling must be demoralizing to the men of good repute who are now policemen in Detroit; 2. The lowering of standards is an insult to the majority of law abiding negroes of Detroit.

New York City lowered its standards about three years ago. Previously any conviction barred a man from the force but today convictions for a misdemeanor does not bar a man from the N.Y.C. Police Department. (Policeman standing by while looters loot and hippies smoke pot is now going on in the city)

The people had better exercise their right to be heard and sound-off on this issue before it happens here because the high moral character and intelligence of the police is a prerequisite of good law enforcement.

Yours truly,
Leola Tobin

Equal Time

Editor, The Freeman:

I am very pleased to note, according to an AP Washington dispatch by Robert A. Hunt that appeared in the June 1 Freeman, Rep. John E. Moss of California is against suspending the equal time previsions of the Federal Communications Act and that he is not allowing himself to fall for the claim that the networks would be fair to minor parties.

The fact that the networks are doing everything they can to get rid of Section 315 shows that they don't give a darn about freedom of speech for the candidates of the Socialist Labor Party and other minor parties.

I am sending a letter to Rep. Moss commending him for his efforts and am going to urge Congressman Resnick to help see to it that the SLP and the other minor party candidates are NOT denied their right to be heard and seen as well as the major parties.

Democratic Process in Peril

Militants Gnaw U.S. 'Fabric'

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This country's deep social unrest, manifested most in racial strife and turbulence in the universities, could in time push its democratic system toward a real danger point.

The marvel of that system has been its continuing capacity for holding in delicate, often tense, balance the many conflicting forces which inevitably develop in a complex, vibrant free society.

The success of the system rests on general popular acceptance that this balance among conflicts must be maintained, that some sort of accommodation, some reaching across the gulf of our differences, is vital to us as a people.

This November and December, when we have finished electing a new president to lead us in the next four years or more, we probably will be in a mood to celebrate—as we have done so often before—the spirit of accommodation which always has made possible the peaceful shift of power in America, whether within a party or from one party to another.

Yet, even as this is here predicted, it is a harsh fact that the admirable habit of accommodation which has served this nation's liberties so well and so long stands in peril of being broken by some elements of the population.

Black militants and some insurgent students to name just two categories, are in open revolt against the system which depends for its continuance upon the compromising and reconciling of opposing attitudes, viewpoints, programs and policies.

What they seem to be saying is that, no matter how small they may bulk in the nation or the community or the university, they insist upon winning their side of a given conflict. And the system which does not permit them to win when their proportionate numbers are short of a majority is one they cannot tolerate.

There is nothing new in the rebellion of youth. Nor has American society ever been without its extremes among both the young and old. But heretofore it has always been strong enough, with a sufficiently powerful bent toward accommodation of conflict, to contain its extremes without a ripping of the nation's fabric.

Armed with the assurance of real numbers, always rebellious youth and newly militant blacks invest in their protest a vehemence and impatience which grades easily into violence when frustrated by the usual restraints of a law-abiding, accommodating society.

The young have always wanted the millennium tomorrow, have always wanted not to be bound by society's rules and laws, have always questioned traditional values. The Negro, breaking old shackles at long last, seeks the same swift course.

Yet, in the name of good causes, some of this—and their older sympathizers in the puzzled liberal community—may do damage to the greater cause of freedom itself. The bond is close between the student who wants to tear up a college building and the liberal lawyer who says quietly in his office that if the end is good, almost anything goes.

And it is a part of the rebel's necessary armor that he must deceive himself into imagining that, relatively small though his visible numbers may be, the great majority of students or Negroes or people generally either is already with him or quickly will be when it seems, inescapably, the rightness of the good cause.

Soviets Find a Scapegoat

Blame Czech Defiance on U.S.

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA)

The Russians have finally "discovered" that American imperialists are behind Czechoslovakia's unprecedented experiment in liberalism.

An editorial in Krasnaya Zvezda, mouthpiece of Moscow's marshals and generals, asserts the United States is seeking "to exploit for its own dirty purposes" the "internal processes" in Czechoslovakia.

It was inevitable that the Russians and their frightened puppets in Poland and East Germany should blame the Americans for the reforms currently under way in Prague.

But the tone of the Krasnaya Zvezda editorial shocked even East European diplomats familiar with Communist double-talk. They interpreted it as a Soviet threat to employ armed force against Czechoslovakia.

"If and when the Russians and their allies decide to invade Czechoslovakia they will use the danger of American subversion as the pretext," one diplomat said.

Anticipating Moscow's charge of American complicity, Yugloslavia's leading newspaper Politika warned the Rusians not to turn the clock back. The West, especially the United States, can no longer be blamed for the ferment in Czechoslovakia, Romania and elsewhere in East Europe, Politika's editor said. "The time has come for the Communists to credit or blame themselves for everything good or bad that happens in their countries."

But the Rusians and their puppets must find a scapegoat for their troubles in East Europe. The essentially anti-Soviet upsurge in Czechoslovakia is too bitter a pill for them to swallow.

What's happening in Czechoslovakia may be the biggest crisis that the Brezhnev-Kosygin regime in Moscow has had to face since it came to power in 1964.

Premier Kosygin, who seems to be opposed to the use of force against Czechoslovakia, is even reported in some diplomatic circles to be on the way out.

The latest crisis in the Kremlin has actually been brewing since last June when Israel defeated the Arabs. Brezhnev and Kosygin were blamed for the failure of Soviet policy in the Middle East.

But in June the Kremlin's "collective leaders" were still working as a united team. With the support of the Red army they were strong enough to beat back the challenge of their opposition led by former Police Chief Alexander Shelepin.

Now Moscow's marshals and generals are believed to be backing the opposition. The military and Communist party hard-liners in Russia, Poland and East Germany fear that Czechoslovakia's eventual defection would result in the total disintegration of the Warsaw Pact military alliance.

More ominous for Czechoslovakia is the reported rift between the dovish Kosygin and Communist chief Brezhnev who is among those, in and out of Russia, who want to deal harshly with Czechoslovakia.

We are thus witnessing only the first act in the unfolding East European drama.

So far, the new Czechoslovakia leader, Alexander Dubcek, has played his cards cannily. He assured the Russians of his eternal friendship. He agreed to take part in Warsaw Pact military maneuvers. But he bluntly rejected Moscow's proposal to station 12,000 Russian and Polish troops in Czechoslovakia.

Dubcek is playing for time. But time may not be on his side unless the NATO allies warn Moscow not to embark on military adventures in East Europe.

Fear Keeps Tourists From Washington

By ROBERT H. FELDKAMP
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Nature's doses of sunshine and showers have made Washington a brilliant jewel on the banks of the Potomac this spring.

The buildings of government and the timeless monuments seem a little whiter, the parks a little greener, the air a little cleaner. Even the river has a sparkle that belies its age.

But tens of thousands of Americans will miss these joys this year. They're staying home, and out of fear.

To outsiders and some insiders, Washington has become a city of terror.

The fear is probably exaggerated. Any hard look at life in the capital must show that things aren't all that bad. The city has problems, but so do dozens of its counterparts.

Yet imagined or otherwise, the belief that Washington is a dangerous place has had a painful effect on the capital of the free world. Tourism, the second biggest industry here, is 25 per cent below what it was a year ago. Hotels and restaurants are hurting, merchants are griping. Congress and the federal bureaucracy are alarmed and the mood of the average person who lives and works here is one of unease.

The city has a bad case of nerves.

Many reasons exist for this, but eventually they all get back to one factor: racial unrest.

The early April riots after the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's murder set the capital on its ear. Losses from burning and looting now are pegged at $27,000,000. Fear of more trouble in a city two-thirds black has kept thousands of tourists away.

Police report that in the eight weeks since the riots there have been 92 suspected cases of arson and 112 arrests for looting. Most have occurred in the areas hard hit during the original outbreaks, police say. This has fed the unrest.

The Poor People's Campaign, with some 3,000 demonstrators already camped on the Mall and thousands more expected, also is scaring tourists. Strong fears exist, even among those in sympathy with the campaign, that a gathering this large can easily get out of hand and produce more violence.

Businessmen, some Congressmen and others have complained since the April riots that Washington is without sufficient police protection. Ironically, the publicity accompanying these complaints also turns away would-be visitors.

To counter them, President Johnson announced he was asking for 1,000 more policemen for the District of Columbia — a 30 per cent increase. This would up the force to about 4,100 men.

According to the D.C. crime commission, Washington already has the highest number of police per citizen in the country, near four per 1,000 citizens.

Crime in Washington is serious, but no more so than in many big cities. It seems worse here, observers note, because this is the capital. The FBI lists the metropolitan Washington crime rate as sixth among the 12 largest cities.

A partial bus strike followed the recent murder of a white driver by several Negro youths. Some drivers refused to drive at night, their union has been screaming and this also has grated the city's nerve ends.

"The unrest has certainly affected our business," said Leonard Hickman, executive vice-president of the Washington Hotel Ass'n. "It's too bad, because anyone spending any time here knows the situation isn't that serious."

Hickman said that the occupancy rate of the city's 43 largest hotels was down 20 per cent over April a year ago, this will be close to 25 per cent lower for May.

"One hotel manager told me he has 1:6 less employes than last year at this time," said Hickman. "His payroll is $30,000 less a month than it was. This means a loss to the District in taxes of $10,000 a month.

"You spread this over 43 hotels and the effect on the community is pretty darn stiff."

A somewhat more hopeful note was sounded by John S. Cockrell, executive vice-president of the local restaurant association. He said restaurant business was down about 15 per cent during April, but is picking up again.

"The Poor People's March hasn't been hurting us much," he said.

No Immediate Threat to U.S. Economy

By PHILIP MEYER
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — This town's experts in international finance see no immediate threat to the U.S. economy in the current gyrations in the value of the franc. They are more worried over the terms of the eventual French wage settlement.

The French economy is basically strong and there is no immediate danger that the franc will be devalued, as was the British pound last year, observers here say.

But the experts are still worried about the possible eventual effect on the U.S. economy. The General .... economy. The general view is that anything that causes instability in Western Europe can rock us as well.

"We're all in one big boat in this financial community," said one specialist in international economic affairs.

The United States has a vested interest in a strong franc, despite whatever differences we might have with President Charles De Gaulle and his administration.

"The important question is whether the International Monetary System is stronger or weaker with the French franc in trouble," explained one expert. "We have worked for many years to increase the inter-relationships of currencies and build up Europe so that her financial condition would permit her to take a stronger role in economic assistance to the less developed countries, financing world trade, and being a capital-exporting country.

"So here is a major currency that, because of this social unrest at home, is not able to play this role that it has just been getting actively into."

But the value of the franc is expected to return to normal as soon as Frenchmen go back to work. The thing to watch then will be the terms under which they go back.

If they get a substantial wage increase and a shorter work week, it will affect the competitive situation on French goods in the international market.

The U.S. faces the same problem every time there is a round of wage increases here.

So there is a temptation to root for the French working men and hope that they get a large enough settlement to make U.S. products more competitive with respect to those of France.

Only it's not that simple, a Washington specialist says.

"We don't say we benefit because they lose," he said. "It's not that kind of equation."

Any readjustment, he explained is going to affect the entire world economic structure, and there are so many possible outcomes that it is impossible to tell whether the U.S. would end up ahead or behind.

Arias Is Last Latin American Old-Style Leader

By DON BOHNING
Chicago Daily News Service

PANAMA CITY — Arnulfo Arias, Panama's president-elect, is among the last of Latin America's old-style leaders.

Victory of the suave, 67-year-old Arias was announced last week, 15 days after presidential elections marred by one of the most blatant attempts at fraud in recent Latin American history.

The announced margin for Arias, who takes office Oct. 1, was 41,000 votes out of 309,000 cast despite the intense manipulations on behalf of government - candidate David Samudio.

Arias' spell-binding oratory and magnetic personal appeal have swayed Panama's masses since the 1920s, just as his impulsive and sometimes erratic action have antagonized its upper clases.

His flirtations with Nazi Germany during his short-lived first presidency of 1940-41 also earned him the role of Uncle Sam's troublesome bad boy of Panamanian politics.

Time and circumstance, however, have come full circle.

During the election campaign, he was charged both with being a tool of the oligarchy and the candidate of the United States. Similar charges were made by Arias forces against the opposition.

His candidacy did, in fact, have the support of a portion of the country's ruling elite that decided it would rather switch to Arias than fight for Samudio.

Arias preached to Panamanians on the need to work and pay for what they get. "One of Latin America's greatest needs is an education in moral principles," he scolded.

He and his National Union coalition urged Panamanians to vote their ticket as an endorsement of "civil authority" and to repudiate draft treaties on the Panama Canal negotiated by the incumbent Robles government with the United States.

A businessman and coffee planter from lower middle-class background, Arias has twice been president of Panama and twice removed from office, the second time in 1951.

Soviets Find a Scapegoat

Blame Czech Defiance on U.S.

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (NEA)

The Russians have finally "discovered" that American imperialists are behind Czechoslovakia's unprecedented experiment in liberalism.

An editorial in Krasnaya Zvezda, mouthpiece of Moscow's marshals and generals, asserts the United States is seeking "to exploit for its own dirty purposes" the "internal processes" in Czechoslovakia.

It was inevitable that the Russians and their frightened puppets in Poland and East Germany should blame the Americans for the reforms currently under way in Prague.

But the tone of the Krasnaya Zvezda editorial shocked even East European diplomats familiar with Communist double-talk. They interpreted it as a Soviet threat to employ armed force against Czechoslovakia.

"If and when the Russians and their allies decide to invade Czechoslovakia they will use the danger of American subversion as the pretext," one diplomat said.

Anticipating Moscow's charge of American complicity, Yugoslavia's leading newspaper Politika warned the Rusians not to turn the clock back. The West, especially the United States, can no longer be blamed for the ferment in Czechoslovakia, Romania and elsewhere in East Europe, Politika's editor said. "The time has come for the Communists to credit or blame themselves for everything good or bad that happens in their countries."

But the Rusians and their puppets must find a scapegoat for their troubles in East Europe. The essentially anti-Soviet upsurge in Czechoslovakia is too bitter a pill for them to swallow.

What's happening in Czechoslovakia may be the biggest crisis that the Brezhnev-Kosygin regime in Moscow has had to face since it came to power in 1964.

Premier Kosygin, who seems to be opposed to the use of force against Czechoslovakia, is even reported in some diplomatic circles to be on the way out.

The latest crisis in the Kremlin has actually been brewing since last June when Israel defeated the Arabs. Brezhnev and Kosygin were blamed for the failure of Soviet policy in the Middle East.

But in June the Kremlin's "collective leaders" were still working as a united team. With the support of the Red army they were strong enough to beat back the challenge of their opposition led by former Police Chief Alexander Shelepin.

Now Moscow's marshals and generals are believed to be backing the opposition. The military and Communist party hard-liners in Russia, Poland and East Germany fear that Czechoslovakia's eventual defection would result in the total disintegration of the Warsaw Pact military alliance.

More ominous for Czechoslovakia is the reported rift between the dovish Kosygin and Communist chief Brezhnev who is among those, in and out of Russia, who want to deal harshly with Czechoslovakia.

We are thus witnessing only the first act in the unfolding East European drama.

So far, the new Czechoslovakia leader, Alexander Dubcek, has played his cards cannily. He assured the Russians of his eternal friendship. He agreed to take part in Warsaw Pact military maneuvers. But he bluntly rejected Moscow's proposal to station 12,000 Russian and Polish troops in Czechoslovakia.

Dubcek is playing for time. But time may not be on his side unless the NATO allies warn Moscow not to embark on military adventures in East Europe.

Fear Keeps Tourists From Washington

By ROBERT H. FELDKAMP
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Nature's doses of sunshine and showers have made Washington a brilliant jewel on the banks of the Potomac this spring.

The buildings of government and the timeless monuments seem a little whiter, the parks a little greener, the air a little cleaner. Even the river has a sparkle that belies its age.

But tens of thousands of Americans will miss these joys this year. They're staying home, and out of fear.

To outsiders and some insiders, Washington has become a city of terror.

The fear is probably exaggerated. Any hard look at life in the capital must show that things aren't all that bad. The city has problems, but so do dozens of its counterparts.

Yet imagined or otherwise, the belief that Washington is a dangerous place has had a painful effect on the capital of the free world. Tourism, the second biggest industry here, is 25 per cent below what it was a year ago. Hotels and restaurants are hurting, merchants are griping. Congress and the federal bureaucracy are alarmed and the mood of the average person who lives and works here is one of unease.

The city has a bad case of nerves.

Many reasons exist for this, but eventually they all get back to one factor: racial unrest.

The early April riots after the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King's murder set the capital on its ear. Losses from burning and looting now are pegged at $27,000,000. Fear of more trouble in a city two-thirds black has kept thousands of tourists away.

Police report that in the eight weeks since the riots there have been 92 suspected cases of arson and 112 arrests for looting. Most have occurred in the areas hard hit during the original outbreaks, police say. This has fed the unrest.

The Poor People's Campaign, with some 3,000 demonstrators already camped on the Mall and thousands more expected, also is scaring tourists. Strong fears exist, even among those in sympathy with the campaign, that a gathering this large can easily get out of hand and produce more violence.

Businessmen, some Congressmen and others have complained since the April riots that Washington is without sufficient police protection. Ironically, the publicity accompanying these complaints also turns away would-be visitors.

To counter them, President Johnson announced he was asking for 1,000 more policemen for the District of Columbia — a 30 per cent increase. This would up the force to about 4,100 men.

According to the D.C. crime commission, Washington already has the highest number of police per citizen in the country, near four per 1,000 citizens.

Crime in Washington is serious, but no more so than in many big cities. It seems worse here, observers note, because this is the capital. The FBI lists the metropolitan Washington crime rate as sixth among the 12 largest cities.

A partial bus strike followed the recent murder of a white driver by several Negro youths. Some drivers refused to drive at night, their union has been screaming, and this also has grated the city's nerve ends.

"The unrest has certainly affected our business," said Leonard Hickman, executive vice-president of the Washington Hotel Ass'n. "It's too bad, because anyone spending any time here knows the situation isn't that serious."

Hickman said that the occupancy rate of the city's 43 largest hotels was down 20 per cent over April a year ago, this will be close to 25 per cent lower for May.

"One hotel manager told me he has 1,6 less employes than last year at this time," said Hickman. "His payroll is $30,000 less a month than it was. This means a loss to the District in taxes of $10,000 a month.

"You spread this over 43 hotels and the effect on the community is pretty darn stiff."

A somewhat more hopeful note was sounded by John S. Cockrell, executive vice-president of the local restaurant association. He said restaurant business was down about 15 per cent during April, but is picking up again.

"The Poor People's March hasn't been hurting us much," he said.

No Immediate Threat to U.S. Economy

By PHILIP MEYER
Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — This town's experts in international finance see no immediate threat to the U.S. economy in the current gyrations in the value of the franc. They are more worried over the terms of the eventual French wage settlement.

The French economy is basically strong and there is no immediate danger that the franc will be devalued, as was the British pound last year, observers here say.

But the experts are still worried about the possible eventual effect on the U.S. economy. The General .... economy. The general view is that anything that causes instability in Western Europe can rock us as well.

"We're all in one big boat in this financial community," said one specialist in international economic affairs.

The United States has a vested interest in a strong franc, despite whatever differences we might have with President Charles De Gaulle and his administration.

"The important question is whether the International Monetary System is stronger or weaker with the French franc in trouble," explained one expert. "We have worked for many years to increase the inter-relationships of currencies and build up Europe so that her financial condition would permit her to take a stronger role in economic assistance to the less developed countries, financing world trade, and being a capital-exporting country.

"So here is a major currency that, because of this social unrest at home, is not able to play this role that it has just been getting actively into."

But the value of the franc is expected to return to normal as soon as Frenchmen go back to work. The thing to watch then will be the terms under which they go back.

If they get a substantial wage increase and a shorter work week, it will affect the competitive situation on French goods in the international market.

The U.S. faces the same problem every time there is a round of wage increases here.

So there is a temptation to root for the French working men and hope that they get a large enough settlement to make U.S. products more competitive with respect to those of France.

Only it's not that simple, a Washington specialist says.

"We don't say we benefit because they lose," he said. "It's not that kind of equation."

Any readjustment, he explained is going to affect the entire world economic structure, and there are so many possible outcomes that it is impossible to tell whether the U.S. would end up ahead or behind.

Arias Is Last Latin American Old-Style Leader

By DON BOHNING
Chicago Daily News Service

PANAMA CITY — Arnulfo Arias, Panama's president-elect, is among the last of Latin America's old-style leaders.

Victory of the suave, 67-year-old Arias was announced last week, 15 days after presidential elections marred by one of the most blatant attempts at fraud in recent Latin American history.

The announced margin for Arias, who takes office Oct. 1, was 41,000 votes out of 309,000 cast despite the intense manipulations on behalf of government - candidate David Samudio.

Arias' spell-binding oratory and magnetic personal appeal have swayed Panama's masses since the 1920s, just as his impulsive and sometimes erratic action have antagonized its upper clases.

His flirtations with Nazi Germany during his short-lived first presidency of 1940-41 also earned him the role of Uncle Sam's troublesome bad boy of Panamanian politics.

Time and circumstance, however, have come full circle.

During the election campaign, he was charged both with being a tool of the oligarchy and the candidate of the United States. Similar charges were made by Arias forces against the opposition.

His candidacy did, in fact, have the support of a portion of the country's ruling elite that decided it would rather switch to Arias than fight for Samudio.

Arias preached to Panamanians on the need to work and pay for what they get. "One of Latin America's greatest needs is an education in moral principles," he scolded.

He and his National Union coalition urged Panamanians to vote their ticket as an endorsement of "civil authority" and to repudiate draft treaties on the Panama Canal negotiated by the incumbent Robles government with the United States.

A businessman and coffee planter from lower middle-class background, Arias has twice been president of Panama and twice removed from office, the second time in 1951.

In Rosendale: Hearing Or Just a Happening

By LYNN MULVANEY

A two-hour public hearing on a proposed trailer ordinance for the Town of Rosendale took place last night only there wasn't any ordinance to consider.

Despite that fact that the town attorney, William Curran failed to draft the ordinance in time for the hearing, 14 out of the 28 persons in attendance, argued the pros and cons of trailer life as well as trailer ordinances continually.

No decisions could be reached however, for their was not even agreement among members of the town board as to what minimum lot size they wished to see incorporated in the ordinance. Some thought an acre was necessary, others felt that amount of land was to stiff a requirement and they suggested 110 x 120 or 12,000 square feet.

Expected Draft

According to Supervisor Gerard De Felicis, he expected Curran to have a rough draft of the ordinance to present at the hearing which would provide stopgap measures until the planning board determines a new zoning ordinance for the town. De Felicis said a trailer ordiance was necessary in order to provide for the orderly development of the town.

IN ROSENDALE—2—(Today)

Although most of those present did not agree with him, one spectator and former member of the planning board did.

James Hicks created bedlam and angry shouts of "No, No," when he told everyone present, "You're going to have it (a trailer ordinance) like it or not!"

The trailer enthusiasts, which included Mrs. Fred Sagar and her son Donald of Creek Locks, said they thought it was wrong that residents are regimented by a town board.

Lots of houses are less attractive than some trailers, she said.

Other trailer residents contended that they pay taxes and are entitled to do what they wish to with their land.

Only to New Trailers

It was pointed out by De Felicis that the proposed ordinance would only apply to new trailers coming into town and would not affect those already located.

The supervisor asked the town board members to confer with the planning board in order to determine lot size requirements for the trailer ordinance before the town attorney drafts the measure.

He said he did not feel another public hearing was neccessary because of the one advertised which took place last night.

Today however there are those who question whether last night's happening was in effect a hearing when there was no ordinance to consider.

73 Columbia Students Suspended for Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventy-three Columbia University students have been suspended for at least a year because of their conduct during the demonstrations and disorders that crippled the 25,000-student university for weeks.

University president Grayson Kirk, who announced the suspension Wednesday, said they were not ordered "in a vindictive spirit, but in consciousness of the administration's duty to those who pursue their studies here now and to those who will follow."

"Columbia," he added, "will continue to welcome the free expression of dissent on campus and in its classrooms, but it will not tolerate to any degree whatever, infraction of the university's rules of civilized conduct, nor any attempt to violate the rights of any individuals in their legitimate pursuits here."

The Strike Coordinating Committee, led by the Students for a Democratic Society, said of the suspensions Wednesday night:

"This shows there is no change at all in the attitude of the administration toward the students and faculty. President Kirk has proceeded to disregard the wishes of many of the faculty and most of the students."

Kirk said in his announcement that each suspended student will have a right to appeal.

Brandow Hails $6 Billon Cut In U.S. Budget

The capitulation of President Johnson to the demands of Congress by agreeing to slash six billion dollars from the budget was hailed today as: "late but essential," by Neal Brandow, Greene County Republican chairman and unofficial Republican chairman of the 28th Congressional District.

"Ham Fish, our Republican candidate for congress was calling for this six billion dollar budget cut two years ago," Brandow said "Congress demanded it six months ago. And, although it is late, it is essential."

"Ham was pointing out two years ago the dangers of inflation, and the financial crises that can be caused by two 20 billion dollar budget deficits two years in a row.

"It is the position of the Republican Party in the 28th Congressional, that we need men with the vision and understanding of Ham Fish Jr. in Congress," Brandow said.

The five-county Republican chairman said that he believed it possible to recapture the 28th District Congressional seat this year. "I dont necessarily believe it will be easy, but I feel our people are ready for a change. I tnink we can all be pretty thankful we have a man like Ham Fish Jr., ready to make the fight he is making for the seat."

Rosendale Man Charged In Theft of $63,000

OWEGO, N.Y. (UPI)—A municipal examiner for the State Department of Audit and Control was charged Wednesday with third degree grand larceny in the theft of $63,000 in negotiable bonds and coupons from the Tioga central school system and the Orange County city of Port Jervis.

Thomas P. Stenson, 34, of R.D. 1, Rosendale, Ulster County, was ordered held in Tioga County jail in lieu of $2,500 bail after he waived a preliminary hearing at his arraignment before Peace Justice William Stiles.

His case was expected to be turned over to a grand jury later this week.

Police said the Tioga bonds and coupons have been missing over a period of time since 1960. The Port Jervis bonds and coupons were reported missing over a period of time since 1964.

Ray Asks Council Session on Cars

Responding to Tuesday's Common Council defeat of three of his proposals, Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan requested Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo to call the council back in session to "pass my request for new police cars."

The mayor had been critized at the council meeting for placing a $19,000 order for the police vehicles from Franz Rambler without consulting the council.

Reportedly, aldermen did not question the need for the law enforcement vehicles but they could not accept the mayor's method of implementing the purchase.

Tenth Ward Alderman Peter Fisher claimed that the "executive branch is taking over," and that the aldermen were "being ignored."

In a letter to Gallo, Garraghan urged that the council be called back in session "the week of June 10."

As for the defeat of the street resurfacing program, Garraghan said, "If the members of the Common Council want a more elaborate program to please their political ego, it is all right with me.

"Prior to the date that you recall the Common Council in session, you, or any member of the council, have the privilege to discuss such elaborate programs with the city engineer or the superintendent of the Board of Public Works," the mayor stated.

Garraghan added, "For your information, with a $100,000 street program, and the payment of $90,000 for a fire truck that has been ordered, the city indebtedness in bonds and notes is down $406,711 since Jan. 1, 1966."

The mayor further added, "I realize some of the members of the council are 'lame ducks' and may not have any real interest in the city's future, but they cannot blame that part of their history on me."

In Rosendale: Hearing Or Just a Happening

By LYNN MULVANEY

A two-hour public hearing on a proposed trailer ordinance for the Town of Rosendale took place last night only there wasn't any ordinance to consider.

Despite that fact that the town attorney, William Curran failed to draft the ordinance in time for the hearing, 14 out of the 28 persons in attendance, argued the pros and cons of trailer life as well as trailer ordinances continually.

No decisions could be reached however, for their was not even agreement among members of the town board as to what minimum lot size they wished to see incorporated in the ordinance. Some thought an acre was necessary, others felt that amount of land was to stiff a requirement and they suggested 110 x 120 or 12,000 square feet.

Expected Draft

According to Supervisor Gerard De Felicis, he expected Curran to have a rough draft of the ordinance to present at the hearing which would provide stopgap measures until the planning board determines a new zoning ordinance for the town. De Felicis said a trailer ordiance was necessary in order to provide for the orderly development of the town.

IN ROSENDALE—2—(Today)

Although most of those present did not agree with him, one spectator and former member of the planning board did.

James Hicks created bedlam and angry shouts of "No, No," when he told everyone present, "You're going to have it (a trailer ordinance) like it or not!"

The trailer enthusiasts, which included Mrs. Fred Sagar and her son Donald of Creek Locks, said they thought it was wrong that residents are regimented by a town board.

Lots of houses are less attractive than some trailers, she said.

Other trailer residents contended that they pay taxes and are entitled to do what they wish to with their land.

Only to New Trailers

It was pointed out by De Felicis that the proposed ordinance would only apply to new trailers coming into town and would not affect those already located.

The supervisor asked the town board members to confer with the planning board in order to determine lot size requirements for the trailer ordinance before the town attorney drafts the measure.

He said he did not feel another public hearing was necessary because of the one advertised which took place last night.

Today however there are those who question whether last night's happening was in effect a hearing when there was no ordinance to consider.

73 Columbia Students Suspended for Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Seventy-three Columbia University students have been suspended for at least a year because of their conduct during the demonstrations and disorders that crippled the 25,000-student university for weeks.

University president Grayson Kirk, who announced the suspension Wednesday, said they were not ordered "in a vindictive spirit, but in consciousness of the administration's duty to those who pursue their studies here now and to those who will follow."

"Columbia," he added, "will continue to welcome the free expression of dissent on campus and in its classrooms, but it will not tolerate to any degree whatever, infraction of the university's rules of civilized conduct, nor any attempt to violate the rights of any individuals in their legitimate pursuits here."

The Strike Coordinating Committee, led by the Students for a Democratic Society, said of the suspensions Wednesday night:

"This shows there is no change at all in the attitude of the administration toward the students and faculty. President Kirk has proceeded to disregard the wishes of many of the faculty and most of the students."

Kirk said in his announcement that each suspended student will have a right to appeal.

Rosendale Man Charged In Theft of $63,000

OWEGO, N.Y. (UPI)—A municipal examiner for the State Department of Audit and Control was charged Wednesday with third degree grand larceny in the theft of $63,000 in negotiable bonds and coupons from the Tioga central school system and the Orange County city of Port Jervis.

Thomas P. Stenson, 34, of R.D. 1, Rosendale, Ulster County, was ordered held in Tioga County jail in lieu of $2,500 bail after he waived a preliminary hearing at his arraignment before Peace Justice William Stiles.

His case was expected to be turned over to a grand jury later this week.

State police investigators said Stenson was accused of taking $18,000 in school construction bond coupons from the school system and $45,000 in negotiable bonds and coupons from Port Jervis.

Police said the Tioga bonds and coupons have been missing over a period of time since 1960. The Port Jervis bonds and coupons were reported missing over a period of time since 1964.

Ray Asks Council Session on Cars

Responding to Tuesday's Common Council defeat of three of his proposals, Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan requested Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo to call the council back in session to "pass my request for new police cars."

The mayor had been critized at the council meeting for placing a $19,000 order for the police vehicles from Franz Rambler without consulting the council.

Reportedly, aldermen did not question the need for the law enforcement vehicles but they could not accept the mayor's method of implementing the purchase.

Tenth Ward Alderman Peter Fisher claimed that the "executive branch is taking over," and that the aldermen were "being ignored."

In a letter to Gallo, Garraghan urged that the council be called back in session "the week of June 10."

As for the defeat of the street resurfacing program, Garraghan said, "If the members of the Common Council want a more elaborate program to please their political ego, it is all right with me.

"Prior to the date that you recall the Common Council in session, you, or any member of the council, have the privilege to discuss such elaborate programs with the city engineer or the superintendent of the Board of Public Works," the mayor stated.

Garraghan added, "For your information, with a $100,000 street program, and the payment of $90,000 for a fire truck that has been ordered, the city indebtedness in bonds and notes is down $406,711 since Jan. 1, 1966."

The mayor further added, "I realize some of the members of the council are 'lame ducks' and may not have any real interest in the city's future, but they cannot blame that part of their history on me."

Brandow Hails $6 Billon Cut In U.S. Budget

The capitulation of President Johnson to the demands of Congress by agreeing to slash six billion dollars from the budget was hailed today as "late but essential," by Neal Brandow, Greene County Republican chairman and unofficial Republican chairman of the 28th Congressional District.

"Ham Fish, our Republican candidate for congress was calling for this six billion dollar budget cut two years ago," Brandow said. "Congress demanded it six months ago. And, although it is late, it is essential."

"Ham was pointing out two years ago the dangers of inflation, and the financial crises that can be caused by two 20 billion dollar budget deficits two years in a row.

"It is the position of the Republican Party in the 28th Congressional, that we need men with the vision and understanding of Ham Fish Jr. in Congress," Brandow said.

The five-county Republican chairman said that he believed it possible to recapture the 28th District Congressional seat this year. "I dont necessarily believe it will be easy, but I feel our people are ready for a change. I tnink we can all be pretty thankful we have a man like Ham Fish Jr., ready to make the fight he is making for the seat."

Divirsify Single Holding In Order to Minimize Worry

Q—Four years ago you told me to hold Franklin National Bank. Your advice paid off. Now I'm worried with all my eggs in one basket — 2,300 shares. Is Franklin selling out to Meadow Brook?—R.K.

A—I think you've confused your bank mergers. Meadow Brook in May, 1967, was merged into National Bank of North America. Soon afterward, Franklin merged with Federation Bank & Trust, acquiring 13 New York City branches and making it this country's 18th largest bank. Share earnings have moved up steadily since 1964, with another boost expected this year. Aggressive management has expanded operations here and abroad and introduced new consumer services. Bank stocks may lack the glamour of high-flyers, yet investor favor is turning their way again, attracted by higher earnings.

If you can sell Franklin profitably, I'd cut back to 500 shares, putting some of your capital into American Telephone, Jersey Standard and Warner-Lambert for moderate growth potential and income. I also recommend worry-proof bonds, all selling below par. You can protect your heirs by owning U. S. Treasury 3¼s of 1985 or 3½s of 1990, yielding over 5 per cent and accepted at par for payment of federal estate taxes. Yields over 6 per cent are available on AA-rated Detroit Edison 3⅜s of 1976 and No. States Power 4¼s of 1986.

Q—How come you never mention high-return St. Joe Lead? —R.M.

A—You must have missed my recommendation of St. Joe last October, in reply to a reader needing more income. The dividend is presently well-covered but the high yield means the stock market is discounting uncertainties in the lead and zinc commodity markets. Net income for 1967 slipped below the 1965 level and could drop again this year despite an encouraging start partially due to strike conditions affecting competitors. This stock, in my opinion, is not attractive except for income; and if earnings continue downward, the dividend could be reduced.

A Single Clue

NEW DELHI (AP) — A merchant left his bag containing 35,000 rupees ($4,900) in the tonga (a horse-drawn carriage) in which he rode to work. The only clue he could give detectives was that the driver kept murmuring a Hindu-Moslem unity slogan.

Two detectives went to a few major tonga stands with that clue, and the tonga was soon located, along with the money bag, which the tonga driver had not noticed.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices today opened mixed in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Says Mercury Compounds Killed Several Fishermen

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A Japanese scientist said Wednesday that mercury compounds dumped by industries into waterways killed several fishermen in his country, and could kill valuable fish and wildlife populations.

Dr. Tsuguyoshi Suzuki of the University of Tokyo's School of Health Sciences said a number of Japanese fishermen died mysteriously 10 years ago. Their deaths were found to be caused by mercury poisoning, he said, picked up when they ate clams that had absorbed industrial mercury compounds dumped into the water by industry.

Suzuki addressed the first Rochester Conference on Toxicity. The conference is sponsored by the University of Rochester's Department of Radiation Biology and Biophysics.

Suzuki said his research showed that methyl mercury and ethyl mercury, used to prevent moulds forming on stored paper and grains, were the main sources of mercury poisoning in fish and wildlife.

Alf G. Johnels of Stockholm, Sweden, said his country had successfully lowered the amount of mercury compounds in its lakes and rivers by forbidding their use in the grain and paper industries.

The director of Sweden's National Museum of Natural History said the amount of mercury compounds in the environment rose sharply after World War II. In the two years since the ban on mercury compounds has been in effect the amount of mercury in the soil had dropped to the levels of the 1930s, he said.

The University of Rochester radiation biology department is concerned with safe handling of radioactive materials and the effects of these materials and other toxic substances such as pesticides on man and the animals upon which he depends for food.

Successful Investing....

Divirsify Single Holding In Order to Minimize Worry

Q—Four years ago you told me to hold Franklin National Bank. Your advice paid off. Now I'm worried with all my eggs in one basket — 2,300 shares. Is Franklin selling out to Meadow Brook?—R.K.

A—I think you've confused your bank mergers. Meadow Brook in May, 1967, was merged into National Bank of North America. Soon afterward, Franklin merged with Federation Bank & Trust, acquiring 13 New York City branches and making it this country's 18th largest bank. Share earnings have moved up steadily since 1964, with another boost expected this year. Aggressive management has expanded operations here and abroad and introduced new consumer services. Bank stocks may lack the glamour of high-flyers, yet investor favor is turning their way again, attracted by higher earnings.

If you can sell Franklin profitably, I'd cut back to 500 shares, putting some of your capital into American Telephone, Jersey Standard and Warner-Lambert for moderate growth potential and income. I also recommend worry-proof bonds, all selling below par. You can protect your heirs by owning U. S. Treasury 3¼s of 1985 or 3½s of 1990, yielding over 5 per cent and accepted at par for payment of federal estate taxes. Yields over 6 per cent are available on AA-rated Detroit Edison 3⅜s of 1976 and No. States Power 4¼s of 1986.

Q—How come you never mention high-return St. Joe Lead? —R.M.

A—You must have missed my recommendation of St. Joe last October, in reply to a reader needing more income. The dividend is presently well-covered but the high yield means the stock market is discounting uncertainties in the lead and zinc commodity markets. Net income for 1967 slipped below the 1965 level and could drop again this year despite an encouraging start partially due to strike conditions affecting competitors. This stock, in my opinion, is not attractive except for income; and if earnings continue downward, the dividend could be reduced.

A Single Clue

NEW DELHI (AP) — A merchant left his bag containing 35,000 rupees ($4,900) in the tonga (a horse-drawn carriage) in which he rode to work. The only clue he could give detectives was that the driver kept murmuring a Hindu-Moslem unity slogan.

Two detectives went to a few major tonga stands with that clue, and the tonga was soon located, along with the money bag, which the tonga driver had not noticed.

Sir Winston's Son Succumbs

LONDON (UPI) — Randolph Churchill, son of Sir Winston Churchill, died Wednesday night, it was announced today. He was 57.

Randolph, Sir Winston's only son, was a journalist and writer.

He also was his father's official biographer and had completed two volumes and was working on a third when he died.

He was born May 28, 1911, as Randolph Frederick Edward Spencer Churchill. During his lifetime he made five forays into politics—none of them successful.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices today opened mixed in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

Wall Street observers did not foresee too much selling following the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy since many investors sold late Wednesday on this eventuality. But emotional selling could affect the list in early dealings.

Shortly after the opening bell, the United Press International tacked on 0.06 per cent with 621 issues traded. There were 255 advances and 213 declines.

Armco lost ⅜ to 51. National Steel opened unchanged at 47½.

Chrysler rose ¼ to 67⅞ in the mixed autos. General Motors gave up ¼ to 81½. American Motors slipped ¼ to 12¾.

United Aircraft fell 1 to 68. Lockheed lost ¼ to 57½. Eastman Kodak dipped a fraction in the chemicals. Allied Chemical tacked on ¼ to 36⅝.

MINILINER SERVICE—Aero Lake Airport was virtually a beehive of activity on Sunday when open house was observed to allow the public to inspect the Aero Commander, first of a fleet of Miniliners. Licensed as an air carrier under Federal Air Regulations, Mountain Airways inaugurated scheduled flights from Kingston to Kennedy Airport. Frank Bloom (c), chief pilot, explains to Mr. and Mrs. William VanEtten that only twin-engine aircraft with all-weather capability will be used. All instrument weather will be flown with two pilots aboard, although the plane is equipped for operation by one pilot. Mountain Airways will observe a minimum takeoff visibility of one mile and 300-foot ceiling. An airborne radar transponder provides Air Route Traffic Control Centers for positive separation and circumnavigation of severe weather. Microservice, a Cessna 336 twin engine seating four in addition to the crew, will be used as back up for the miniliner, which is cared for every evening in a maintenance shop every 50 flying hours and completely inspected according to FAA standards every 100 flying hours. Bloom said runway lighting will be installed in six weeks. Flying will be limited to daylight until that improvement. Plans are to expand flying service of Mountain Airways. Byman Named Test Manager At IBM Boulder

The promotion of Edward C. Byman to Product Test manager at the IBM Systems Development Division Laboratory in Boulder, Colorado, has been announced.

Byman joined IBM in July 1950 in customer engineering at Hartford, Conn. He became a member of the SAGE field engineering organization at Poughkeepsie in 1952, and three years later transferred to Kingston as a technical assistant in field engineering. He was named eastern field division manager in 1956 and then served in a similar capacity in the western field division. In 1959, he was transferred in that capacity to form the western field division in Denver, Colo.

In 1960 Byman returned to Kingston as administrator of the IBM 7030 (STRETCH) system program and was appointed field engineering manager at Kingston the following year. He was named system implementation manager in 1962, and in late 1963, Federal Systems Division resident manager.

EDWARD C. BYMAN

In 1964 he was named special Products Program manager in the Systems Development Division Lab at Kingston, and became Operations manager, Graphics Systems, also at the Kingston Laboratory, in 1966, a position he has held until his present promotion.

Byman received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from the University of Connecticut. He is a member of Eta Kappa Nu and Tau Beta Pi, honorary societies. Grand Union Notes Steady Sales Gains for 11 Weeks

Charles G. Rodman, president and chief executive officer of The Grand Union Company, has reported to stockholders that sales of the large food and general merchandising retailing chain were $206,274,000 for the first 11 weeks of its 1968 fiscal year, up 12.6 per cent compared to a year ago.

Twenty-six Grand Union supermarkets averaging 21,000 square feet in size are expected to be opened this year, and 20 food stores will be enlarged and 15 renovated. Three new Grand Way general merchandise stores will be put into operation in 1968.

Grand Union's sales in fiscal 1967 increased 11 per cent, or by nearly $100 million to a new high of $935,863,768. Net profit for the year was a record $11,380,042.

Emerson E. Brightman, executive vice president in charge of the company's supermarket division, reported that sales vitality had picked up during 1967 and carried over into the early weeks of 1968. He added that the company's efforts this year would be concentrated on large one-stop food shopping centers in the 22 to 30-thousand foot class.

Thomas C. Butler, chairman, commented on the seriousness of the inflationary situation affecting U.S. business, and told stockholders the passage of a personal and corporate income tax surcharge, coupled with a reduction of 4 to 6 billion dollars in federal spending should in a long run, help to brake inflation. Commenting on current social unrest in the country, Butler said that Grand Union was doing its part in the drive by business and industry to provide equal economic opportunity to all citizens.

MINILINER SERVICE—Aero Lake Airport was virtually a beehive of activity on Sunday when open house was observed to allow the public to inspect the Aero Commander, first of a fleet of Miniliners. Licensed as an air carrier under Federal Air Regulations, Mountain Airways inaugurated scheduled flights from Kingston to Kennedy Airport. Frank Bloom (c), chief pilot, explains to Mr. and Mrs. William VanEtten that only twin-engine aircraft with all-weather capability will be used. All instrument weather will be flown with two pilots aboard, although the plane is equipped for operation by one pilot. Mountain Airways will observe a minimum takeoff visibility of one mile and 300-foot ceiling. An airborne radar transponder provides Air Route Traffic Control Centers for positive separation and circumnavigation of severe weather. Microservice, a Cessna 336 twin engine seating four in addition to the crew, will be used as back up for the miniliner, which is cared for every evening in a maintenance shop every 50 flying hours and completely inspected according to FAA standards every 100 flying hours. Bloom said runway lighting will be installed in six weeks. Flying will be limited to daylight until that improvement. Plans are to expand flying service of Mountain Airways. Open Campaign Style Might Be Finished

By WALTER R. MEARS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In America, the men who would be president have walked freely among the people whose votes they sought.

But can they now, after Robert F. Kennedy was fatally shot by a gunman who lurked among cheering supporters?

The bullet which crashed into Kennedy's brain already has changed, and could doom, the free and open campaign style.

Kennedy based his campaign for the White House on the argument that the people, not politicians, should choose the Democratic nominee. He walked through surging crowds, a friend and former FBI agent named Bill Barry often his only shield.

Los Angeles Police Chief Thomas Reddin said after the Kennedy shooting that the New Yorker's campaign forces had twice turned down offers of police protection for their candidate. Reddin said candidates do not normally want policemen around them, for they want no barrier against the voter.

But now?

Even as Kennedy lay on the operating table in a Los Angeles hospital, President Johnson made a major change in the campaign security system.

He ordered the Secret Service to assign a protective detail to each major candidate, borrowing from other federal law enforcement agencies as necessary.

And agents were swiftly deployed, to Good Samaritan Hospital where Kennedy was under care, and to join the other candidates.

The White House said the directive meant protection would be provided for McCarthy; Republicans Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Harold E. Stassen; and for third-party contender George C. Wallace as well.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, because of his office, already had Secret Service bodyguards.

Humphrey and McCarthy: An Uneven Race Seen Now

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's death has removed in a tragic manner the chief challenger to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

With the New York senator's death, the fateful 1968 election year turned a fatal corner and left what many observers see as an uneven race between Humphrey and his fellow Minnesotan, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Although the Humphrey name has not appeared on any primary ballots, he claims to have built up a long lead by picking up delegates in the tough backstage battles in the nonprimary states while Kennedy and McCarthy were battling it out in primaries.

Many observers felt only the Kennedy mystique and dash could overcome Humphrey's strong base of Democratic "establishment" support among party leaders and labor unions.

Refused to Speculate

Humphrey and his aides had refused to speculate on the political impact of the Kennedy shooting and, along with McCarthy, clamped an indefinite moratorium on campaigning even before the senator's death.

"We think it's not only inappropriate to speculate," said a Humphrey aide, "we think it's offensive."

After the Kennedy shooting, a strategist said, Humphrey aides sent appeals to supporters asking that planned caucuses of Ohio and Michigan delegations, where the vice president hoped to nail down more support, be postponed.

And the strategist said, Humphrey called off plans to begin campaigning in New York for the Empire State's primary. He canceled a schedule calling for him to open his California campaign June 13.

McCarthy, returning to Washington Wednesday night, said he would confer with President Johnson and the vice president "before taking on other political activities of any kind."

Has 274½ Votes

A Humphrey aide had said the vice president would welcome a meeting with his old friend and political ally from Minnesota.

Even while competing for the Democratic nomination, Humphrey and McCarthy have reportedly continued to have private chats.

Violence in U.S.: TragicPhenomenon

By DONALD G. COHEN

"We are a violent people with a violent history, and the instinct for violence has seeped into the bloodstream of our national life," said Arthur Schlesinger Jr., the Pulitzer Prize winning historian and an aide to the late President John F. Kennedy.

"The whole culture has changed the violence syndrome into a cool, guiltless routine of disposing of problems by disposing of the people who cause the problems," said Albert Bandura, a psychologist and professor at Stanford University.

"I don't weep often, but today, in this beautiful sunshine, I wept for my country that has declined so much in its morality and spirituality," said evangelist Billy Graham.

"What in the nature of our people and the environment of our society makes possible such murder and violence?" asked President Johnson in announcing the appointment of a high-level commission to study violence in America—"this tragic phenomenon."

These men all spoke Wednesday in the flush of disbelief that swept the nation after the assassination attempt upon Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. They spoke in sorrow, but they spoke with reason and restraint.

They expressed the increasingly widespread belief that violence is not an occasional isolated tragedy, but is ingrained—perhaps irreversibly—in the fabric of American life.

Black power advocate H. Rap Brown said it several months ago:

"Violence is as American as cherry pie."

Psychologists, sociologists, educators, historians, clergymen replying to a UPI survey seemed to agree.

And some statistics seemed to bear them out.

Last year in America, some 5,600 persons died of gunshot wounds. In Britain there were fewer than 30 in Belgium fewer than 12, in France fewer than 20, according to Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md.

"It's instance," he said. "You talk about the good old pioneer days . . . but we don't live in the old pioneer days when everybody's a vigilante and you shoot them up.

"I think we've got to come to our senses."

Dr. David Abrahamsen, a governor of the Lemberg Center for the Study of Violence at Brandeis University, said Americans not only condone violence, "We love it."

"We love to fight. The frontier days made the gun manly," he said. "In France they can riot for three weeks and only two people get killed. Can you imagine how many would have been killed here?"

"We're not a melting pot, we're a damned pressure cooker. Our society is not built on the restraints of family or class, it's built on success. If you don't have it, you're frustrated.

"Frustration. The wet nurse of violence."

Several authorities said that television and other mass media must share the blame for the violence syndrome in the nation.

Dr. Herbert A. Otto, a Chicago psychologist, said the continued stress on violence by mass media is making "America accept violent acts as commonplace."

A recent study of 195 television cartoons, he said, showed 1,430 acts of violence, including killings, physical assaults, verbal assaults and harmful pranks.

"The most impressionable members of the nation, the youth of America, can often be found viewing cartoons where violence is being perpetrated at about the rate of one violent incident every 50 seconds," Otto said.

Conservatives Of Saugerties To Hear Liddy

G. GORDON LIDDY

G. Gordon Liddy, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the 28th Congressional District, will be the guest speaker at the Saugerties Conservative Club at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, June 11 at the VFW Hall, Livingston Street, Saugerties.

Liddy is opposing Hamilton Fish Jr. for the nomination in the June 18 primary. He is presently assistant district attorney of Dutchess County, maintaining his office in Poughkeepsie.

The 37-year-old Liddy is a former FBI agent who later served as a supervisor at FBI headquarters in Washington. He assumed his present post as assistant district attorney of Dutchess County in 1966.

Frank X. Greimel Jr., president of the Saugerties Conservative Club, stated that "Narcotics has been one of G. Gordon Liddy's greatest concerns. His success in prosecuting those who sell and profit by the use of narcotics has been outstanding. Liddy would be one of only a few Congressman with a law enforcement background. We welcome all citizens of the county to hear and talk with him at our meeting." Refreshments will be served.

Liddy, appearing Tuesday before the Red Hook Rotary Club, unleashed his strongest attack to date against lawless disorder and crime in the streets, describing riots " . . . as a disgraceful national monument."

The 37-year-old Poughkeepsie crimefighter said, "Drug abuse, crime, riots and civil plunder stand as the nation's monument to waning respect for law and order." He termed today's explosive situation "close to anarchy," and warned against "1930-style gangsterism."

Referring to a recent visit to Washington, D.C., Liddy declared, "The Nation's Capital has become Crimedom-USA. Famous Dupont Circle and historic Georgetown are infested with hippies, drug addicts and the general run of cheap hoodlums that make the streets unsafe after dark."

Scoring riots, Liddy stated, "Under the guise of social protest, the most hideous crimes are being committed, and explained to the public as progressive change. Arson and looting might be a change, but this behavior isn't progressive. It's crime and it must be stopped."

Heavy Votes

Wendell Willkie polled more popular votes (22,305,198), than any other Republican presidential candidate in history when he ran against President Roosevelt in 1940. Dwight Eisenhower topped the record by almost 10 million when he was elected in 1952.

Mino Approves Bid for Youthful Offender Move

An application for youthful offender treatment in the case of Ignazio M. Borsina Jr., 16, of Highland, charged in a series of alleged burglaries at Highland High School was approved in county court Wednesday by Judge Raymond J. Mino.

Borsina is charged in a grand jury indictment with burglary, third degree, four counts; criminal trespass, second, three counts and criminal mischief, third, three counts.

The charges stem from the alleged entry at the High school in January and February. Police said he gained entry by breaking a door window. He was reportedly caught in the act at one occasion by Town of Lloyd Constable Allen Phillips. Authorities said desks were ransacked and $3.10 in cash was taken.

Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher appeared for the DA's office.

The $60,000 Budget Reduction for Onteora— Taxpayer Group Member Not Sure of Reaction

"It remains to be seen whether the voters in the Onteora School District will stand for only a $60,000 reduction of the originally proposed budget—leaving an increase of $425,794 over 1967-68," said Nathaniel O. Robinson, member of the board of directors of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association, following a revised budget presentation.

Robinson said the reduction would "still leave a net increase to be raised by additional property taxes of $238,580 in addition to the already high school taxes."

The revised budget is to be submitted to voters June 13, replacing one voted down in May.

The original budget proposed expenditures of $3,936,879., an increase of $484, 963. over the 1967-68 budget. The revised budget is down 1.47 per cent.

In reporting on the Board of Education budget hearing, Robinson said,

"In explaining their inability to make further reductions the school board members pointed out that the teaching expenses, chiefly teachers' salaries, once set, carry a state-mandated annual increase of $250 per year for 12 years. Also, there are mandated and contracted additional expenses of mandated retirement benefits, Social Security payments and Employe Health Insurance. This means that unless teaching personnel is reduced, there will be a continued, annual increase in the major expense, i.e., teachers' salaries and mandated benefits.

"It was also brought out that in the not too distant future there may be calls for the erection of additional buildings, adding to the fixed charges, overhead, and interest payments. Practically 65 per cent of the funds are raised by property taxes—some 32 per cent is furnished by state aid, which, of course, comes out of the State Income Taxes, but is less than one-half of the money raised by the property tax.

One Possible Solution

"The school board members, the educational staff, and members of the public can see only one possible solution to the outmoded manner of raising school monies, and that is by having all of the major part of the tax on property shifted to the state income tax. It is obvious that a property tax works extreme hardship on people owning their own homes and living on fixed incomes. While Federal taxes, State taxes, County and Town taxes rise and inflation increases, the persons on fixed incomes are dangerously caught in a squeeze; also the school taxes are increasing rapidly and undoubtedly will continue to do so. However, federal and state income taxes are based on income—ability to pay—but county, town, and school taxes are based on arbitrary assessed values."

800 Attend Scout Camporee At Tri-Mount

Over 800 Scouts, Explorers, leaders and staff attended the Rip Van Winkle Council Camporee at Tri-Mount Scout Reservation recently. Thirty nine troops and 4 explorer posts were represented in this tremendous gathering of Scouts for a weekend of camping, fun and activity.

The program included demonstrations by individual Scout units Saturday morning. These demonstrations were judged on the basis of action, outdoorsmanship, uniforming, boy leadership and Scout participation. They included such varied exhibits as Indian Dancing, Monkey Bridges, Dutch Oven Cooking, and Axemanship. Outstanding demonstrations were performed by Troop 58 of Ashland, Troop 16 of Stone Ridge, Troop 14 of Lake Katrine and Troop 63 of Shokan.

The afternoon program consisted of challenge events including wood splitting, lashing, flint and steel, pineapple toss, log pulling, first aid carry and a "Chain Gang" race. The Scouts were whipping enthusiasm when a downpour washed out the remainder of the day's formal activity.

The 1968 Philmont Group led by Scoutmaster John Gade made preparations for their expedition by hiking the Perimeter Trail with full pack, and camped at Lower Halsey Outpost.

A prayer service for Scouts of the Jewish Faith was conducted by Robert Kurland of Troop 20, Hurley on Friday evening.

The top three patrols in the camporee were the Beaver Patrol of Troop 76, Wallkill (First); the Beaver Patrol of Troop 70, Highland (Second); the Fox Patrol 76, Wallkill (Third).

Nearly a hundred boys were "Tapped Out" for the Order of the Arrow in a Saturday evening ceremony.

The closing ceremony was held 11:30 a. m. Sunday and by 2 p. m. almost all of the 800 had departed.

PIGEON TRAP—Kingston took its first step this week in what it hopes will be a successful war against pigeons in the city by building a pigeon cage to trap the birds and placing it on the roof at City Hall. Unveiling cage are (L) Charles J. Cole, superintendent of public works, who built it; Radio Station WGHQ president Harry M. Thayer, whose editorials on the air brought increased attention to the problem, and Florence Shea Ludlow, First Ward Democratic alderman, where the pigeons roost in large numbers. (Freeman photo by Kruh.)

Thayer to Head Pigeon Panel If Garraghan Gives Approval

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Harry M. Thayer, president of WGHQ, whose editorials on the air strongly criticized Kingston officials for ignoring the city's problems with pigeons and dogs, has been recommended by the Common Council to head a committee to be appointed by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan to deal with the dual annoyance.

Action Underway

Action is already underway in the form of a pigeon trap built by Board of Public Works Superintendent Charles J. Cole. The trap was placed atop city hall Wednesday but as yet has attracted no birds.

Officially, Alderman Florence S. Ludlow is heading up the campaign in the Common Council. She personally has contributed $50 worth of bird seed to trap the wary birds. Cole estimates the cost of the pigeon cages at between $30 and $35 each.

It is expected that the trapped birds will be shipped to Canada where there is reported to be a great demand for them as trap shooter targets.

Impassioned Plea

Thayer made an impassioned plea at Tuesday's Council meeting saying that the aldermen must be men, not mice on this issue. He called for a nonpartisan committee to wage the war on pigeons and dogs.

Thayer's offer was later taken up by Edward Norton (D-Seventh Ward) who suggested such a committee with Thayer as its head. Norton's motion met with swift, unanimous approval by the aldermen.

Thayer also came up with some suggestions on dogs and irresponsible children on bicycles. He called for a house-to-house canvass of the dog population in Kingston by either the police department or department of public works. If the owner has a dog he would get 10 days under Thayer's plan, to license the animal. If not, the canine would be picked up by the ASPCA.

Mrs. Ludlow also had some suggestions on the ASPCA, claiming the city wasn't getting its money's worth ($4,000 per year) from the county organization and that the city should hire its own dog catcher to turn animals roaming illegally over to the ASPCA.

No Comment From Ray

Thayer made mention of the traffic menace by children who operate their bicycles improperly. He suggested a license plate at the cost of a dollar. If the youth commits traffic violations he could have his license revoked.

There has been no official comment from Mayor Garraghan on the appointment of Thayer to the so-called nuisance committee.

Freeman Wins Heart Award

The Kingston Daily Freeman has won a Certificate of Merit from the American Heart Fund for the newspaper's "outstanding service in advancing the heart program and stimulating public support in the fight against diseases of the heart and circulation."

The award for the 1968 campaign was presented to The Freeman by Dr. John R. Vosburgh, president of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association and Katherine M. Bower, Heart Office executive secretary with offices on Main Street.

Saugerties Town Board Acts on Dogs: Restraint and Owner's Responsibilities

An ordinance regulating the ownership of dogs in the Town of Saugerties has been adopted at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board.

The ordinance introduced by Councilman Bernard M. Rinaldi calls for restraint of dogs running at large in the township and generally regulates dog owner's responsibilities.

Dogs running at large, harassing people and causing damage to property has been a problem in the township for some time. Public indignation expressed at town board meetings since the first of the year brought about a study of the problem and a public hearing on the proposal to adopt a dog ordinance. The ordinance was drafted by Louis P. Francello, town attorney.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for any owner or person harboring a dog in the township to permit such dog to run at large unless restrained by a collar and leash, or accompanied by or within a reasonable distance of its owner or a responsible person able to control the animal. For the purpose of the ordinance, a dog or dogs hunting in company with a hunter or hunters shall be considered as accompanied by its owner.

The law further makes it unlawful to permit a dog to cause damage or destruction to property, or habitually commit a nuisance upon the premises of a person other than the owner or person harboring such a dog.

Under the ordinance chasing or harassment of any person by a dog is also illegal.

The ordinance provides that a dog warden, peace officer or town policeman may enforce the provisions of the law and may also investigate and report to a town justice any dangerous dog and see that the order or orders of the town justice in such case are carried out.

Under the provisions of the law any person who observes a dog causing damage to property may file a signed complaint with the town justice specifying particulars. Upon receipt of any complaint the town justice may summon the alleged owners or person harboring said dog to appear in person before him. If the summons is disregarded, the justice may permit the filing of an information and issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

Under Section 6 every dog in the township must be inoculated against rabies and must produce upon request a certificate or tag confirming the inoculation, and at the time application for license is made, proof of inoculation must be given to the licensing officer.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance calls for a fine of not more than $25 for each violation.

The ordinance becomes effective 10 days after publication in the official newspapers of the town and posting as provided by Town Law.

Man Files Suit Against Captain Of Capsized Boat

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago man filed a $250,000 personal injury suit Wednesday against Charles R. Walgreen, pilot of a cabin cruiser that capsized on Lake Michigan in 1966 killing Carol Kay Smith, 28, of Rochester.

John McCord, 28, and Miss Smith were passengers on the boat piloted by Walgreen, a member of the Walgreen drug stores family. The boat struck a breakwater during a pleasure cruise June 10, 1966. Miss Smith was killed.

McCord said he suffered permanent head, neck and nervous system injuries when he was thrown into the water and knocked unconscious.

The circuit court suit charges Walgreen with negligence of operation, speeding, failure to keep the boat seaworthy and failure to require passengers to wear life preservers.

A charge of negligent operation lodged against Walgreen after the accident was dismissed when police failed to present evidence to support it.

To Address Editors

GARDEN CITY, N.Y. (AP) — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has accepted an invitation to address the spring meeting of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors, the society announced Tuesday.

The meeting will be held June 23, 24 and 25 in nearby Westbury. Wheeler will speak at the dinner June 24.

The Long Island newspaper, Newsday, is host for the meeting.

Paltz Professor Awarded Diplomate

Dr. Kurt Haas, acting chairman of the Behavioral Sciences Division, has been awarded the diplomate in clinical psychology by the American Board of Examiners in Professional Psychology.

Awarded to fewer than 10 per cent of qualified psychologists, the diplomate is the highest form of recognition that can be accorded.

The diplomate title indicates that the psychologist is a specialist in his field, and is a leader in the movement in psychology toward greater professional responsibility.

It is conferred on appropriately trained psychologists that have at least five years post-doctorate experience and pass a series of examinations. The tests include clinical and diagnostic presentations which Dr. Haas recently completed in the Veterans Administration Hospital in New York City.

Many professional committees, such as the American Psychological Association emphasize the need for at least one diplomate before approving graduate programs. The College at New Paltz hopes to move into a graduate degree program in psychology by 1970 or 1971.

An expert on hostility and its expression among industrial workers and students, Dr. Haas is the author of several professional books and articles including: Understanding Ourselves and Others, published in 1965 by Prentice-Hall; Psychology and Social Correlatives of Hostility, and Some Personality Correlatives of Verbal Conditioning.

PIGEON TRAP—Kingston took its first step this week in what it hopes will be a successful war against pigeons in the city by building a pigeon cage to trap the birds and placing it on the roof at City Hall. Unveiling cage are (L) Charles J. Cole, superintendent of public works, who built it; Radio Station WGHQ president Harry M. Thayer, whose editorials on the air brought increased attention to the problem, and Florence Shea Ludlow, First Ward Democratic alderman, where the pigeons roost in large numbers. (Freeman photo by Kruh.)

Thayer to Head Pigeon Panel If Garraghan Gives Approval

By HUGH REYNOLDS

Harry M. Thayer, president of WGHQ, whose editorials on the air strongly criticized Kingston officials for ignoring the city's problems with pigeons and dogs, has been recommended by the Common Council to head a committee to be appointed by Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan to deal with the dual annoyance.

Action Underway

Action is already underway in the form of a pigeon trap built by Board of Public Works Superintendent Charles J. Cole. The trap was placed atop city hall Wednesday but as yet has attracted no birds.

Officially, Alderman Florence S. Ludlow is heading up the campaign in the Common Council. She personally has contributed $50 worth of bird seed to trap the wary birds. Cole estimates the cost of the pigeon cages at between $30 and $35 each.

It is expected that the trapped birds will be shipped to Canada where there is reported to be a great demand for them as trap shooter targets.

Impassioned Plea

Thayer made an impassioned plea for pigeon and dog control at Tuesday's Council meeting saying that the aldermen must be men, not mice on this issue. He called for a nonpartisan committee to wage the war on pigeons and dogs.

Thayer's offer was later taken up by Edward Norton (D Seventh Ward) who suggested such a committee with Thayer as its head. Norton's motion met with swift, unanimous approval by the aldermen.

Thayer also came up with some suggestions on dogs and irresponsible children on bicycles. He called for a house-to-house canvass of the dog population in Kingston by either the police department or department of public works. If the owner has a dog he would get 10 days under Thayer's plan, to license the animal. If not, the canine would be picked up by the ASPCA.

Mrs. Ludlow also had some suggestions on the ASPCA, claiming the city wasn't getting its money's worth ($4,000 per year) from the county organization and that the city should hire its own dog catcher to turn animals roaming illegally over to the ASPCA.

No Comment From Ray

Thayer made mention of the traffic menace by children who operate their bicycles improperly. He suggested a license plate at the cost of a dollar. If the youth commits traffic violations he could have his license revoked.

There has been no official comment from Mayor Garraghan on the appointment of Thayer to the so-called nuisance committee.

Freeman Wins Heart Award

The Kingston Daily Freeman has won a Certificate of Merit from the American Heart Fund for the newspaper's "outstanding service in advancing the heart program and stimulating public support in the fight against diseases of the heart and circulation."

The award for the 1968 campaign was presented to The Freeman by Dr. John R. Vosburgh, president of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association and Katherine M. Bower, Heart Office executive secretary with offices on Main Street.

Saugerties Town Board Acts on Dogs: Restraint and Owner's Responsibilities

An ordinance regulating the ownership of dogs in the Town of Saugerties has been adopted at a special meeting of Saugerties Town Board.

The ordinance introduced by Councilman Bernard M. Rinaldi calls for restraint of dogs running at large in the township and generally regulates dog owner's responsibilities.

Dogs running at large, harassing people and causing damage to property has been a problem in the township for some time. Public indignation expressed at town board meetings since the first of the year brought about a study of the problem and a public hearing on the proposal to adopt a dog ordinance. The ordinance was drafted by Louis P. Francello, town attorney.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for any owner or person harboring a dog in the township to permit such dog to run at large unless restrained by a collar and leash, or accompanied by or within a reasonable distance of its owner or a responsible person able to control the animal. For the purpose of the ordinance, a dog or dogs hunting in company with a hunter or hunters shall be considered as accompanied by its owner.

The law further makes it unlawful to permit a dog to cause damage or destruction to property, or habitually commit a nuisance upon the premises of a person other than the owner or person harboring such a dog.

Under the ordinance chasing or harassment of any person by a dog is also illegal.

The ordinance provides that a dog warden, peace officer or town policeman may enforce the provisions of the law and may also investigate and report to a town justice any dangerous dog and see that the order or orders of the town justice in such case are carried out.

Under the provisions of the law any person who observes a dog causing damage to property may file a signed complaint with the town justice specifying particulars. Upon receipt of any complaint the town justice may summon the alleged owners or person harboring said dog to appear in person before him. If the summons is disregarded, the justice may permit the filing of an information and issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

Under Section 6 every dog in the township must be inoculated against rabies and must produce upon request a certificate or tag confirming the inoculation, and at the time application for license is made, proof of inoculation must be given to the licensing officer.

Penalty for violation of the ordinance calls for a fine of not more than $25 for each violation.

The ordinance becomes effective 10 days after publication in the official newspapers of the town and posting as provided by Town Law.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 6, 1968 TWENTY-ONE

Trees and Trees-- The Aim for City

By JEAN F. DOLAN

Trees, trees and more trees for the City of Kingston—This is the aim of the city beautification committee. Maybe not every street a boulevard, as the song says, but at least leafy shade along main thoroughfares is part of the 10-year plan envisioned by the infant organization.

During the past few days the city-sponsored program started by the Ulster Garden Club undertook spring planting in the Community Theatre block adding six trees to the more than 150 already rooted along city streets.

Winter Rough on Some

Unfortunately, some fall plantings did not make it through the long winter of extreme freezing temperatures with no snow protection. These dozen or so trees, guaranteed under the planting program will be replaced in the fall of 1968. A crazy mixed up early spring accompanied by heavy rains in the recent weeks impeded the replacement plans, forcing postponment until autumn days.

The city beautification committee under the chairmanship of Fred Johnston is beginning its second year of operation in the footsteps of like moves in other cities. Totally city-financed street tree-planting programs are underway in sister Mid-Hudson communities of Poughkeepsie and Newburgh New York City has long recognized the need to return the "tree to Brooklyn" and other parts of the sprawling metropolis. Some Gotham projects are neighborhood-oriented while others stem directly from city hall.

The local project, through city-financed to a degree, still relies heavily on private donations and the interest and energy of private citizens.

The Ulster Garden Club with Mrs. W. Anderson Carle at the shovel in an advisory capacity started trimming the streets of Kingston prior to the municipal backing. The garden ladies still maintain a memorial tree planting fund underwritten by private donations all of which go toward a more beautiful Kingston.

Funds Still Accepted

Another facet of the memorial program is the Sophie Miller Tree Planting fund established to insure a tree-lined drive leading to John F. Kennedy Park, site of the old Kingston Point summer entertainment center. Additional funds are still being accepted by The Freeman for the memorial project designed to honor the long time columnist and preserver of Kingston's heritage who died Nov. 10, 1967.

Street trees are available to all who request them through the cooperation of the Board of Public Works and the city beautification committee. The overall plan calls for shading the main thoroughfares first and merchants along the main drag may have trees at the expense of the city beautification program. However, this year's allotment from the city is $800 which does not stretch far when each planting is $42 a tree plus all the side arrangements of checking with public works, Central Hudson, nursery men and the like. Therefore, for the time being those outside the specified areas will have to foot the planting bill although the committee will gladly make all the complex arrangements involved.

Exacting Task

City tree planting, especially along heavily traveled thoroughfares is an exacting task requiring much thought before and after. First of all the selection must be of a hardy variety able to withstand the rigors of gas fumes, cement reflected heat in summer and salt solutions to melt the snows in winter. Not the least of the hazards are small boys with big sticks bent on bending the young boughs.

Locally plain trees have been the most popular for street planting as they withstand much of the city adversity. The results are beginning to show in many areas such as in the formerly barren stretch on Pearl Street between Green and Wall Streets. Even Broadway sections are abloom with leafy foliage, contributing to a general attractiveness in a business area.

Tree-Lined Streets

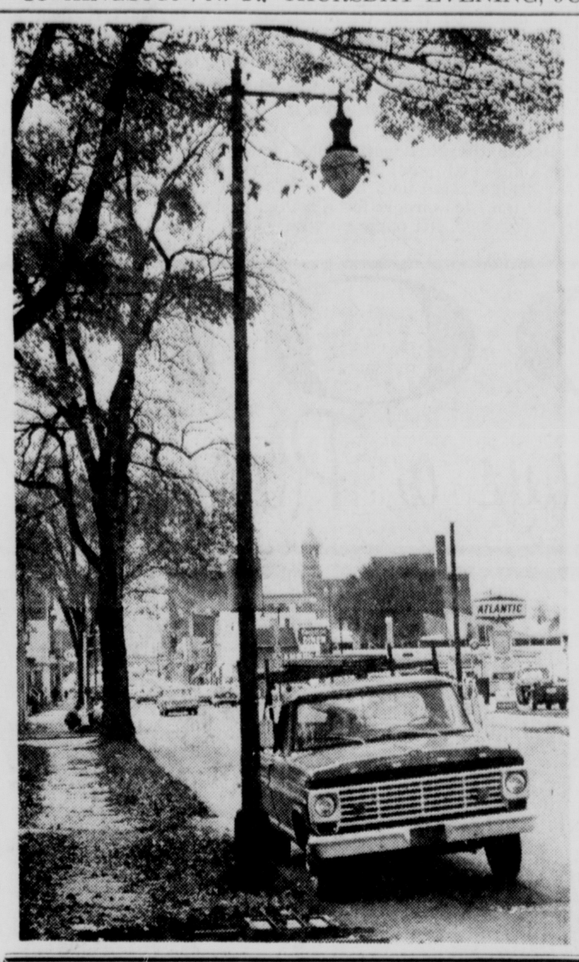

The ultimate aim is for a Kingston of tree-lined streets, reminiscent of the good old days when even Broadway was a leafy arcade, but a Kingston geared to modern living too as business people realize the importance of shaded storefronts softened by the beauty of branches.

Not unique in Kingston, the Mid-Hudson Valley or even New York State, the idea of tree-lined streets is much a part of modern planning. In Washington, D. C., an exhaustive study of how to preserve more than 300,000 street trees in the District of Columbia has been launched by the D.C. Department of Highways and Traffic. Systematic plantings, tree-trimming operations, tree removals, disease and insect controls, landscaping and maintenance are necessary to preserve and continue the Nation's Capital as one of the most beautiful tree-lined cities in the world.

Just so, here, the mere planting of trees is not the whole story of the city beautification commitee's job. Studies are underway to determine replacement and maintenance needs in this colonial city.

Such work will be carried out as deemed necessary by the committee. Members of this august group who hold the beauty of our city in their hands are Johnston as chairman; Mrs. Carle, representing the foresighted Ulster Garden Club; Herbert Cutler, professional landscape consultant; Charles Cole of the BPW; Miss Jane Austine of the Kingston Garden Club and Harry Thayer as advisor.

Johnston, in noting the aims and efforts of the city committee, said the primary requisites are money and much energy. A great deal of thought and concern for the future goes into the peat moss mixture, too.

The Ultimate Aim of Tree Planters

The Kingston City Beautification Committee in continuing its street tree planting program aims at eventual graceful boughs shading all of the city's main throughfares. Spring plantings, hampered by a number of weather factors, will be augmented by fall replacements and additional trees. Under the partial sponsorship of the city for the past year, the program was spearheaded by the Ulster Garden Club which for several years supervised street tree placement financed by donations. Public support is still needed to augment the city allocation. Once upon a time all of Broadway was lined with large shade trees such as these which remain near the intersection of East Chester Street. Hopefully the saplings planted by the city beautification group will soon shade business sections of Kingston. Previous plantings already have changed the appearance of uptown and upper Broadway streets. Perhaps the most noticeable improvement has been on Pearl Street between Green and Wall Streets where formerly barren concrete is now softened by the new trees.

Rhinebeck Park Fund Swells

It was a big week for the Recreational Park at Red Hook. Five thousand dollars were added to the coffers, a full calendar of Memorial Day events was implemented successfully and two gigantic parade balloons exploded.

About 600 individuals are now enrolled in the three-year family park plan, it was announced. The pool drive reached the $21,000 water mark on May 29.

As a community service the Youth Recreation Council sold 300 large pennants and 140 balloons on sticks at manufacturers cost. They also distributed over 500 free brochures, describing the park programs and objectives. The group also readied two 18-foot diameter promotional balloons for the march but met disaster prior to the parade kickoff. The first exploded when paint was applied to the surface and the second was the victim of an unknown fate while riding atop a parade vehicle.

Afternoon activities got underway with picnics, tug-o-war, softball and volleyball games, fishing contests and horse rides. At 5 p. m. the Brand X band played for a teen dance that continued until 9. An estimated 150 attended.

Non-Tariff Barriers of U.S. Under Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Institute for Imported Steel, Inc. has criticized non-tariff trade barriers of the U.S., including a "Buy American" policy and country-of-origin marking requirements.

The New York group offered its charges in testimony prepared for the U. S. Trade Information Committee of the office of Ambassador William Roth, chief U. S. trade negotiator.

Drawn from the administrative branches around Washington, the committee was working on a trade policy for the 1970s.

Representatives of the steel importers said the 1954 executive board imposing a six per cent differential rule "is not justifiable in principle for a country like ours committed to liberal trade philosophy."

Generally, the rule stated that if the government can save six per cent or more by purchasing imported merchandise, would do so.

Steel importers noted the Defense Department exceeded the six per cent rule to apply a 50 per cent differential which the department proclaimed was in the national interest.

"We respectfully submit that the Defense Department has a misconception of the national interest," the association statement said.

"The U. S. government has wasted untold millions of the taxpayers' money by paying higher prices than they would have obtained if the healthy spur of import competition had not been removed. This in turn has fed inflation and the balance of payments deficit."

The Association of Steel Importers contended country - of-origin marking requirements "seem to have the principal purpose of increasing the cost of the imported article so as to make it less competitive with the domestic article."

Some Gotham projects are neighborhood-oriented while others stem directly from city hall.

The local project, through city-financed to a degree, still relies heavily on private donations and the interest and energy of private citizens.

The Ulster Garden Club with Mrs. W. Angerson Carle at the shovel in an advisory capacity started trimming the streets of Kingston prior to the municipal backing. The garden ladies still maintain a memorial tree planting fund underwritten by private donations all of which go toward a more beautiful Kingston.

Funds Still Accepted

Another facet of the memorial program is the Sophie Miller Tree Planting fund established to insure a tree-lined drive leading to John F. Kennedy Park, site of the old Kingston Point summer entertainment center. Additional funds are still being accepted by The Freeman for the memorial project designed to honor the long time columnist and preserver of Kingston's heritage who died Nov. 10, 1967.

Street trees are available to all who request them through the cooperation of the Board of Public Works and the city beautification committee. The overall plan calls for shading the main thoroughfares first and merchants along the main drag may have trees at the expense of the city beautification program. However, this year's allotment from the city is $800 which does not stretch far when each planting is $42 a tree plus all the side arrangements of checking with public works, Central Hudson, nursery men and the like. Therefore, for the time being those outside the specified areas will have to foot the planting bill although the committee will gladly make all the complex arrangements involved.

Exacting Task

City tree planting, especially along heavily traveled thoroughfares is an exacting task requiring much thought before and after. First of all the selection must be of a hardy variety able to withstand the rigors of gas fumes, cement reflected heat in summer and salt solutions to melt the snows in winter. Not the least of the hazards are small boys with big sticks bent on bending the young boughs.

Locally plain trees have been the most popular for street planting as they withstand much of the city adversity. The results are beginning to show in many areas such as in the formerly barren stretch on Pearl Street between Green and Wall Streets. Even Broadway sections are abloom with leafy foliage, contributing to a general attractiveness in a business area.

Tree-Lined Streets

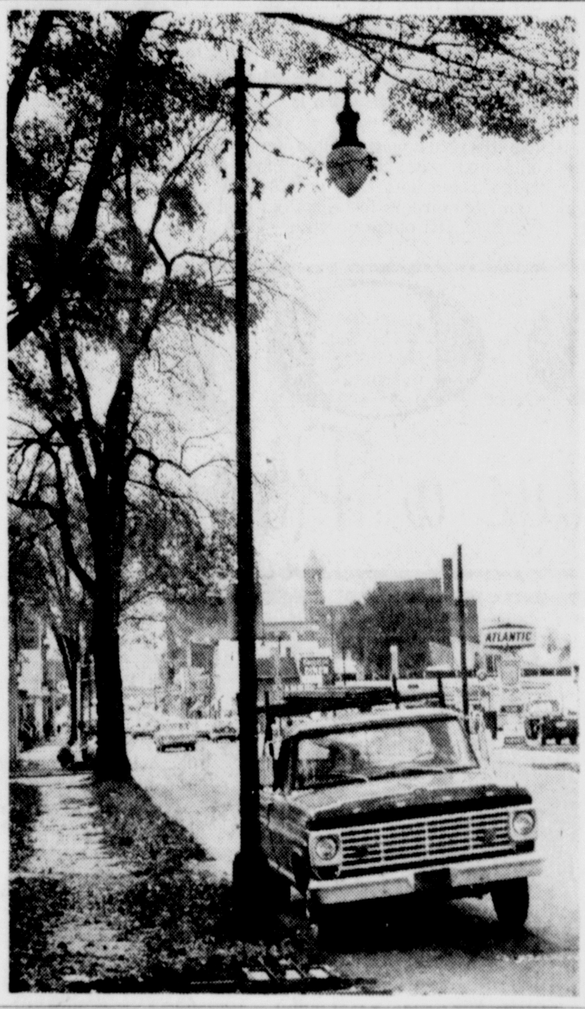

The ultimate aim is for a Kingston of tree-lined streets, reminiscent of the good old days when even Broadway was a leafy arcade, but a Kingston geared to modern living too as business people realize the importance of shaded storefronts softened by the beauty of branches.

Not unique in Kingston, the Mid-Hudson Valley or even New York State, the idea of tree-lined streets is much a part of modern planning. In Washington, D. C., an exhaustive study of how to preserve more than 300,000 street trees in the District of Columbia has been launched by the D.C. Department of Highways and Traffic. Systematic plantings, tree-trimming operations, tree removals, disease and insect controls, landscaping and maintenance are necessary to preserve and continue the Nation's Capital as one of the most beautiful tree-lined cities in the world.

Just so, here, the mere planting of trees is not the whole story of the city beautification commitee's job. Studies are underway to determine replacement and maintenance needs in this colonial city.

Such work will be carried out as deemed necessary by the committee. Members of this august group who hold the beauty of our city in their hands are Johnston as chairman; Mrs. Carle, representing the foresighted Ulster Garden Club; Herbert Cutler, professional landscape consultant; Charles Cole of the BPW; Miss Jane Austine of the Kingston Garden Club and Harry Thayer as advisor.

Johnston, in noting the aims and efforts of the city committee, said the primary requisites are money and much energy. A great deal of thought and concern for the future goes into the peat moss mixture, too.

The Ultimate Aim of Tree Planters

The Kingston City Beautification Committee in continuing its street tree planting program aims at eventual graceful boughs shading all of the city's main throughfares. Spring plantings, hampered by a number of weather factors, will be augmented by fall replacements and additional trees. Under the partial sponsorship of the city for the past year, the program was spearheaded by the Ulster Garden Club which for several years supervised street tree placement financed by donations. Public support is still needed to augment the city allocation. Once upon a time all of Broadway was lined with large shade trees such as these which remain near the intersection of East Chester Street. Hopefully the saplings planted by the city beautification group will soon shade business sections of Kingston. Previous plantings already have changed the appearance of uptown and upper Broadway streets. Perhaps the most noticeable improvement has been on Pearl Street between Green and Wall Streets where formerly barren concrete is now softened by the new trees.

Rhinebeck Park Fund Swells

It was a big week for the Recreational Park at Red Hook. Five thousand dollars were added to the coffers, a full calendar of Memorial Day events was implemented successfully and two gigantic parade balloons exploded.

About 600 individuals are now enrolled in the three-year family park plan, it was announced. The pool drive reached the $21,000 water mark on May 29.

As a community service the Youth Recreation Council sold 300 large pennants and 140 balloons on sticks at manufacturers cost. They also distributed over 500 free brochures, describing the park programs and objectives. The group also readied two 18-foot diameter promotional balloons for the march but met disaster prior to the parade kickoff. The first exploded when paint was applied to the surface and the second was the victim of an unknown fate while riding atop a parade vehicle.

Afternoon activities got underway with picnics, tug-o-war, softball and volleyball games, fishing contests and horse rides. At 5 p. m. the Brand X band played for a teen dance that continued until 9. An estimated 150 attended.

Non-Tariff Barriers of U.S. Under Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Institute for Imported Steel, Inc. has criticized non-tariff trade barriers of the U.S., including a "Buy American" policy and country-of-origin marking requirements.

The New York group offered its charges in testimony prepared for the U. S. Trade Information Committee of the office of Ambassador William Roth, chief U. S. trade negotiator.

Drawn from the administrative branches around Washington, the committee was working on a trade policy for the 1970s.

Representatives of the steel importers said the 1954 executive board imposing a six per cent differential rule "is not justifiable in principle for a country like ours committed to liberal trade philosophy."

Generally, the rule stated that if the government can save six per cent or more by purchasing imported merchandise, would do so.

Steel importers noted the Defense Department exceeded the six per cent rule to apply a 50 per cent differential which the department proclaimed was in the national interest.

"We respectfully submit that the Defense Department has a misconception of the national interest," the association statement said.

"The U. S. government has wasted untold millions of the taxpayers' money by paying higher prices than they would have obtained if the healthy spur of import competition had not been removed. This in turn has fed inflation and the balance of payments deficit."

The Association of Steel Importers contended country - of-origin marking requirements "seem to have the principal purpose of increasing the cost of the imported article so as to make it less competitive with the domestic article."

'A Dream Come True'

A Nippon Clipon Bridge for Expanded Usage in New Zealand

By GORDON TAIT

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — ON May 30, 1959, a grand bridge was opened across Waitemata harbor, the sheltered deep-water port around which this largest New Zealand city is built. For the half-million Aucklanders it was a dream come true.

'Good for 25 Years'

The bridge was 3,348 feet long, 142 feet above high water, could carry two lanes of traffic each way, and was going to be big enough to last the city for 25 years.

But in three years, in 1962, there was talk of the need of a second bridge, or a subway, or something, because the volume of traffic already was that predicted for 1974.

Today a Japanese firm is "clipping" two extra traffic lanes to each side of the bridge to double its capacity.

The Japanese company is Ishikawajima-Harima heavy industries of Tokyo, civil engineers, shipbuilders, manufacturers of engines, machinery, and power equipment.

April '69 Completion

In February, 1966, the Auckland Bridge Authority called for bids and plans for two extra lanes on each side of the existing bridge. Two Japanese firms, and one each from Germany, Britain and Austria sent bids. The contract with IHI for the equivalent of $10.4 million was signed Nov. 4, 1966, and work is to be finished next April.

Before the bids were called, Auckland had plans drawn up for bridge extensions that provided for 1,150 girders to be riveted together. IHI came up with the idea of using just 26 girders, each 300 to 400 feet long and weighing close to 400 tons, and welding them together. This is what is being done.

First the Japanese company brought out 22-ton brackets, and fixed them to the bridge piers to carry the roadway girders. New Zealand workmen quickly painted on the side of a bridge abutment: "Nippon Clipon."

In October 1967, two giant floating cranes, built in Japan especially for the job, arrived after a 40-day tow from Tokyo. Each is 180 feet high with a lifting capacity of 250 tons.

Then came the first of the giant box girders, prefabricated in Japan, and the cranes, working together, began to lift them into position. The girders arrived from Japan, three at a time, on the deck of a former 13,000-ton oil tanker and are kept on another former tanker in the harbor until needed.

$5 Million Cut

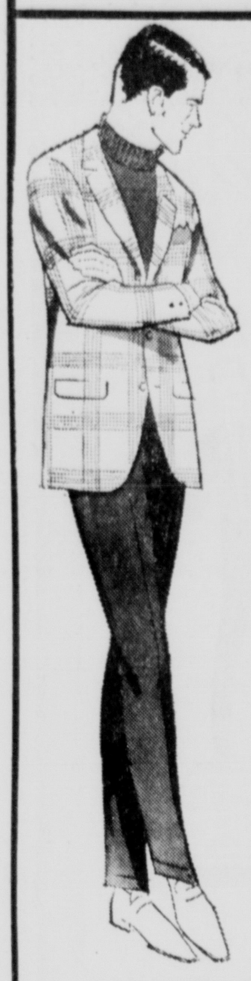

The clipon idea is expected to cut the equivalent of $5 million off the original estimate of the cost of the job; the work will be completed sooner than by conventional methods; the widening is being done without interrupting the flow of traffic across the bridge.

On an average day, 35,000 vehicles now use the bridge, nearly three times the volume in the opening year.

Already, the general manager of the bridge authority, Owen H. Brannigan, has predicted that the widened bridge will be too small for Auckland traffic by 1979.

Nursery School Discussed at Open Meeting

The Community Day Nursery School of Saugerties recently held an open meeting to discuss the value of a nursery school education.

The key speaker was Ruth Flurry, an associate in the Bureau of Child Development and Parent Education of the State Education Department.

She stressed that nursery school is a supplement to the home rather than a substitute for kindergarten.

Also at the speaker's table were Betty Hoffman, and Joseph Hemphill.

Hemphill, who has two children attending Community Day Nursery, gave a father's view of the nursery school experience his children have had. Mrs. Hoffman, whose daughter attended last year, explained how it had helped her six-year-old adjust to other children and make kindergarten more meaningful.

The meeting was open for questions from the audience. The nursery is currently accepting resgistration for the fall term.

Parish House Considered by Lutheran Church

Thursday, June 13 at 6:30 p.m. the Lutheran Church Women of Atonement will meet at the church basement for a covered dish supper. Members are to bring a dish to pass, silverware and plates.

Mrs. Harry Olson, president, will conduct the meeting following the supper. The program will be a Bible Quiz with Mrs. Erwin Tate as leader. Refreshment committee will provide dessert.

Blankets, comforters and layettes will be packed and shipped this week for Lutheran World Relief.

All Sunday School classes of the church will continue throughout June at 9:15 a.m. Parents are requested to make a special effort to see that children are in regular attendance. During July and August and through Labor Day, Sunday sessions of the Sunday school will be discontinued. During this time a family service will be conducted at 9 a.m.

A red leather book entitled "In Remembrance" was presented to the church by Linda Rittie in behalf of the confirmation class of 1968. The book will remain in the church and in it will be recorded major memorial gifts.

Sunday, June 16 at 6 p.m. a special congregational meeting has been called for the purpose of considering the feasibility and program necessary for a new parish house. Richard Reinhardt of Blue Mountain heads the committee which will make the presentations and lead in the discussions.

All interested citizens are invited and urged to attend the meeting, which will be held Wednesday, June 12, at 8 p.m., at the Saugerties Methodist Church.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization established to promote active participation of citizens in their government. Membership is open to all women citizens of voting age.

Reorganize School's PTA

At the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association meeting recently, the recommendation of the committee on re-organization was unanimously approved: "That the Saugerties P-TA be reorganized so that there is a branch or section in each school with a vice president and secretary-treasurer, as elected officers. The activities of the sections shall be coordinated by an executive committee consisting of the branch or section vice president, along with a president, president-elect, treasurer, and recording secretary. The by-laws are to be rewritten by the new executive committee to provide for the nomination and election of their officers along with any other necessary changes."

The recommendation of the finance and budget committee, chaired by Mrs. Lois Neff, that the dues be raised to one dollar per person beginning September was unanimously approved.

A check for $500 was presented to Dr. Dexter O. Arnold to be used for five scholarships of $100 each to be awarded to members of the 1968 graduating class of Saugerties High School.

The newly-elected officers were installed by Norman Bolinder, past president of the Saugerties P-TA as follows: president, John Warful; president-elect, Daniel Lee; secretary, Mrs. Edwin Madsen; treasurer, Robert Emery; vice president, junior high, Richard Cyr; vice presidents, Main Street, Mr. and Mrs. Heath P. Tong; vice president, Grant D. Morse, Mrs. Warren Schoemer; vice president, Mt. Marion, Don Martin; vice president, Glasco, Mrs. Karl Lezette.

Elected as secretary-treasurer for the local branches were Mrs. Connie Nelson for the junior high; Ernest Odel for Main Street; Mrs. Richard Gramling for Grant D. Morse; Mrs. Gerald Slater for Mt. Marion; and Mrs. Toni Fabiano for Glasco.

Tattoo Clinic For Saugerties Dogs June 15

A clinic to tattoo and register dogs with the National Dog Registry will be held in Saugerties on Saturday, June 15, at the Saugerties Fire House on Partition Street from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Protection of dogs against theft and loss by the "tattoo and register" method has reportedly been successful in every area where the clinics have been held. "Dognapping" in such areas has dropped sharply, and, to date, every tattoed and NDR-registered dog reported to the registry as missing or found has been reunited with its owner.

Under the NDR plan, the owner registers his Social Security number, name, address and phone with the National Dog Registry, Inc., for a fee of ten dollars for lifetime registration, or three dollars for two years, regardless of the number of dogs tattoed, now or later. Registrations will be made at the clinic, and dogs will be tattoed there at a cost of four dollars per dog. The tattoo, done on the dog's inner right thigh, is painless and permanent.

Anthony Francello, chairman of this Jaycee project, has also announced that there will be a seminar held at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, on Monday, June 10 at 8 p.m. The seminar will be especially for law enforcement agencies and dog owners. The public is invited.

Flower Show's Final Plans

Final preparations are being made for the annual flower show to be presented by the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens on Wednesday, June 12, at the Masonic Hall, Russell Street, from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

In addition to the competitive class exhibits, the show will feature educational and conservation exhibits on attracting humming birds, making compost, and plants and arrangements.

Nursery School Discussed at Open Meeting

The Community Day Nursery School of Saugerties recently held an open meeting to discuss the value of a nursery school education.

The key speaker was Ruth Flurry, an associate in the Bureau of Child Development and Parent Education of the State Education Department.

She stressed that nursery school is a supplement to the home rather than a substitute for kindergarten.

Also at the speaker's table were Betty Hoffman, and Joseph Hemphill.

Hemphill, who has two chilDen attending Community Day Nursery, gave a father's view of the nursery school experience his children have had. Mrs. Hoffman, whose daughter attended last year, explained how it had helped her six-year-old adjust to other children and make kindergarten more meaningful.

The meeting was open for questions from the audience. The nursery is currently accepting resgistration for the fall term.

COMPLETE PLEDGE — The CYO Teen-age Federation of St. Mary of the Snow, Saugerties has presented its final pledge payment to the parish building fund. Shown making the presentation are left, the Rev. All Sunday School classes of the church will continue throughout June at 9:15 a.m. Parents are requested to make a special effort to see that children are in regular attendance. During July and August and through Labor Day, Sunday sessions of the Sunday school will be discontinued. During this time a family service will be conducted at 9 a.m.

A red leather book entitled "In Remembrance" was presented to the church by Linda Rittie in behalf of the confirmation class of 1968. The book will remain in the church and in it will be recorded major memorial gifts.

Sunday, June 16 at 6 p.m. a special congregational meeting has been called for the purpose of considering the feasibility and program necessary for a new parish house. Richard Reinhardt of Blue Mountain heads the committee which will make the presentations and lead in the discussions.

Reorganize School's PTA

At the Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association meeting recently, the recommendation of the committee on re-organization was unanimously approved: "That the Saugerties P-TA be reorganized so that there is a branch or section in each school with a vice president and secretary-treasurer, as elected officers. The activities of the sections shall be coordinated by an executive committee consisting of the branch or section vice president, along with a president, president-elect, treasurer, and recording secretary. The by-laws are to be rewritten by the new executive committee to provide for the nomination and election of their officers along with any other necessary changes."

The recommendation of the finance and budget committee, chaired by Mrs. Lois Neff, that the dues be raised to one dollar per person beginning September was unanimously approved.

A check for $500 was presented to Dr. Dexter O. Arnold to be used for five scholarships of $100 each to be awarded to members of the 1968 graduating class of Saugerties High School.

Tattoo Clinic For Saugerties Dogs June 15

A clinic to tattoo and register dogs with the National Dog Registry will be held in Saugerties on Saturday, June 15, at the Saugerties Fire House on Partition Street from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Saugerties Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Protection of dogs against theft and loss by the "tattoo and register" method has reportedly been successful in every area where the clinics have been held. "Dognapping" in such areas has dropped sharply, and, to date, every tattoed and NDR-registered dog reported to the registry as missing or found has been reunited with its owner.

Under the NDR plan, the owner registers his Social Security number, name, address and phone with the National Dog Registry, Inc., for a fee of ten dollars for lifetime registration, or three dollars for two years, regardless of the number of dogs tattoed, now or later. Registrations will be made at the clinic, and dogs will be tattoed there at a cost of four dollars per dog. The tattoo, done on the dog's inner right thigh, is painless and permanent.

Anthony Francello, chairman of this Jaycee project, has also announced that there will be a seminar held at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, on Monday, June 10 at 8 p.m. The seminar will be especially for law enforcement agencies and dog owners. The public is invited.

Flower Show's Final Plans

Music Stores Used as Hangouts

By VIVIAN BROWN

Teen-agers are hanging out in music stores, says the American Music Conference group, people who keep track of such things.

Drug store proprietors couldn't be happier. They have been pulling out on young people in recent years, and it isn't easy if it is an old-time store with a family business.

The excuse given when soda fountain and booths are removed is that it is in the interest of expansion. The druggist needs more room for drugs. One New England druggist notes "there wasn't enough profit in ice cream and soda as a sideline to make it worthwhile. I liked young people around but new people in town complained about noise, confusion and bad service. It's all right until you get competition and the other drug store doesn't have a fountain. You lose business."

Meanwhile, music stores—and there are 11,000—are expanding because of young people's interest.

In St. Louis, music merchant Lee Hamilton has built a million-dollar business in five years with three stores that are jumping with teen-age enthusiasm.

On Friday nights when jam sessions and other special events are scheduled, crowds of more than 300 are attracted, reports the music conference group. More than 70 different musical groups play at his store.

Miami's Bill Binder added a separate room to his store and called it "Guitar Alley" designed for musicmakers who like rock 'n roll or classics. Next door to it is a 150-seat music hall where teen-age combos perform and compete for prizes.

In Minneapolis, Irv Trestman publishes a news letter for music-minded types. It has a circulation of 3,000 and follows youthful customers wherever they go. He has gone through all the music problems himself, he explains, so he tries to help youngsters in every way possible at his music center.

Hollywood's Seymour Drugan who directs the instruments department at the Splevin Music Center reports that 400 boys and girls will again traffic his place this summer, 150 a day more than those visiting during the school year.

NANCY JEAN HAENER has been accepted for admission by State University of New York College at Cortland where she will major in elementary and early secondary French education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Haener Jr. of Ellenville, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiana of Kripplebush, N. Y. Nancy is a 1968 graduate of Central School District No. 2 and recipient of a New York State Regents Scholarship. She has been a member of the high school band, mixed chorus, Les Chanteurs, French Club, President 4, and a member of the cast for the senior play.

Bruckert Twins Going to Europe

Announcement has been made of the selection of Edward and William Bruckert, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Bruckert, 153 Pearl Street, to study and work in Europe this summer.

Selection was made by the United States Committee of the International Association for the Exchange of Students for Technical Experience. They have just completed their junior year at the University of Massachusetts.

Edward Bruckert is going to Eindhoven, Holland to work for Phillips International and William is going to Ankara, Turkey, to be employed by the Telephone Company. They will depart the United States from Kennedy Airport on June 13 and will arrive home again on Sept. 4. Both are 1965 graduates of Kingston High School.

The IAESTE organization has written them in part, "You are about to benefit from an exceptional opportunity to live and work with a people of a foreign country. Just as you will always remember your co-workers as typical of your host country always keep in mind that they, too, will look upon you as a representative of our next generation of engineers and scientists. Since you have been chosen as one best qualified to gain from this experience, it will in turn demand of you, not only an open mind but also a tolerant attitude toward the opinions, manners and customs of other lands. We wish you a rewarding trip abroad."

UCCC Student Wins Ellenville Scholarship

Miss Cheryl E. Matthews, a student at Ulster County Community College, has been awarded a scholarship offered by the Ellenville National Bank.

"We are pleased to have scholarships from individual donors, like the Ellenville National Bank, to provide financial support and encouragement to worthy students of the college," said Dr. George B. Erbstein, the college president.

Miss Matthews has been on the Dean's List for scholarship every semester she has been at UCCC. She has served as editor-in-chief of the Tower, the college's student newspaper, and also is a member of Ski Club. While at the college, she also has worked as a student aide in the area of instructional media.

She has been majoring in liberal arts-humanities while at UCCC, and when she graduates in June, 1969, she plans to transfer to a four-year college to study journalism.

A graduate of Kingston High School, Miss Matthews resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Matthews, at 89 East Main Street, Port Ewen.

Shurick of the General Staff, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Adam H. Porter, Kingston, National Councilor of the organization.

Honored by the society was Dr. Kenneth Scott, professor of History, Queens College, New York University, who assisted by the undergraduate and graduate students, is preserving for this and future generations the 10 tons of Ulster County Records which he rescued with the consent of the Board of Supervisors from deterioration. Rolls of microfilm have been returned here and will continue to be until this work is completed.

The New York State Chapter contributed $1500 in 1967 toward this effort in memory of its recently deceased state registrar, Mrs. Francis A. Booth. Thousands of dollars have been and will be spent to further this preservation. Unless Dr. Scott had assumed this Herculean task, the County's records, stated to be among the most valuable in North America, would undoubtedly have been lost. His citation was richly deserved.

Domestics Upgrading Profession

By MARGARET WILSON

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — At dawn her own children must be readied for school so she can catch a city bus for a 30-minute ride across the city.

Then she can take over the cooking, washing and child tending chores for someone else.

She's a Negro woman, not young, in her late 30s or 40s.

She's one of an estimated 6,000 domestics in the city of Charlotte and considers herself lucky to draw a dollar an hour, more or less, plus bus fare and lunch each work day.

Some domestics do get $1.20 or even $1.40 an hour but the huge supply of domestics in this city with a population of 240,000 keeps wages down.

Some housewives employing domestics will disagree and say they can't find help. They usually are the ones wanting someone only one day a week. Domestics would prefer work at the same place each day.

In an effort to get better wages, some domestics in Charlotte are trying to help themselves. They've set up Domestics United, a group believed to be the only one of its kind.

With an $8,000 grant from the North Carolina Fund, a privately financed antipoverty agency, DU has opened a small office for the 600 members who have paid 25 cents a year in dues.

"We would have more members but some don't want to identify themselves as domestics," said Mrs. W. R. Adams, the group's part-time executive secretary and only employe.

"And this is what we want to correct," she continued. "We want to upgrade our profession . . . yes, it is a profession."

She said DU has no white domestics as members because whites usually "call themselves housekeepers and are making more money than we are."

Some DU members have enrolled in the group's first training program on post-natal mother and child care. It is a seven-week course with two-hour sessions three nights a week.

"Two of our ladies who have completed part of the course already have gotten jobs paying $1.60 an hour," said Mrs. Adams.

A domestic herself the two days she is not in the DU office, Mrs. Adams said she is able to get $1.40 an hour and is encouraging others to demand higher salaries.

"We deserve better pay and the considerations people get in other jobs," she said. "And when we're qualified we get them."

Until DU has graduates of its own training programs it will not handle placement of domestics with employers. Offers of employment are posted, nowever, on the office bulletin board.

"We need to raise money—through a membership drive, and maybe someone will have a benefit bridge or fashion show for us," she said.

Earlier membership drives have been hurt, she added, by some confusion over the group's name—Domestics United.

"We're no union," she said. "We're just united."

Rolls of microfilm have been returned here and will continue to be until this work is completed.

The New York State Chapter contributed $1500 in 1967 toward this effort in memory of its recently deceased state registrar, Mrs. Francis A. Booth. Thousands of dollars have been and will be spent to further this preservation. Unless Dr. Scott had assumed this Herculean task, the County's records, stated to be among the most valuable in North America, would undoubtedly have been lost. His citation was richly deserved.

Domestics Upgrading Profession

By MARGARET WILSON

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — At dawn her own children must be readied for school so she can catch a city bus for a 30-minute ride across the city.

Then she can take over the cooking, washing and child tending chores for someone else.

She's a Negro woman, not young, in her late 30s or 40s.

She's one of an estimated 6,000 domestics in the city of Charlotte and considers herself lucky to draw a dollar an hour, more or less, plus bus fare and lunch each work day.

Some domestics do get $1.20 or even $1.40 an hour but the huge supply of domestics in this city with a population of 240,000 keeps wages down.

Some housewives employing domestics will disagree and say they can't find help. They usually are the ones wanting someone only one day a week. Domestics would prefer work at the same place each day.

In an effort to get better wages, some domestics in Charlotte are trying to help themselves. They've set up Domestics United, a group believed to be the only one of its kind.

With an $8,000 grant from the North Carolina Fund, a privately financed antipoverty agency, DU has opened a small office for the 600 members who have paid 25 cents a year in dues.

"We would have more members but some don't want to identify themselves as domestics," said Mrs. W. R. Adams, the group's part-time executive secretary and only employe.

"And this is what we want to correct," she continued. "We want to upgrade our profession . . . yes, it is a profession."

She said DU has no white domestics as members because whites usually "call themselves housekeepers and are making more money than we are."

Some DU members have enrolled in the group's first training program on post-natal mother and child care. It is a seven-week course with two-hour sessions three nights a week.

"Two of our ladies who have completed part of the course already have gotten jobs paying $1.60 an hour," said Mrs. Adams.

A domestic herself the two days she is not in the DU office, Mrs. Adams said she is able to get $1.40 an hour and is encouraging others to demand higher salaries.

"We deserve better pay and the considerations people get in other jobs," she said. "And when we're qualified we get them."

Until DU has graduates of its own training programs it will not handle placement of domestics with employers. Offers of employment are posted, nowever, on the office bulletin board.

"We need to raise money—through a membership drive, and maybe someone will have a benefit bridge or fashion show for us," she said.

Earlier membership drives have been hurt, she added, by some confusion over the group's name—Domestics United.

"We're no union," she said. "We're just united."

Braves, With Kosco as Guest, Open Season Tonight

Area baseball fans will be treated to a double-barrelled attraction tonight at Dietz Stadium when the Kingston Braves have Andy Kosco as their guest for the 1968 opener of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

The current New York Yankee slugging star, Kosco will stage a pre-game batting exhibition at 7:45 p. m. and perhaps say a few words to the assembled fans.

At 8 o'clock, the thoroughly revamped Braves make their debut in a brand new league against the New Windsor Rockets.

Manager Paul Giannuzzi has announced Ron Thomas, former Kingston High and Wagner College pitcher and Glenn Davis, UCCC receiver, as Kingston's opening battery.

A solid infield quartet is set with Pete Watzka, KHS Player of the Year in 1967 ad Cornell University freshman captain at third base. Watzka batted .375 for the Big Red yearlings.

Two Ulster Community College infielders — Mike Derrenbacher at second and Lou Perry at short, join Watzka and hard hitting Chick Bodice at first base to round out the infield quartet. Bolce is one of the two over-age players eligible for the Braves in the 17 to 23-year old league.

Buytkins in Outfield

Paul Buytkins, a former scholastic star, who went on to fame at Rider College, anchors an impressive Braves outfield. He will be joined by Ron Valle and Joe Schabot, with Doug Horton, one of last year's batting stars available for one game.

Backing up Thomas in the pitching corps will be Gary Van Etten; Frank McGowan, of Oneonta State; Charlie James, the Kingston High strikeout wizard; Gary Van Etten and Gene Stoutenburg.

Manager Giannuzzi and General Manager Fred Davi, the perennial baseball promoter in the area, are highly optimistic about the Braves' chances in the solid, 11-team league.

"We think we have the best team to represent Kingston in many years," they said. "We have a sound defense, good power and perhaps the finest pitching staff assembled for a local team in many years."

Strikeout Ace Starts

New Windsor Rockets announced they would lead with their fireballing strikeout artist—Dennis Robinson, a 6-foot Peekskill collegian. Robinson led the Rookie League with 93 strikeouts in 1967 and, if anything, is bigger and faster now.

New Windsor also boasts a strong backup pitcher in Dave McEntee of Newburgh. Two of the players to watch include Joe Lahey, a shortstop who played at Manhattan this spring and Jim Rizzo, who doubles as third baseman and relief pitcher.

The Rockets are managed by Ettore Giammarco, veteran Newburgh baseball figure and one-time player in the New York Yankees farm system. Giammarco has been one of the most successful developers of baseball talent in Orange County for two decades.

A brief pre-game ceremony will be held, with the ball game to start at 8 o'clock.

HERO'S WELCOME—Yanks' Joe Pepitone is greeted at home plate after hitting a grand-slam home run to right field in the first inning of Yanks-Twins game. Pepitone's Grand Slam Sparks 7-2 Yankee Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a simply grand evening for Joe Pepitone and Dave Johnson but not so good for Buddy Bradford.

Pepitone drove in six runs—four of them with a grand slam home run—leading the New York Yankees to a 7-2 romp over Minnesota Wednesday night.

Johnson also tagged a grand slam and Baltimore belted California 7-1.

But Bradford was $5 lighter in the wallet as the first victim of Eddie Stanky's campaign to wake up his Chicago White Sox. The Sox bowed 1-0 to Cleveland and Bradford was the only player to violate Stanky's new Golden Rules.

In other American League action Wednesday, Detroit nipped Boston 5-4 and Washington clipped Oakland 3-1.

Pepitone unloaded his fourth career grand slam and second against Dean Chance in the first inning and the Yankees coasted after that. Horace Clarke led off with a single and Roy White and Mickey Mantle walked before Pepitone connected.

In the fifth inning, after the Twins had cut the lead in half on consecutive homers by Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva, White and Mantle walked, setting up Pepitone again. This time Joe hit a sinking liner that got past Ted Uhlaender's diving try and rolled to the wall for a triple.

Mel Stottlemyre, 7-4, coasted with a five-hitter, disturbed only by the consecutive homers by Killebrew and Oliva.

A single by Brooks Robinson and two walks loaded the bases for Baltimore against California's Clyde Wright in the fifth inning and Johnson sliced a 315-foot homer just inside the right field foul line.

Curt Motton had homered earlier for the Orioles and Jim Hardin coasted with a five-hitter for his seventh victory.

Bradford failed to score a runner from third base with less than two out—one of three sins Stanky has decided will cost the White Sox $5 for every violation. The others are failure to advance a runner who reached second with less than two out and failure to advance a runner in a bunt situation.

The ground rules were installed after Chicago had dropped 3-2 and 2-1 decisions at the hands of the Indians. The improvement was not immediately noticable.

Stan Williams was in almost absolute control until the eighth so Stanky didn't have much chance to put his system to work. Duane Josephson opened with a pinch double and Russ Snyder advanced him on a fly ball. But Bradford bounced out, invoking the fine, and Sandy Alomar, off the hook with two out, struck out, ending the inning.

Mike Paul and Hal Kurtz bailed Williams out of a ninth inning jam—no fines incurred, though—to complete the shutout.

Jose Cardenal drove in Cleveland's only run with a second inning single after Duke Sims had doubled.

Frank Howard boomed his 21st homer of the year, carrying Washington to its victory over Oakland. Howard's two-run shot in the sixth inning landed some eight rows up in the left field stands at D.C. Stadium and snapped a 1-1 tie.

Two Boston errors and a wild pitch helped Detroit to four runs on only two hits in the seventh inning and a comeback victory over the Red Sox.

Denny McLain won his ninth game with Joe Foy's error helping the Tigers get started in the seventh and Rico Petrocelli's wild throw allowing the tying and winning runs to score.

PITCHING — Gary Nolan, Reds, bothered much of the season by arm trouble, made his second start and hurled a three-hitter as Cincinnati crushed Atlanta 10-0.

BATTING — Joe Pepitone, Yankees, cracked a grand slam home run and drove in two more runs with a triple, powering New York to a 7-2 triumph over Minnesota.

Red-Faced Cardinals Victims at Houston

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Writer

The Houston Astros pulled a sneaky trick on the red-faced St. Louis Cardinals and wound up with as much to show for it as the Pittsburgh Pirates, who caused their own embarrassment.

The Astros and Cardinals were locked in a 1-1 deadlock in the seventh inning Wednesday night when Julian Javier of St. Louis was tagged out at second base on the old hidden ball trick.

But the Cardinals wiped the egg off their faces and unloaded consecutive hits by Curt Flood, Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda in the eighth for a run that sent them to a 3-1 victory, their eighth straight.

Pittsburgh never had that chance to make amends as Los Angeles scored in the last of the 10th inning for a 2-1 victory when Maury Wills and Jerry May let in the winning run with errors on the same play.

Gary Nolan, troubled by a sore arm most of the season, left hard-hitting Atlanta a bit chagrined by stopping the Braves on three hits in pitching Cincinnati to a 10-0 rout.

Seaver Halts Cubs

In afternoon games in the National League, Tom Seaver and the New York Mets halted the Chicago Cubs 4-2, and Woody Fryman hurled Philadelphia by San Francisco 2-1 with a six-hitter.

Houston's moment for joy came after Javier singled and reached second base with two out as St. Louis pitcher Larry Jaster bunted and was thrown out by losing hurler Larry Dierker with second baseman Julio Gotay covering first base.

Gotay, a former Cardinals who failed to win the second base job from Javier in the early 1960s, kept the ball and walked back to second base and first baseman Rusty Staub went in to chat with Dierker. Javier stepped off the bag and, surprise, Gotay finally got him off second.

But the first-place Cardinals wasted little time erasing the glee of the Astros and saddled them with a fifth consecutive loss on Cepeda's hit and a run-scoring double by Lou Brock in the ninth.

Jaster, 4-2, allowed only six hits and the run off him was only the second earned marker he has given in 33 1-3 innings this season. He left after walking the first hitter in the ninth and rookie Wayne Granger retired the next three batters.

Bill Singer, 5-5, of the Dodgers and Al McBean' also 5-5, of Pittsburgh were locked in a 1-1 duel when embarrassment set in on the Pirates. Paul Popovich opened the 10th with a single and Versalles forced him at second. After Ron Fairly batted for Singer and popped out, the fun began when Wes Parker singled to center.

The throw from the outfield to third base got by Wills, extra embarrassing for a former Dodger who had his greatest days in Dodger Stadium. Versalles tried to score on the error and did when catcher May dropped the throw home.

Nolan, a rookie sensation in 1967, was making only his second start this season and had the Braves hanging their heads as he didn't allow a runner past second base. He had plenty of support as Lee May and Tony Perez each slammed two-run homers and Perez drove in two more with a single.

Seaver, given only 19 runs in his first 11 starts, raised his record to 3-5 although he left in the eighth inning with a pulled muscle in his left side. He also ignited a three-run fifth inning with a single.

Fryman won his eighth game in 12 decisions and his fifth in a row by outpitching Gaylord Perry. A sacrifice fly by Tony Gonzales and an error by Nate Oliver gave the Phillies their two runs in the first inning. Fryman gave up his first earned run in 38 1-3 inningswhen Willie Mays slammed his 10th homer in the second.

Taylor Snares Four RV Awards

Gordy Taylor, the Mister-Everything on Rondout Valley's football and basketball teams, copped four awards, including a pair of Most Valuable Player designations at the athletic awards presentations of the Rondout Valley Move-Up Day ceremonies.

Taylor, who competed in football, basketball and track for the Ganders, won the school's MVP in the first two sports, while winding up the team's and the UCAL's leading scorer in both.

Taylor set a record for most yards rushing at the Kyserike school, picking up 1,008 on the ground last fall. He guided the Ganders to their first undefeated season in any sport as RV finished 7-0-1.

In basketball, he wound up the top scorer in the loop with an average of 16-plus per game as RV won the title in a playoff.

Other awards went to Keith Gorham, Most Improved in football, Charlie George, leadership award and Tom Frazier, best defense, both in football.

Basketball found John Meehan, Jr., taking the assist trophy, Frank Samms the rebound title and Pete Koola, a 6-foot-4 sophomore, the best percentage from the field.

Dual MVP's were chosen in track, and went to the Popiano brothers, Jim and Pat. Gary Stewart got most improved there. This year's baseball awards were not made since the team hasn't finished its season.

Golf's MVP was Steve Linehan while first-year wrestler, Tom Coddington, won most points and most pins award in that sport. Gary Heinitz picked up the fastest pin and Tom Shea busted the school standard for most career points in wrestling. Dennis Baney was Jayvee grappler of the year and Fran Overton best cheerleader.

Braves, With Kosco as Guest, Open Season Tonight

Area baseball fans will be treated to a double-barrelled attraction tonight at Dietz Stadium when the Kingston Braves have Andy Kosco as their guest for the 1968 opener of the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

The current New York Yankee slugging star, Kosco will stage a pre-game batteing exhibition at 7:45 p. m. and perhaps say a few words to the assembled fans.

At 8 o'clock, the thoroughly revamped Braves make their debut in a brand new league against the New Windsor Rockets.

Manager Paul Giannuzzi has announced Ron Thomas, former Kingston High and Wagner College pitcher and Glenn Davis, UCCC receiver, as Kingston's opening battery.

A solid infield quartet is set with Pete Watzka, KHS Player of the Year in 1967 ad Cornell University freshman captain at third base. Watzka batted .375 for the Big Red yearlings.

Two Ulster Community College infielders — Mike Derrenbacher at second and Lou Perry at short, join Watzka and hard hitting Chick Bodice at first base to round out the infield quartet. Bodice is one of the two over-age players eligible for the Braves in the 17 to 23-year old league.

Buytkins in Outfield

Paul Buytkins, a former scholastic star, who went on to fame at Rider College, anchors an impressive Braves outfield. He will be joined by Ron Valle and Joe Schabot, with Doug Horton, one of last year's batting stars available for one game.

Backing up Thomas in the pitching corps will be Gary Van Etten; Frank McGowan, of Oneonta State; Charlie James, the Kingston High strikeout wizard; Gary Van Etten and Gene Stoutenburg.

Manager Giannuzzi and General Manager Fred Davi, the perennial baseball promoter in the area, are highly optimistic about the Braves' chances in the solid, 11-team league.

"We think we have the best team to represent Kingston in many years," they said. "We have a sound defense, good power and perhaps the finest pitching staff assembled for a local team in many years."

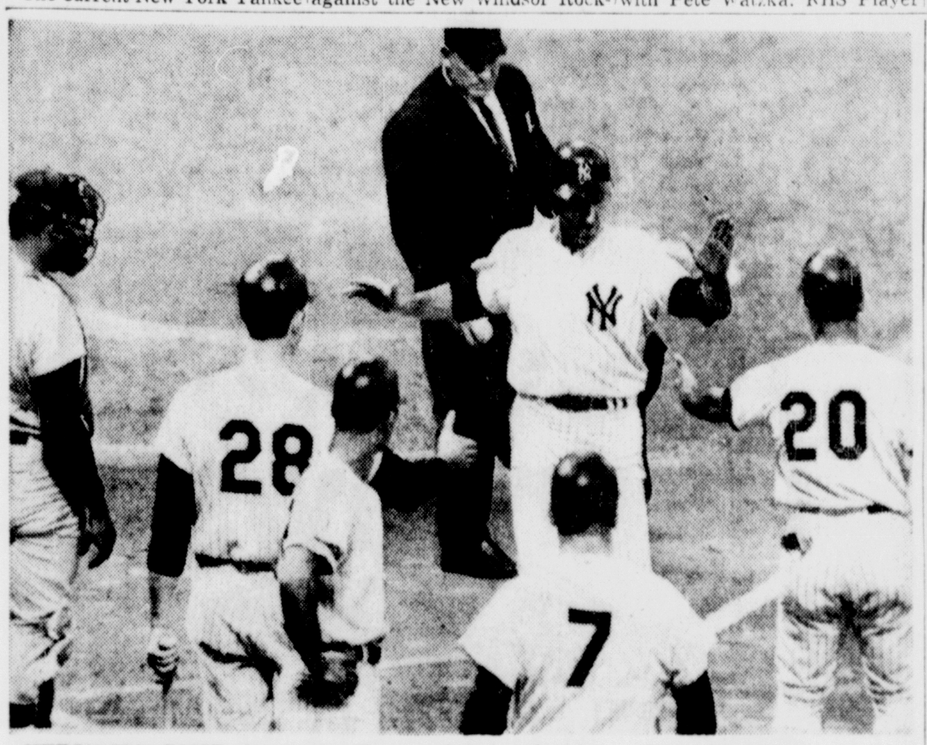

Strikeout Ace Starts

New Windsor Rockets announced they would lead with their fireballing strikeout artist—Dennis Robinson, a 6-foot Peekskill collegian. Robinson led the Rookie League with 93 strikeouts in 1967 and, if anything, is bigger and faster now.

New Windsor also boasts a strong backup pitcher in Dave McEntee of Newburgh. Two of the players to watch include Joe Lahey, a shortstop who played at Manhattan this spring and Jim Rizzo, who doubles as third baseman and relief pitcher.

The Rockets are managed by Ettore Giammarco, veteran Newburgh baseball figure and one-time player in the New York Yankees farm system. Giammarco has been one of the most successful developers of baseball talent in Orange County for two decades.

A brief pre-game ceremony will be held, with the ball game to start at 8 o'clock.

Pepitone's Grand Slam Sparks 7-2 Yankee Win

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a simply grand evening for Joe Pepitone and Dave Johnson but not so good for Buddy Bradford.

Pepitone drove in six runs—four of them with a grand slam home run—leading the New York Yankees to a 7-2 romp over Minnesota Wednesday night.

Johnson also tagged a grand slam and Baltimore belted California 7-1.

But Bradford was $5 lighter in the wallet as the first victim of Eddie Stanky's campaign to wake up his Chicago White Sox. The Sox bowed 1-0 to Cleveland and Bradford was the only player to violate Stanky's new Golden Rules.

In other American League action Wednesday, Detroit nipped Boston 5-4 and Washington clipped Oakland 3-1.

Pepitone unloaded his fourth career grand slam and second against Dean Chance in the first inning and the Yankees coasted after that. Horace Clarke led off with a single and Roy White and Mickey Mantle walked before Pepitone connected.

In the fifth inning, after the Twins had cut the lead in half on consecutive homers by Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva, White and Mantle walked, setting up Pepitone again. This time Joe hit a sinking liner that got past Ted Uhlaender's diving try and rolled to the wall for a triple.

Mel Stottlemyre, 7-4, coasted with a five-hitter, disturbed only by the consecutive homers by Killebrew and Oliva.

A single by Brooks Robinson and two walks loaded the bases for Baltimore against California's Clyde Wright in the fifth inning and Johnson sliced a 315-foot homer just inside the right field foul line.

Curt Motton had homered earlier for the Orioles and Jim Hardin coasted with a five-hitter for his seventh victory.

Bradford failed to score a runner from third base with less than two out—one of three sins Stanky has decided will cost the White Sox $5 for every violation. The others are failure to advance a runner who reached second with less than two out and failure to advance a runner in a bunt situation.

The ground rules were installed after Chicago had dropped 3-2 and 2-1 decisions at the hands of the Indians. The improvement was not immediately noticable.

Stan Williams was in almost absolute control until the eighth so Stanky didn't have much chance to put his system to work. Duane Josephson opened with a pinch double and Russ Snyder advanced him on a fly ball. But Bradford bounced out, invoking the fine, and Sandy Alomar, off the hook with two out, struck out, ending the inning.

Mike Paul and Hal Kurtz bailed Williams out of a ninth inning jam—no fines incurred, though—to complete the shutout.

Jose Cardenal drove in Cleveland's only run with a second inning single after Duke Sims had doubled.

Frank Howard boomed his 21st homer of the year, carrying Washington to its victory over Oakland. Howard's two-run shot in the sixth inning landed some eight rows up in the left field stands at D.C. Stadium and snapped a 1-1 tie.

Two Boston errors and a wild pitch helped Detroit to four runs on only two hits in the seventh inning and a comeback victory over the Red Sox.

Denny McLain won his ninth game with Joe Foy's error helping the Tigers get started in the seventh and Rico Petrocelli's wild throw allowing the tying and winning runs to score.

Red-Faced Cardinals Victims at Houston

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Writer

The Houston Astros pulled a sneaky trick on the red-faced St. Louis Cardinals and wound up with as much to show for it as the Pittsburgh Pirates, who caused their own embarrassment.

The Astros and Cardinals were locked in a 1-1 deadlock in the seventh inning Wednesday night when Julian Javier of St. Louis was tagged out at second base on the old hidden ball trick.

But the Cardinals wiped the egg off their faces and unloaded consecutive hits by Curt Flood, Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda in the eighth for a run that sent them to a 3-1 victory, their eighth straight.

Pittsburgh never had that chance to make amends as Los Angeles scored in the last of the 10th inning for a 2-1 victory when Maury Wills and Jerry May let in the winning run with errors on the same play.

Gary Nolan, troubled by a sore arm most of the season, left hard-hitting Atlanta a bit chagrined by stopping the Braves on three hits in pitching Cincinnati to a 10-0 rout.

Seaver Halts Cubs

In afternoon games in the National League, Tom Seaver and the New York Mets halted the Chicago Cubs 4-2, and Woody Fryman hurled Philadelphia by San Francisco 2-1 with a six-hitter.

Houston's moment for joy came after Javier singled and reached second base with two out as St. Louis pitcher Larry Jaster bunted and was thrown out by losing hurler Larry Dierker with second baseman Julio Gotay covering first base.

Gotay, a former Cardinals who failed to win the second base job from Javier in the early 1960s, kept the ball and walked back to second base and first baseman Rusty Staub went in to chat with Dierker. Javier stepped off the bag and, surprise, Gotay finally got him off second.

But the first-place Cardinals wasted little time erasing the glee of the Astros and saddled them with a fifth consecutive loss on Cepeda's hit and a run-scoring double by Lou Brock in the ninth.

Jaster, 4-2, allowed only six hits and the run off him was only the second earned marker he has given in 33 1-3 innings this season. He left after walking the first hitter in the ninth and rookie Wayne Granger retired the next three batters.

Bill Singer, 5-5, of the Dodgers and Al McBean' also 5-5, of Pittsburgh were locked in a 1-1 duel when embarrassment set in on the Pirates. Paul Popovich opened the 10th with a single and Versalles forced him at second. After Ron Fairly batted for Singer and popped out, the fun began when Wes Parker singled to center.

The throw from the outfield to third base got by Wills, extra embarrassing for a former Dodger who had his greatest days in Dodger Stadium. Versalles tried to score on the error and did when catcher May dropped the throw home.

Nolan, a rookie sensation in 1967, was making only his second start this season and had the Braves hanging their heads as he didn't allow a runner past second base. He had plenty of support as Lee May and Tony Perez each slammed two-run homers and Perez drove in two more with a single.

Seaver, given only 19 runs in his first 11 starts, raised his record to 3-5 although he left in the eighth inning with a pulled muscle in his left side. He also ignited a three-run fifth inning with a single.

Fryman won his eighth game in 12 decisions and his fifth in a row by outpitching Gaylord Perry. A sacrifice fly by Tony Gonzales and an error by Nate Oliver gave the Phillies their two runs in the first inning. Fryman gave up his first earned run in 38 1-3 inningswhen Willie Mays slammed his 10th homer in the second.

Taylor Snares Four RV Awards

Gordy Taylor, the Mister-Everything on Rondout Valley's football and basketball teams, copped four awards, including a pair of Most Valuable Player designations at the athletic awards presentations of the Rondout Valley Move-Up Day ceremonies.

Taylor, who competed in football, basketball and track for the Ganders, won the school's MVP in the first two sports, while winding up the team's and the UCAL's leading scorer in both.

Taylor set a record for most yards rushing at the Kyserike school, picking up 1,008 on the ground last fall. He guided the Ganders to their first undefeated season in any sport as RV finished 7-0-1.

In basketball, he wound up the top scorer in the loop with an average of 18-plus per game as RV won the title in a playoff.

Other awards went to Keith Gorham, Most Improved in football, Charlie George, leadership award and Tom Frazier, best defense, both in football.

Basketball found John Meehan, Jr., taking the assist trophy, Frank Samms the rebound title and Pete Koola, a 6-foot-4 sophomore, the best percentage from the field.

Dual MVP's were chosen in track, and went to the Popiano brothers, Jim and Pat. Gary Stewart got most improved there. This year's baseball awards were not made since the team hasn't finished its season.

Golf's MVP was Steve Linehan while first-year wrestler, Tom Coddington, won most points and most pins award in that sport. Gary Heinitz picked up the fastest pin and Tom Shea busted the school standard for most career points in wrestling. Dennis Baney was Jayvee grappler of the year and Fran Overton best cheerleader.

Ray's Will Seek Second Victory

Ray's Chevrolets seek their second victory in four Hudson Valley Softball League decisions tonight at 8 o'clock at Block Park.

The local go against Beacon, with George Norton tabbed for the starting pitching assignment. Jim Spohr is expected to go for the Dutchess tossers.

The team are scheduled to meet again Sunday at Beacon.

Improved parking facilities are now available for spectators at Block Park.

Hurley and Elks Score Victories in Babe Ruth

Don Fisher hurled a 4-hitter and struck out 12, as Hurley downed Kingston Lions, 8-2, in the American division of the Babe Ruth League Wednesday. All the Hurley runs came in the last inning.

In the National, VFW grabbed a 7-0 lead in the first two innings and went on to defeat Elks, 9-6. G. Geanuleas of VFW permitted only one hit, a single by Steve Van Kleek, but five Vet errors helped swell the Elks total.

Trailing 2-0 going into their last turn at bat, Hurley exploded for eight runs against the Lions. The rally included two walks, a double by Jay Snider and singles by Vic Nuylassy, Bob Stenson, Brown and Johnston. Fisher, who led off the inning with a walk, later singled.

Harold Johnston led Hurley with two hits and Frank Carey had two for the Lions and scored a run. Fisher struck out 12 and Tom Kuriger whiffed 11 before the last inning explosion.

Geanuleas and B. Diffley collected two hits each for VFW. Geanuleas struck out 14 and did not walk a batter.

Rich Hoffman Leads Shanley's 3-1 Win

Richie Hoffman led Hotel Shanley to its Ellenville softball league triumph by blasting a fourth inning homer and fanning 13 opposing batters as Hotel Shanley toppled Silver Grill, 3-1, last night.

Hoffman allowed only one walk en route to his second victory. Loser Jack Heckman, Jr., whiffed 11 and walked three.

Heckman, Jr., doubled to right center in the fifth inning for Silver Grill. Charlie Scott scored him on a grounder up the middle South Side Men's Club remained undefeated (4-0) in the Yankee Division of the Saugerties Softball League, as John Freligh turned back Ferroxcube, 8-2, on a well-spaced 7-hitter.

Hurley and Elks Score Victories in Babe Ruth

Don Fisher hurled a 4-hitter and struck out 12, as Hurley downed Kingston Lions, 8-2, in the American division of the Babe Ruth League Wednesday. All the Hurley runs came in the last inning.

Harold Johnston led Hurley with two hits and Frank Carey had two for the Lions and scored a run. Fisher struck out 12 and Tom Kuriger whiffed 11 before the last inning explosion.

Geanuleas and B. Diffley collected two hits each for VFW. Geanuleas struck out 14 and did not walk a batter.

Rich Hoffman Leads Shanley's 3-1 Win

Richie Hoffman led Hotel Shanley to its Ellenville softball league triumph by blasting a fourth inning homer and fanning 13 opposing batters as Hotel Shanley toppled Silver Grill, 3-1, last night.

Hoffman allowed only one walk en route to his second victory. Loser Jack Heckman, Jr., whiffed 11 and walked three.

Hoffman's four bagger came with one out in the fourth inning. Rickie Conklin walked and then Hoffman clouted a shot over the center field fence for two runs that sewed up the game for Hotel Shanley. The Hotelmen led off with a tally in the first. Leon Julian doubled to left and scored on a Dickie Conklin single.

Heckman, Jr., doubled to right center in the fifth inning for Silver Grill. Charlie Scott scored him on a grounder up the middle.

Eddie's Country Fair is slated against Wright's Service Station tonight. Probable pitchers are Corky VanVliet (0-2) for Eddie's and lefty Ron Joray (0-1) for Wright's.

Monticello Feature To Peter Evander

MONTICELLO—Peter Evander, a five-year-old imported gelding from New Zealand, breezed to a 2:07.1 victory in the featured pace last night at Monticello Raceway.

Reined by Bobby Bostic from the rail, Peter Evander, owned by Bernie Hammer and Sidney Kimmel, both of Pennsylvania, went off the 6-5 favorite in the the field of eight, and drove immediately for the top.

At the clubhouse turn the first time around, he held the lead by a half-length, being pushed by Mr. Lindsay, racing on the outside.

Mr. Lindsay, driven by Bob Campbell, and leaving from the four slot, made it to the front on the backstretch and was in the lead at the quarter, reaching the mark in :31.

Peter Evander stayed second through the paddock turn, then moved outside as they came by the stands for the first time, regaining the lead just before the half. The half time was 1:04.3.

Mr. Lindsay remained second, again moving outside to challenge and pushed Peter Evander to the three-quarters in 1:37.

In the stretch coming home, Mr. Lindsay went off stride, leaving the winner a two-length gap ahead of So Long's Prince, who finished second.

At the short odds, Peter Evander returned $4.60, 3.20 and 2.60. So Long's Prince (2) paid $3.40 and 3.00 for place and Irish Pick (3) was worth $3.60 for show.

Bill Dawkins and Joe Firetti teamed up to form a slim $14.60 Daily Double, Dawkins reining Schooldic in the first and Firetti piloting Just My Bill in the nightcap. The combo was numbers 5 and 6.

Monticello Feature To Peter Evander

MONTICELLO—Peter Evander, a five-year-old imported gelding from New Zealand, breezed to a 2:07.1 victory in the featured pace last night at Monticello Raceway.

Reined by Bobby Bostic from the rail, Peter Evander, owned by Bernie Hammer and Sidney Kimmel, both of Pennsylvania, went off the 6-5 favorite in the the field of eight, and drove immediately for the top.

At the clubhouse turn the first time around, he held the lead by a half-length, being pushed by Mr. Lindsay, racing on the outside.

Mr. Lindsay, driven by Bob Campbell, and leaving from the four slot, made it to the front on the backstretch and was in the lead at the quarter, reaching the mark in :31.

Peter Evander stayed second through the paddock turn, then moved outside as they came by the stands for the first time, regaining the lead just before the half. The half time was 1:04.3.

Mr. Lindsay remained second, again moving outside to challenge and pushed Peter Evander to the three-quarters in 1:37.

In the stretch coming home, Mr. Lindsay went off stride, leaving the winner a two-length gap ahead of So Long's Prince, who finished second.

At the short odds, Peter Evander returned $4.60, 3.20 and 2.60. So Long's Prince (2) paid $3.40 and 3.00 for place and Irish Pick (3) was worth $3.60 for show.

Bill Dawkins and Joe Firetti teamed up to form a slim $14.60 Daily Double, Dawkins reining Schooldic in the first and Firetti piloting Just My Bill in the nightcap. The combo was numbers 5 and 6.

DeSapio and Power Firm In the Marcus Testimony

NEW YORK (AP) — James L. Marcus has testified that when he was city water commissioner he was requested to delay approval of a permit to the Consolidated Edison Co. while Carmine G. DeSapio, former leader of Tammany Hall, was trying to make a deal with the utility company.

Marcus, who has pleaded guilty to bribery conspiracy and turned state's evidence, testified Wednesday that the request for delay was made last September by Herbert Itkin, his lawyer and business associate, who was trying to negotiate a deal with DeSapio.

Cross-Examination

Marcus, formerly a close adviser of Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay, gave the testimony under cross-examination by a defense lawyer at the trial of four men and a company on bribery conspiracy charges in U.S. District Court. The charges do not involve Consolidated Edison.

The witness answered in the affirmative when asked if there was a time when he, as water commissioner, had "done business' with Consoldiated Edison.

Marcus testified: "Itkin came to me and said that Con Ed wanted a permit to increase the voltage on one of their power lines for 20 miles." He added that his approval of the increase was needed.

Marcus testified that "Itkin said I should hold up for a while because he was negotiating with Carmine DeSapio, who was negotiating with Con Ed." He said Itkin asked him to delay the approval for "a few weeks."

When Judge Edward Weinfeld adjourned the jury trial overnight, there had been no testimony on whether Marcus actually did delay the approval of the permit. And there was no testimony about details of the alleged negotiations.

No Comment Yet

The trial concerns alleged kickbacks of $40,000 in connection with Marcus' award of an $840,000 emergency contract, without bidding, to a contracting company to clean the Jerome Park Reservoir in the Bronx. Marcus has admitted he took a $16,000 kickback.

DeSapio who lost the leadership of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, seven years ago, was not available for comment on the testimony regarding him and Consolidated Edison. A spokesman for Consolidated Edison declined comment on Marcus' testimony.

Itkin, like Marcus, has had his case severed from the trial of the other defendants and he is expected to testify for the prsecution.

Marcus admitted under cross-examination that he lied to a grand jury and to Lindsay, who had appointed him to the $30,000-a-year city job from which he resigned a week before he was indicted last winter.

Marcus, 37-year-old son-in-law of former Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut, was asked: "Would you regard yourself as a truthful man?"

A. "Yes, generally speaking."

Q. "Did you tell the truth to Mayor Lindsay when he asked you if there was anything wrong in your department:"

A. "Mayor Lindsay asked me if the investigation pertained to my private business affairs and I said yes."

Marcus had testified previously that he became involved in the kickback to help cover his heavy stock market losses.

He testified under cross-examination Wednesday that his letter of resignation as water commissioner was prepared by Lindsay and City Investigations Commissioner Arnold G. Fraiman.

Marcus was asked if the letter was correct in saying he was "free of any Wrongdoing." His answer was: "No, it wasn't correct. That was the Mayor's letter—the mayor's and Commissioner Fraiman."

INVESTOR FORUM

THE DOLLAR
By Harry C. France

Europe is looking very critically at the dollar. And leaders there are not eager to accumulate them. They prefer gold, which, as this article has pointed out many times, earns nothing and moreover costs money for storage and insurance.

In the meantime, gold prices continue to advance. In the middle of May, 1968, gold hit $41.375 an ounce in the English and Swiss markets. Hoarders of the precious metal are in no hurry to cash in their profits. Of course, they believe that gold will go higher.

And the basis for this belief is solid. The financial house of the U. S. government is not in order. Leaders in Congress who are demanding curtailed domestic spending before tax increases are imposed are making little progress.

The federal debt still hovers at around its $358 billion ceiling. Of course, something drastic should be done to balance the budget. If Uncle Sam were to get his financial house in order, the dollar's integrity would be restored. This would have international implications.

Today, the dollar should be the world's leading currency. The U. S. government is the richest and most powerful in the world. Its influence everywhere is great.

Individuals who don't balance their budgets and continually have to borrow to pay their bills eventually destroy their credit rating.

Uncle Sam lives under the same laws. But he can borrow and borrow bbecause the U. S. Constitution gives immense powers to Congress. And if this body approves deficit financing, monetization of the debt and the many forces growing out of this situation, inflationary dollars will continue to flow into the national economy.

On May 1, 1967, the demand deposits and the time and savings deposits in America's commercial banks totaled $302 billion. On May 1, 1968, they were $329 billion. Thus, in one year, they advanced by more than $27 billion.

There is a definite relationship between the increase in the money supplies of this country and the growth of the federal debt.

The quality of any country's currency eventually influences its total national life. For its quality reaches down into its wage, price and cost base, and where deterioration is, there are forces affecting everybody.

Rich America should not have an inflationary dollar. Borrowing constantly and forever should be stopped. The secretary of the treasury has a gigantic burden on his shoulders.

He must look a federal debt of $352 billion and an annual federal budget of about $185 billion in the face and come up smiling. His is the biggest and most responsible job in the financial world.

Every investor must formulate a policy that fits into today's inflational economy. And dollars and fixed-dollar values suffer under inflation.

Colonie Fire Kills Woman With Broken Leg

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A mother with a broken leg died today in a house fire in suburban Colonie. Her husband, a disabled war veteran, rescued their 8-year-old son.

Chester Jones told police fire and smoke prevented him from reaching his wife, Theresa, 43, who was confined to the bedroom where the fire broke out.

He said he was in the basement of the one - story house, watching television reports of the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, when he heard a scream.

He pulled his son John from the burning room. Neither father nor son was injured, police said.

A 14-year-old daughter, Jean, had left for school. Two older Jones children do not live at home.

Firemen prevented flames from spreading from the bed room, but the rest of the house was damaged by smoke and water.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

DeSapio and Power Firm In the Marcus Testimony

NEW YORK (AP) — James L. Marcus has testified that when he was city water commissioner he was requested to delay approval of a permit to the Consolidated Edison Co. while Carmine G. DeSapio, former leader of Tammany Hall, was trying to make a deal with the utility company.

Marcus, who has pleaded guilty to bribery conspiracy and turned state's evidence, testified Wednesday that the request for delay was made last September by Herbert Itkin, his lawyer and business associate, who was trying to negotiate a deal with DeSapio.

Cross-Examination

Marcus, formerly a close adviser of Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay, gave the testimony under cross-examination by a defense lawyer at the trial of four men and a company on bribery conspiracy charges in U.S. District Court. The charges do not involve Consolidated Edison.

The witness answered in the affirmative when asked if there was a time when he, as water commissioner, had "done business" with Consoldiated Edison.

Marcus testified: "Itkin came to me and said that Con Ed wanted a permit to increase the voltage on one of their power lines for 20 miles." He added that his approval of the increase was needed.

Marcus testified that "Itkin said I should hold up for a while because he was negotiating with Carmine DeSapio, who was negotiating with Con Ed." He said Itkin asked him to delay the approval for "a few weeks."

When Judge Edward Weinfeld adjourned the jury trial overnight, there had been no testimony on whether Marcus actually did delay the approval of the permit. And there was no testimony about details of the alleged negotiations.

No Comment Yet

The trial concerns alleged kickbacks of $40,000 in connection with Marcus' award of an $840,000 emergency contract, without bidding, to a contracting company to clean the Jerome Park Reservoir in the Bronx. Marcus has admitted he took a $16,000 kickback.

DeSapio who lost the leadership of Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, seven years ago, was not available for comment on the testimony regarding him and Consolidated Edison. A spokesman for Consolidated Edison declined comment on Marcus' testimony.

Itkin, like Marcus, has had his case severed from the trial of the other defendants and he is expected to testify for the prsecution.

Marcus admitted under cross-examination that he lied to a grand jury and to Lindsay, who had appointed him to the $30,000-a-year city job from which he resigned a week before he was indicted last winter.

Marcus, 37-year-old son-in-law of former Gov. John Davis Lodge of Connecticut, was asked: "Would you regard yourself as a truthful man?"

Q. "Did you tell the truth to Mayor Lindsay when he asked you if there was anything wrong in your department:"

Finger Home Reelects Slate

Mrs. Stanley Olsen was re-elected president of the board of managers of the Ellen Russell Finger Home at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Michael Schovel on Washington Avenue. Also reelected were: Mrs. Michael Schovel, vice-president; Mrs. Calvin Roundtree, treasurer; Mrs. Warren Myer, secretary.

Mrs. Olsen reported one vacancy at the home. Any woman interested in residing at the home may call Mrs. Olsen or Mrs. Milton Armstrong. It was announced that a large dining room table and six chairs has been bought for the home.

A letter was read from the State Department of Social Services, stating in part, "The facilities of the home were found to be clean and comfortable. The residents appear to be adequately cared for and their basic needs are met. The staff shows interest and concern in their well being. Nutritious and balanced meals are properly prepared and nicely served." It also recommended that a sprinkler or fire detecting heads be installed in areas not so covered and contain or be connected to an alarm. Any one wishing to contribute to the cost of these installations may do so by sending their contribution to Miss Rena DeWitt on Washington Avenue.

The next meeting of the board will be held on June 27 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Olsen.

Abby Still Threat To Florida Area

Hurricane warnings continued today between Melbourne and Jacksonville, Fla., as tropical storm Abby held out a last threat while hovering over Cape Kennedy.

Abby began a slow northward drift, held somewhat in place by a high pressure system which in turn was being supported by the warm air pumped up by the storm itself.

South of Melbourne to Palm Beach, gale warnings were in effect as Abby whipped up winds as high as 60 miles an hour at Daytona Beach. Winds at 73 miles an hour are considered hurricane force.

Other severe weather was reported along a line from southeastern North Dakota through central Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin, where severe thunderstorms were likely.

Showers and thundershowers continued today across the Great Lakes area.

Thunderstorms also were reported over the Southern Plains but appeared to be dwindling.

Sexton Summit, Ore., reported the nation's low temperature at 3 a.m., EDT, today with a 39-degree reading.

Colonie Fire Kills Woman With Broken Leg

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A mother with a broken leg died today in a house fire in suburban Colonie. Her husband, a disabled war veteran, rescued their 8-year-old son.

Chester Jones told police fire and smoke prevented him from reaching his wife, Theresa, 43, who was confined to the bedroom where the fire broke out.

He said he was in the basement of the one - story house, watching television reports of the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, when he heard a scream.

He pulled his son John from the burning room. Neither father nor son was injured, police said.

A 14-year-old daughter, Jean, had left for school. Two older Jones children do not live at home.

Firemen prevented flames from spreading from the bed room, but the rest of the house was damaged by smoke and water.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

The house is at 1 Cathy Drive.

Welcome to your house.

That's right, yours. You may not pay for the electric bills or the mortgage on the White House but it still belongs to you. It belongs to all of us. Perhaps more than any other country around, America, with its many natural and man-made wonders, belongs to its people...all its people.

They're ours free, just for being Americans. This year why not plan to Discover America. After all, it's yours. (Including your home away from home.)

This year, discover America for yourself.

Bridge Meetings

Junior Girl Scout Troop 35 of Lake Katrine started a series of three bridging activities by inviting Brownie Troop 116 of Lake Katrine to their weekly meeting. The program for the evening was skills needed for outdoor activities. Each of four patrols chose a skill to teach. The Brownies were incorporated into the patrols. Skills taught were knot tying, making of vagabond stoves, first aid and trail signs. The Brownies furnished Troop 35 with refreshments.

Pat Ljutic and Pat Sande, Cadette Scouts, assisted the group also. At the close of the meeting Mrs. H. P. Hoffman, leader of Troop 35, explained to Troop 116 the Fly-up wings, Sign of the Arrow and Sign of the Star including the requirements under these goals.

There was a total of 42 Girl Scouts, Juniors, Brownies, Cadettes and adults present at this meeting.

Wendy Weekend

Seniors, Cadettes and Juniors arrived at the camp Friday night while Brownies some Juniors and many adult volunteers arrived Saturday morning.

Events included contests and races for all age levels. A hootennanny planned for the closing was rained out.

Committee for the camp session included Mrs. Elston North, junior chairman; Mrs. Alexander Plonsky, Mrs. H.P. Hoffman, Mrs. Raymond Brown and Mrs. William Kelsey, bus chairman.

Katrine Brownies

Brownie Troop 13 of Lake Katrine School recently was taken on a tour of the Buzzanco Hot house on the Sawkill—Ruby Road. They learned many interesting things about the uses of a hothouse for growing a wide variety of flowers and vegetables. While there the girls also had an opportunity to choose several varieities of flowers to put in wheelbarrow flower pots which they had made from popsicle sticks for gifts. The troop also visited the Emma Wygant School for Retarded Children and held a joint troop meeting with Special Troop 131 at the school, during which they shared a lunch and joined in a games and singing program after lunch.

Neighborhood Notes

Mrs. Neil Ryder, leader of Junior Troop 76, has just recently accepted the position of Troop Organizer for the Kingston Neighborhood.

A news letter has been distributed to all first graders in the Kingston City schools who will be eligible to join the Brownie program on entering the second grade in September. With the possibilty of many new Brownies it will be necessary also to find additional help in the volunteer adult level. Those children may contact the Girl Scout Office for the name of the service team chairman in their area.

Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts is an active member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

After Everest?

AUCKLAND (AP) — Sir Edmund Hillary, New Zealand conqueror of Mount Everest, now wants to explore a river in the area.

If the Nepalese government will let him, he plans to use two New Zealand-made jet boats to navigate a 25-mile stretch of the Sun Kosi River from he Indian border to Matmandu, capital of Nepal.

He has already viewed 90 miles of the river from a helicopter and found rapids every two miles. Although this indicates more than 100 rapids in the 250 miles, Sir Edmund feels that his boats would have a good chance of making the full journey.

And if they do, the trip would help to bear out his belief that jet boats could open up the counry economically.

At present, he says hundreds of thousands of Nepalese living near the river are virtually isolated. A journey to Katmandu, carrying their produce on their backs, takes travelers up to 10 days.

Sir Edmund hopes to make the trip in August or early September.

Skaters Fete

Girl Scout News

Bridge Meetings

Junior Girl Scout Troop 35 of Lake Katrine started a series of three bridging activities by inviting Brownie Troop 116 of Lake Katrine to their weekly meeting. The program for the evening was skills needed for outdoor activities. Each of four patrols chose a skill to teach. The Brownies were incorporated into the patrols. Skills taught were knot tying, making of vagabond stoves, first aid and trail signs. The Brownies furnished Troop 35 with refreshments.

Pat Ljutic and Pat Sande, Cadette Scouts, assisted the group also. At the close of the meeting Mrs. H. P. Hoffman, leader of Troop 35, explained to Troop 116 the Fly-up wings, Sign of the Arrow and Sign of the Star including the requirements under these goals.

There was a total of 42 Girl Scouts, Juniors, Brownies, Cadettes and adults present at this meeting.

Wendy Weekend

The camping season got a head start on a recent spring weekend when more than 600 Girl Scouts from the Kingston and Ulster Hurley Neighborhoods participated in a skills and activities program at Camp Wendy.

Seniors, Cadettes and Juniors arrived at the camp Friday night while Brownies some Juniors and many adult volunteers arrived Saturday morning.

Events included contests and races for all age levels. A hootennanny planned for the closing was rained out.

Committee for the camp session included Mrs. Elston North, junior chairman; Mrs. Alexander Plonsky, Mrs. H.P. Hoffman, Mrs. Raymond Brown and Mrs. William Kelsey, bus chairman.

Katrine Brownies

Brownie Troop 13 of Lake Katrine School recently was taken on a tour of the Buzzanco Hot house on the Sawkill—Ruby Road. They learned many interesting things about the uses of a hothouse for growing a wide variety of flowers and vegetables. While there the girls also had an opportunity to choose several varieities of flowers to put in wheelbarrow flower pots which they had made from popsicle sticks for gifts. The troop also visited the Emma Wygant School for Retarded Children and held a joint troop meeting with Special Troop 131 at the school, during which they shared a lunch and joined in a games and singing program after lunch.

Neighborhood Notes

Mrs. Neil Ryder, leader of Junior Troop 76, has just recently accepted the position of Troop Organizer for the Kingston Neighborhood.

A news letter has been distributed to all first graders in the Kingston City schools who will be eligible to join the Brownie program on entering the second grade in September. With the possibilty of many new Brownies it will be necessary also to find additional help in the volunteer adult level. Those children may contact the Girl Scout Office for the name of the service team chairman in their area.

Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts is an active member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

After Everest?

AUCKLAND (AP) — Sir Edmund Hillary, New Zealand conqueror of Mount Everest, now wants to explore a river in the area.

If the Nepalese government will let him, he plans to use two New Zealand-made jet boats to navigate a 25-mile stretch of the Sun Kosi River from he Indian border to Matmandu, capital of Nepal.

He has already viewed 90 miles of the river from a helicopter and found rapids every two miles. Although this indicates more than 100 rapids in the 250 miles, Sir Edmund feels that his boats would have a good chance of making the full journey.

And if they do, the trip would help to bear out his belief that jet boats could open up the counry economically.

At present, he says hundreds of thousands of Nepalese living near the river are virtually isolated. A journey to Katmandu, carrying their produce on their backs, takes travelers up to 10 days.

Sir Edmund hopes to make the trip in August or early September.

Skaters Fete

Junior Troop 76, of Old Dutch Church hosted a roller skating party at Spring Lake Roller Rink, Mrs. Edith Heggestad, assistant leader prepared a check list of badge requirements for all the girls participating. The party was one of a series planned by Kingston area leaders in which many Junior scouts participated on more than one occasion.

MR. BUSINESSMAN — Your ad in

Dear Abby

Brother Ridicules Sister

DEAR ABBY: I was born in Vermont, where I lived for over 50 years. Now, owing to ill health, I am living with a younger brother in Nevada.

I have had little formal education, and my brother and his wife are both college graduates. To them, my way of speaking is hilariously funny. Even their children will repeat something I have said, and the whole family will laugh uproariously.

My brother will say, "We're having company tonight. Stick around. They'll get a kick out of hearing you talk." Should I be flattered? Or should I suggest they charge admission?

I respect my brother and his family for their kindness to me, but how does one keep from feeling resentment? I sometimes wonder if others are also going thru the same thing, and if so, how do they handle it?

HURT

DEAR HURT: In all probability, your brother and his family are not aware of how you feel. So tell them. People with accents, (southern, Yankee, eastern, midwestern, and foreign) are frequently the objects of "curosity," away from home. Of course it is rude and unkind to laugh at such a person, even tho the laughter may be more from amusement than ridicule.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Unlike the 14-year-old girl whose problem was a mustache, our 13-year-old daughter, Cynthia, has thick, black sideburns which are very conspicuous.

I think they look terrible, and when she goes anywhere with me, I make her comb her hair to hide them, but Cynthia thinks they look so "neat" she loops her hair over her ears to show them off!

Abby, she tries to tell me they are "in" now. In fact, she picked up a newspaper at a barbershop showing an ad of "HIS AND HER" sideburns, sold by some wig-maker in New York. (Do they actually make such items, or is it a joke?)

Cynthia boasts that she's the only 7th grader (male or female) with genuine sideburns—like Dino Martin.

I never thought I would produce a freak like her. Maybe she'll outgrow it, but in the meantime, will you pray for us?

PASS CHRISTIAN, MISS.

DEAR PASS: The only problem I see here is a mother who is making a problem where none exists. Let the child alone. When Cynthia's sideburns become a liability to her together you can find a solution. In the meantime, I'll pray for a better understanding between you two.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Last year we put in a swimming pool. Please don't get the idea that we are millionaires. We aren't. We're just average folks in moderate circumstances. We like to share our pool with our neighbors, but some people don't know when when enough is enough.

We started serving soft drinks to the kids, and beer to the adults, but that didn't last long. We did a bigger business than the country club.

How can we let our neighbors know that there are days when we've invited guests, and the whole neighborhood gang is not invited? I know we should not have been so big-hearted last year, but now that we realize our mistake, what should we do?

PORTOLA VALLEY

DEAR PORTOLA VALLEY: Fly a little "flag" on a pole to let your neighbors know that the pool is open for "all." If you plan a private party, no flag. Then educate your neighbors. It's as simple as that.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You were much too gentle in your answer to the teen-ager who looked her mother in the eye with hate and said, "I DON'T OWE YOU ANYTHING. I DIDN'T ASK TO BE BORN."

If she were my daughter, I would have said, "That's right and I didn't HAVE to raise you either. I could have sent you to an orphanage."

Partners Talk Disaster Hand

By Oswald and James Jacoby

In a recent expert team game, both North-South pairs reached an impossible spade slam. At each table, the opening lead was the heart king and each South player saw a chance to make his contract. He would discard a club on dummy's ace of hearts and start on diamonds. Unfortunately for all South players, West was unkind enough to ruff the third diamond with the nine of trumps and the hand would collapse.

The bidding in the box is that of the first table. South was rather critical of North's jump to four spades and pointed out that, if North just had five spades to the king and nothing else, the slam would be practically a laydown.

We agree. North's hand might hold the cards to produce game opposite some minimum openingbids but we play percentages and, in general, there would be no game unless South could rebid over a single raise by North.

At the other table, North made the bid that we consider correct and raised to two spades. South might well have simply bid game but he was looking for a slam and bid three diamonds. North proceeded to jump to four spades, whereupon South bid six. The same lead and the same one down resulted.

North and South had one of those happy partnerships in which each partner tries to blame himself for any bad result. North said immediately, "I should have bid three hearts over your three diamonds. That surely would have warned you of duplication and you would have contented yourself by merely going to game."

South replied, "Yes, I would have, and three hearts would have been a better call, but I did not have to go to the slam. I might well have bid only five spades. After all, you only raised to two as your first bid."

We think both North and South were correct in their analysis and even more correct in their partnership approach to discussing disaster hands. They will improve with each session of play together.

The pretty bride, a petite girl of only five feet, was accepting the congratulations on her recent marriage from her family and friends.

After examining the necklaces in the jeweler's window, the newspaper dealer decided he would purchase a petite ruby for his mother.

The sophisticated woman, an individual interested in unusual foods, told the shopkeeper she wanted some rare apples known for their petite size.

At the other table, North made the bid that we consider correct and raised to two spades. South might well have simply bid game but he was looking for a slam and bid three diamonds. North proceeded to jump to four spades, whereupon South bid six. The same lead and the same one down resulted.

North and South had one of those happy partnerships in which each partner tries to blame himself for any bad result. North said immediately, "I should have bid three hearts over your three diamonds. That surely would have warned you of duplication and you would have contented yourself by merely going to game."

South replied, "Yes, I would have, and three hearts would have been a better call, but I did not have to go to the slam. I might well have bid only five spades. After all, you only raised to two as your first bid."

We think both North and South were correct in their analysis and even more correct in their partnership approach to discussing disaster hands. They will improve with each session of play together.

Long Hours That Followed

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television—Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A shocked and grieving nation was well and lavishly served by the broadcasting networks in the long hours that followed the fatal shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy Wednesday.

'One of Most Awful'

The sight and sound of the act that cut down the senator at a moment of victory were caught by the cameras and sound tracks. What one reporter called "one of the most awful moments I have ever seen on film" and the hysterical aftermath were shown again and again.

Camera and crews were stationed at the Good Samaritan Hospital and every report on the senator's condition or the progress of the case against the accused man were covered live. As the hours dragged by, it was obvious that concern for the victim's survival increased, not so much in the wording of the official bulletins, but in the manner in which they were given and received.

Almost all regular television programs were abandoned until noon. ABC tried to start a special live edition of "The Dick Cavett Show" at 11 a.m., a half hour late, but it was interrupted a few minutes later by a news conference by Los Angeles Police Chief Thomas Redding, the program had only 10 minutes on the air.

The early evening news programs were almost completely concerned with Kennedy coverage. In midevening, ABC preempted a game show for a 30-minute wrap-up of the story. CBS dropped "The Dom DeLuise Show" for a Kennedy report which was itself interrupted by the short and grim address by President Johnson. This, of course, was also carried by the other two networks.

NBC, for the second night in a row, preempted Johnny Carson and "The Tonight Show," and replaced it with a 90 minute summary. The network planned to stay on the air all night.

Old Move Subs

ABC postponed its rerun of "Laura," a production that introduced Lee Bouvier Radziwill, half-sister of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, as a television star. It substituted an old Cary Grant-Grace Kelly movie.

All aspects of the story were brought to the viewers.

Neurosurgeons were interviewed and gave cautiously discouraging prognoses in precise, frank language.

There were a number of interviews with congressmen about gun control legislation, which the President urged strongly later. Much discussion concerned the climate of violence in the nation, climaxed by President Johnson's announcement of a commission to examine what he called "this tragic phenomenon."

There was considerable delicate conversation around it, but no one except one reporter, late in the evening, spoke flatly and frankly about the altered shape of the presidential campaign.

Two beatniks were watching a special TV spectacular, "Wonderful World on Wheels." They had just caught the scene of the Goldfinger car ejecting the bad guy through the roof. One of them turned to the other and said,

Sam — Wow, man, that Hertz Rental Company doesn't mess around if you don't pay your tab!

Sign on an exterminator's truck: "We can make your ants say Uncle!"

Well-informed woman — one who's on a party line.

A dentist thought he had solved the scared patient problem. When the next nervous patient sat down in his chair to have a tooth pulled, the dentist offered him a shot of Scotch. The fellow, however, asked for another, then another.

After six shots, the dentist asked,

Doctor Lane — There now, have you got your courage back?

Mr. Long (the patient snarled) —Yeah, and nobody had better try to touch my tooth either!

A guest handed the hotel manager a bouquet of flowers.

Mr. Jones — It's for the phone girls.

Pleased the manager said.

Mr. Smith (the manager)— Thank you, sir, thank you. I know they will appreciate the compliment.

Mr. Jones — Compliment? I thought they had all died.

One dog to another: I wish I could go to see a psychiatrist but I'm not allowed on couches.

A police officer, patrolling the beach area, encountered a pert young girl wearing the briefest of beach attire.

Officer Lee — What would your mother say, if she caught you in that skimpy bikini?

Sally — Boy, she'd say plenty. It belongs to her.

Too many people cast a crust of stale bread upon the waters and expect a seven-course dinner in return.

Beth — So Herbie hides under the sofa and reports every time you're hugged?

Mildred — Yes, he's a regular little press agent.

Some woman get intoxicated on flattery quicker than on whiskey-and carry a longer hang-over.

Mr. Wells (the tired, worn-looking salesman, to a friend)— It's actually a fire sale. If I don't make a sale, I'm fired.

Mr. Smith (the speaker)—A bride wears white, as a symbol of happiness, for her wedding day is the most joyful day in her life.

Mr. Smart — And why do men wear black?

NBC, for the second night in a row, preempted Johnny Carson and "The Tonight Show," and replaced it with a 90 minute summary. The network planned to stay on the air all night.

Old Move Subs

ABC postponed its rerun of "Laura," a production that introduced Lee Bouvier Radziwill, half-sister of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, as a television star. It substituted an old Cary Grant-Grace Kelly movie.

All aspects of the story were brought to the viewers.

Neurosurgeons were interviewed and gave cautiously discouraging prognoses in precise, frank language.

There were a number of interviews with congressmen about gun control legislation, which the President urged strongly later. Much discussion concerned the climate of violence in the nation, climaxed by President Johnson's announcement of a commission to examine what he called "this tragic phenomenon."

There was considerable delicate conversation around it, but no one except one reporter, late in the evening, spoke flatly and frankly about the altered shape of the presidential campaign.

New Fighting Flares In Vietnam Capital

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — New fighting broke out inside Saigon today after South Vietnamese rangers had reported crushing the last pocket of Viet Cong resistance in Cholon, the city's Chinese section. Mopup operations also continued on the northeast fringe of the capital, in the suburbs of Gia Dinh.

Bands of Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese soldiers slipped to the west of a four-block area in Cholon and outmaneuvered the government rangers who had seized the third floor of a large building near a Roman Catholic church. The Viet Cong maneuvered into the second floor of the building, cutting the rangers off.

Government tanks were blasting the building, 2½ miles west of the presidential palace, with 90MM cannon. AP photographer Horst Faas, at the scene, estimated there were only a handful of Viet Cong still holding out and said, "They must be dead or wounded by now because the tanks are blasting every room in the building."

Earlier, in reporting Cholon cleared of Viet Cong after seven days of street fighting, the rangers said they killed 30 guerrillas in the "final" assault, including a battalion commander.

The U.S. Command announced meanwhile that 438 Americans were killed in action last week and 3,870 wounded, the highest total casualties for any week of the war. The number of killed was only 12 more than the week before, while the number of wounded were 1,183 more.

On the northern front, below the demilitarized zone, there were signs that another showdown might be in the making at Khe Sanh, the allied combat base that was under siege for 77 days early this year.

America's biggest bombers, Air Force B52s, made two raids this morning on enemy vehicles and roads 11 miles southeast of Khe Sanh.

Earlier, in a sharp fight five miles to the southeast of Khe Sanh, U.S. Marines overran the positions of a North Vietnamese platoon. The Leathernecks said they killed 12 of the enemy, but six Marines also were killed and 15 were wounded.

Enemy gunners fired about 20 rounds of 130mm artillery into Marine positions around Khe Sanh. American casualties were said to be light.

Paris Ceasefire Talks In Longest Recess Yet

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP) — The Vietnam ceasefire talks were bogged down today in their longest recess so far, but both the United States and North Vienam have given the impression that they want to keep the talks going indefinitely.

U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam talked for almost four hours Wednesday in their seventh session in four weeks, made no apparent progress toward de-escalating the war, and adjourned until next Wednesday, largely at North Vietnam's suggestion.

Thuy maintained his demand that all attacks on his country must stop before other issues are discussed. Harriman continued to call for North Vietnamese de-escalation to justify any further limit on American military operations.

Harriman made a probe to find out whether North Vietnam is in process of softening its position on ending the bombing. Thuy's first reaction was negative; he again asked when the United States would stop all bombing.

The probe was based on a statement made by the North Vietnamese Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan last week. It said the United States must "acknowledge its responsibility" for stopping all attacks on the North. Later, according to U.S. diplomats, Hanoi changed the wording to say the United States must "determine" its responsibility.

Marlboro School Parley Set for Friday Night

The Marlboro Central Faculty Association has requested aid from the New York State Teachers Association because the district's board of education "has adopted unilateraily a salary schedule."

Residents of the Marlboro Central School District have been urged to attend a "meeting of crucial importance," dealing with the salary dispute, Friday at 8:30 p. m. at St. Mary's Parish Hall in Marlboro.

According to John N. Morris, school faculty member on the association's negotiating committee, aid was requested from the state teachers association and the meeting of area taxpayers was called because of the Marlboro education board's "failure to negotiate in good faith."

Morris declared that the dispute became public only because the board refused to follow the recommendations of state "fact finder" John A. Ronayne who presented his report to the board and the faculty association May 7.

Ronayne, in that report, said, "Good teachers are the essential and vital necessity for good education. In order to attract them and to keep them in the high state of morale necessary for effective teaching, the salary structure must be comparable with that of neighboring communities."

Morris said that, "A survey conducted of many surrounding salary schedules shows that a teacher with 10 years experience and 45 credits beyond his Bachelors Degree would receive between $450 and $1,850 less in Marlboro; with a Masters Degree, 15 additional credits and 15 years experience a teacher would receive between $500 and $2,895 less."

Morris also cited a New York State Teachers Association report which declared the school district to be "one of the 10 most wealthy" in the state.

In a release issued under the authority of Carl M. Scheinman, president of the faculty association, Morris said the association "desires a competitive salary schedule," and he further added that the local association along with the state teachers group "will take whatever steps deemed necessary to insure a quality education."

Sub Officially Lost, But Search Goes On

Some Questions

By ED ROGERS

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—The nuclear submarine Scorpion, now officially presumed lost with all 99 hands, may have been the victim of inaccurate charts.

This was the theory developed at a formal inquiry here by Cmdr. George R. Parish Wednesday as Navy officials in Washington sorrowfully removed the Scorpion from the "missing" list and pronounced it "lost in the depths of the Atlantic."

Harsh, Unbending Facts

"With these harsh, unbending facts," Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chief of naval operations, said of the fruitless 11-day search for the sub, "I can only ask that you join me in paying tribute to the men of the Scorpion, to their families and to their service."

Navy officials were joining families and friends of the crew members in a memorial service late today at a chapel here on the Norfolk Naval Base.

The sea and air search continued despite the ship's listing as lost.

Cmdr. Parish, a Norfolk operations officer, pictured the Scorpion as being off course in an area of inaccurately charted undersea mountains south of the Azores when last heard from.

That was May 21 when the Scorpion had just begun a "routine" Atlantic crossing following Mediterranean naval maneuvers. Parish testified that on that date, while near-surfaced at periscope depth for a three-hour radio message exchange, the Scorpion reported itself 27 miles off course and 40 miles behind schedule.

The Scorpion normally would try to get back on schedule and continue its intended journey in radio silence, totally submerged.

But it was brought out that charts of the area show an array of "sea mounts" as vast as mountain ranges on the world's continents.

Some Questions

Did the Scorpion, scurrying back to its proper position, collide with some uncharted undersea ridge?

South Baptists Push Toward Racial Justice

HOUSTON (UPI)—Southern Baptists took a sharp turn toward racial justice today, determined to remove the "heartless exploitation" many find "difficult to resist."

More than 14,000 messengers representing the 11 million member denomination approved a controversial statement Wednesday calling for far-reaching efforts to help the nation through its racial crisis.

The statement, modified from one issued earlier by 71 top Southern Baptist leaders, was passed by a big majority. Exact figures were not disclosed.

The statement on the "crisis in our nation" was the hottest issue at the weeklong convenion which closes Friday night with a talk by evangelist Billy Graham.

"This could be the first real social thing we've done in 100 years," said a messenger during Wednesday's discussion before the secret ballot was taken in the final minutes of a lengthy business session.

French Trains Are Beginning to Roll

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP)—French trains were beginning to run again today and subway and bus transport were commencing to operate throughout Paris after 20 days of strikes and social turfoil.

Suburban trains were functioning at about 50 per cent normal as the commuter traffic got under way, but most long-distance trains were not expected to start moving until mid-afternoon.

Postal sorters were hard at work on the huge backlog of mail but there were few if any deliveries yet.

Automobile, aircraft and metallurgical industries remained strikebound, with no immediate settlement in sight.

But police moved in at the Renault auto plant at Flins, northwest of Paris, before dawn to oust strikers occupying it and to move pickets away from the entrance.

No violence was reported and the company said later the move was made because pickets and occupiers had prevented a free vote Wednesday on a return to work. The vote had been ordered by the unions.

Renault management ordered the personnel to return to work Friday.

Municipal transport workers accepted a 30-million-franc settlement Wednesday involving average wage rises of 10 per cent.

Railroad workers accepted average wage increases of between 12 and 17 per cent, which includes a 3.2 per cent salary rise granted Jan. 1.

The package accepted by employes of the state gas and electricity workers amounted to an across-the-board 14-per-cent salary boost.

By conservative estimated the strike resulted in 100 million lost work days.

Navy officials were joining families and friends of the crew members in a memorial service late today at a chapel here on the Norfolk Naval Base.

The sea and air search continued despite the ship's listing as lost.

Cmdr. Parish, a Norfolk operations officer, pictured the Scorpion as being off course in an area of inaccurately charted undersea mountains south of the Azores when last heard from.

That was May 21 when the Scorpion had just begun a "routine" Atlantic crossing following Mediterranean naval maneuvers. Parish testified that on that date, while near-surfaced at periscope depth for a three-hour radio message exchange, the Scorpion reported itself 27 miles off course and 40 miles behind schedule.

The Scorpion normally would try to get back on schedule and continue its intended journey in radio silence, totally submerged.

But it was brought out that charts of the area show an array of "sea mounts" as vast as mountain ranges on the world's continents.

Some Questions

Parish said search vessels in the area reported their soundings did not coincide with the ocean-bottom contours shown on Navy charts.

Did the Scorpion, scurrying back to its proper position, collide with some uncharted undersea ridge?

South Baptists Push Toward Racial Justice

HOUSTON (UPI)—Southern Baptists took a sharp turn toward racial justice today, determined to remove the "heartless exploitation" many find "difficult to resist."

More than 14,000 messengers representing the 11 million member denomination approved a controversial statement Wednesday calling for far-reaching efforts to help the nation through its racial crisis.

The statement, modified from one issued earlier by 71 top Southern Baptist leaders, was passed by a big majority. Exact figures were not disclosed.

The statement on the "crisis in our nation" was the hottest issue at the weeklong convenion which closes Friday night with a talk by evangelist Billy Graham.

"This could be the first real social thing we've done in 100 years," said a messenger during Wednesday's discussion before the secret ballot was taken in the final minutes of a lengthy business session.

French Trains Are Beginning to Roll

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP)—French trains were beginning to run again today and subway and bus transport were commencing to operate throughout Paris after 20 days of strikes and social turfoil.

Suburban trains were functioning at about 50 per cent normal as the commuter traffic got under way, but most long-distance trains were not expected to start moving until mid-afternoon.

Postal sorters were hard at work on the huge backlog of mail but there were few if any deliveries yet.

Automobile, aircraft and metallurgical industries remained strikebound, with no immediate settlement in sight.

But police moved in at the Renault auto plant at Flins, northwest of Paris, before dawn to oust strikers occupying it and to move pickets away from the entrance.

No violence was reported and the company said later the move was made because pickets and occupiers had prevented a free vote Wednesday on a return to work. The vote had been ordered by the unions.

Renault management ordered the personnel to return to work Friday.

Municipal transport workers accepted a 30-million-franc settlement Wednesday involving average wage rises of 10 per cent.

Railroad workers accepted average wage increases of between 12 and 17 per cent, which includes a 3.2 per cent salary rise granted Jan. 1.

The package accepted by employes of the state gas and electricity workers amounted to an across-the-board 14-per-cent salary boost.

By conservative estimated the strike resulted in 100 million lost work days.
